WORST STORM IN MANY YEARS TAKES HEAVY TOLL

Strangers deliver neighbor's baby with aid of Book of Knowledge

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Zack of Roselle rd., outside of Schaumburg, set forth at 5 a. m. Friday to walk to the Anton Felker home a mile and a half away. They carried with them a "Book of Knowledge."

The book and the hour may seem a bit queer for a walk, but the fact that there was also a raging blizzard, and large snowdrifts, made it even more peculiar.

The Zacks, however, were bound on an errand of mercy. they were going to deliver their first baby. The "Book of Knowledge" was to be their advisor and after arriving at the Felker home they studied rapidly to learn what to do at the time of birth.

Dr. H. J. Carr of Arlington Heights had been called on the confinement case, but the terrific blizzard made his earliest attempts futile. Not to be outdone by the storm Dr. Carr returned home and hooked up his tractor with a plow and again started on his way.

In the meantime the Zacks delivered an 8 pound, 4 ounce baby girl to the Felkers, with the assistance of neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jeschke. The baby arrived at 8:20 a. m.

Dr. Carr arrived at 10:45 a. m. having had to abandon his tractor plow and walk the last mile through the storm. A quick examination showed that the Zacks had done a good job and both mother and daughter were doing fine.

The Felkers, who have two other children, are former residents of Arlington Heights Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Anton Felker Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Slottag, all of Arlington Heights.

The Zacks, who have three children of their own, manage the Strafford Farm, which belongs to Wayne King, noted orchestra leader.

The Felkers and the Zacks had never met before, but the Zacks are now considered old friends of the family and will serve as the baby's godparents when she is christened.

Two new sections vote to annex to Prospect Heights fire district

By a vote of 67-2 in Section 1, and 13-0 in Section 2 both sections voted last Saturday to be annexed to the Prospect Heights Rural Fire Protection District.

Section 1 includes Wedgewood Prospect Meadows, Arlington Countryside, and territory west of Rand rd. and south of State and Rand rds. Section 2 includes the territory between Wheeling and Wolf roads and between McDonald and Euclid roads.

The vote is being canvassed by the county judge and the next formal procedure involves the adoption of a resolution to accept them into the district. A reinspection by the Cook County Bureau of Inspection has always been requested, a necessary preliminary to securing any lower fire insurance rates.

Christmas mailing jams rail facilities as the holiday nears

The local Postmaster warned that unless Christmas mailings mount sharply immediately, local deliveries may not be completed before the holiday.

Holiday parcel post is jamming rail facilities all over the country, with many thousands of packages heading for local delivery the week before Christmas, the Postmaster pointed out.

If you're still wrapping gift parcels, the Postmaster observed, you should send them Special Handling or by Air Parcel Post to be sure of beating Santa.

Christmas cards for out-of-State delivery should be on their way by Friday, December 15, the Postmaster warned. Holiday greetings for local delivery should be posted at least a week before Christmas.

Postal workers will be grateful if you'll tie your cards in bundles, with all envelopes facing the same way and the stamps in the same corner. This speeds cancellation, the Postmaster explained.

FRIDAY BOOK REVIEW CLUB CHANGES MEETING PLACE

The Third Friday Book Review club of Arlington Heights has changed its meeting place and will now meet at the VFW hall on Route 83 in Mt. Prospect, instead of Simson's restaurant.

Luncheon will be served at 12:15 as usual.

PTA Christmas program December 19; school children to perform

South school gym will be alive with the sounds of children's voices and the strains of well-loved, traditional Christmas music when the children of Arlington Heights public schools present a program for their parents and teachers at the December 19 PTA meeting.

Youngest performers of the evening will be the children of Mrs. Foster's and Mrs. Buchholz's afternoon kindergarten groups, who will begin the program with songs and choral speaking.

Older schoolmates from the North, South, and Junior high schools will present a program of choral and instrumental music by way of demonstrating the musical program carried on in the school system. Choral music will be led by Miss Florence Zwane and the 80-piece band will be performing under the baton of Mr. Harold Brunt, school music instructor.

Mothers of third grade children will be hostesses during the social hour following the program.

Mt. Prospect's new theatre will open Tuesday, Dec. 26

It has been some time since there has been a new theatre opening in the northwest area and there has been a lot of conjecture relative to what the public will find in The Prospect, the name that has been given to the new movie house at Mt. Prospect. The theatre will open Tuesday, Dec. 26.

Visitors will find the interior as attractive as the exterior is substantial. In the stadium type of construction, brick and concrete with reinforced steel are supplemented with oak and birch trim of a natural finish. Eighteen various contractors were coordinated in handling the many problems which are peculiar to theatre construction.

Simplicity is the keynote in design of the auditorium which is done in various shades of blue, beige, coral and dubonnet. The latest type push-back seats, staggered for improved vision with more than ample row spacing are of two-tone turquoise and coral, trimmed in ivory.

The newest cycloramic screen, considered the greatest improvement in motion picture screen since the advent of sound, provides perfect vision from every seat. Oceans of filtered air, thermostatically controlled, will provide winter comfort and summertime relaxation.

The "cry room" for mothers with tiny tots is another innovation of The Prospect. The same room can be reserved for special groups or for children's parties.

These are only a few of the surprising things that movie goers will find at The Prospect. This paper will tell readers about more of them next week.

Arlington man loses life in sand hopper

Edmund Wargin, 35, of Jackson drive, Arlington Heights. suffocated in a sand hopper at Arlington Concrete Products Tuesday morning. The Arlington Heights fire department were unable to revive him with a pullmotor, after working over him for 15 minutes.

Wargin, who had worked for Arlington Concrete for four years, had climbed on top of the hopper to loosen frozen sand lumps, which were keeping the sand from flowing. His coworker, Russell Leibert of Mt Prospect, reported at the inquest held Wednesday that he suggested they try to break the lumps from below but Wargin decided he could do more from above.

GOING ABOVE, Wargin either jumped into the hopper to loosen the sand or lost his balance and fell in. Leibert heard no outcry, which was probably due to the noise the machines were making. His knowledge of the accident was when Wargin's feet came through the lower gate sand control.

All workers in the plant tried in vain to dig him out and finally he was released through the bottom of the hopper. Earl Busse, plant manager, had in the meantime notified the police to bring a doctor and an inhalator so that they would be standing by when Wargin was released. Dr Robert Muench pronounced him dead when the inhalator failed to revive him. Wargin was unmarried.

Dr. R. J. Muench injured

Dr. Robert J. Muench, 102 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, was injured in an auto accident Tuesday, on Rt. 58, 2 miles east of Elgin.

Dr. Muench was returning home from St. Joseph hospital, where he had just visited his patients, when the accident occurred. State police officers said that Muench drove to the left side of the highway to avoid a snow bank and collided with a west bound auto driven by Mrs. Charlotte McCormick, 5935 Kenneth ave., Chicago.

BOTH WERE injured, as was a boxer dog riding with Mrs. McCormick. Dr. Muench was taken to St. Joseph hospital, where he was treated for a scalp laceration, bruised hip and cut knee. Mrs. McCormick was taken to Sherman hospital where she was treated for scalp and facial lacerations. The dog was taken to Tri-City Animal hospital to be treated for cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Muench told the paper Wednesday, that the doctor was coming along nicely. Both autos were badly damaged.

Northbrook lad loses arm

Jimmy Asther, 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Ashther, Shermer ave., Northbrook, lost his left arm when it accidentally got caught in a tow truck hoist at the Lorenz Garage, Northbrook, where he was helping out. He was taken to an Evanston hospital for treatment.

HENRY HAHN, Arlington Heights, escaped death by six feet Saturday night. He failed to stop for the railroad signal at the Emerson st. crossing, as the three coach diesel train pulled in to a stop and ran into the train about six feet from the front. The impact swung his car around and it was damaged front, side and rear. Hahn was not injured.

Let's Know Arlington

This series of articles is being written by a reporter who recently accompanied Building Commissioner Ahmer on a tour about Arlington Heights. They are written as the reporter saw them and special praise given any development is not intended as a reflection against any other area.

This reporter is introducing readers this week to the Trucraft Homes—24 of them completed and 58 more on the way.

Those figures make a total of 82 moderately priced homes all of which will be occupied before next summer, which in turn will add 200 to Arlington's population and probably 50 to school enrollment.

Trucraft homes are in the popular priced bracket—$10,500 for frame and $11,500 for brick. The completed homes are on North Beverly in the northeastern part of the village. The fifty-eight additional homes which are in various stages of construction, are on North Hickory.

All of the homes are sold and there are scores of families waiting for time that they can move into a home of their own.

The residences 24x36 feet all have two bedrooms. Each block has six different frontal designs. They are well constructed. The Trucraft project is an example as to what can be done in establishing a building project in an otherwise forgotten area. Its location was on the edge of nowhere and without proper roads would remain empty spaces for years.

The owner, C. A. Goelz installed water and sewer mains, streets and sidewalks making it a desirable community for the average American who does not want to mortgage his own life in order to own a home of his own.

Trucraft acquired a total of 140 lots but have not yet announced plans for further expansion.

A Job Well Done

Arlington Heights business men are praising the village department of public works for the superb job they did in removing the snow last week. Paddock Publications joins in a word of praise to the village employees and the officials responsible.

It took a lot of hard work, with the men in the street department working every hour of the day, keeping three snow plows going continuously from Thursday morning about 4 a.m. until Saturday night.

In addition to keeping the streets open in the village, they found time to plow Northwest Hwy., Euclid street and State road within the village limits at regular intervals, when they found that the State Highway Department were unable to keep these highways open.

The removal of the snow in the business district was accomplished by working all night Friday and all day Sunday, by using mechanized equipment and two trucks, one of which was rented when it was determined that the village trucks would have to keep plowing to keep the streets open.

Raymond J. Becker, street superintendent of the village, estimates that they used about 400 gallons of gasoline and all of his men worked more than 18 hours a day from Thursday to Sunday to clear the snow. It is so seldom that we take time to appreciate the efforts of the men who serve, the editor joins all who are praising these men for a job well done . . . our hats off to them.

Mt. Prospect girl victim of leukemia

Leukemia has claimed another victim. Jean Danisch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Danisch. 409 S. Wille st., Mt. Prospect. succumbed Sunday night, December 11, after an illness of seven months.

Jeanie was born April 27, 1938 and came to live in Mt. Prospect when she was one year old. She attended Sunday school at South church. was a Blue Bird and Camp Fire Girl, and a member of the school band.

Jeanie was taken ill last May and had spent most of the time since at Bobs Roberts Memorial hospital, returning home several times for brief stays. She was home most recently for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Besides her parents, Jean is survived by two sisters, Sue Ann and Grace.

Services were held Wednesday at 2 o'clock from Black's Memorial Home, with Rev. E. I. Stevens officiating. Interment Rand Hill Park cemetery.

In memory of Jean, gifts may be made to the University of Chicago Beatty Leukemia Research fund, 920 E. 59th St., Chicago.

Martin Goerger, Arlington florist 36 years, succumbs

Martin Goerger, who had operated a greenhouse on Higgins rd., Arlington Heights, for 36 years, died Thursday at the Sherman hospital, Elgin.

Mr. Goerger took sick a few weeks ago and was taken to the hospital for an operation. He rallied for a few days, but complications set in and a second operation had to be performed. He never regained strength and died several days later.

Well known for his growing of beautiful roses, Mr. Goerger was a member of many florist associations. A complete obituary appears elsewhere in this issue.

Firemen take 'long way' around, but save home

Mt. Prospect Rural Fire department had to take the long way around to answer a fire call Friday night, when the direct route was blocked by snow drifts.

The fire was at the Golden residence on Central rd., just west of State rd. The trucks made the trip via Northwest hwy., and arrived in time to put out the chimney fire before it did serious damage.

Monday night the department answered a call at Rt. 58 and Busse rd., where an auto belonging to an Evanston man was on fire. The car was badly burned before the fire was extinguished.

Letters blame parents for sex delinquencies

An Arlington Heights parent dared this week to speak her mind on the delinquencies of parents in providing the easy way for their children to engage in sex intimacies. Her letter appears in the Fence Post on page 20.

She also blames drinking among young people as a contributing factor. She says the world is too full of smug self-satisfied parents who are blind to the evils that fill our modern world. She asks how many mothers awake when their daughter comes home from a late date and kiss her goodnight or listen to the telling of the events of the evening.

The letter closes with "It isn't easy to be a good parent. None of us are perfect, but let's us try to do the best we know how and let's not be too proud to help our neighbor's children if they need help."

A reporter for this paper was in an Arlington store the other day and listened in to a mother who was asking her daughter's chum "why they stayed out so late the previous night."

The reply, "My mother only asks that I get home from regular dates by 3 a.m. and on special dates by 5 a.m."

A second letter appearing in the Fence Post on the same subject is not quite so frank, but ends her letter with, "We as parents, should say, 'if this is happening in our community why is it happening and what are we going to do about it?'"

Wheeling rural fire district completes protection contracts

Wheeling township rural fire protection district has completed arrangements and signed contracts for fire protection with the Wheeling and Mt. Prospect fire departments.

Line of demarcation between the two areas, the south served by Mt. Prospect and the north by Wheeling, runs east along Hintz road from Arlington Hts. road, south on Elmhurst road, east on Palatine road, south along the Soo line tracks, thence east on Camp McDonald road to the township line.

The area served by the Prospect Heights fire protection district is not included though it does run along this demarcation line in part.

Two small parcels of land have been annexed along Schoenbeck road. In addition the subdivision west of Wheeling has been accepted into the district at the request of Wheeling fire chief Ed Gieseke. Property owners had voted 20-0, to enter the district, according to Francis E. Kelly, legal representative of the district.

Cook County Farm Bureau re-elect old officers

Louis W. Pohlman, was re-elected president Monday of the Cook County Farm Bureau. He has previously served four terms.

Also re-elected are Henry Eichholz, vice-president; Arthur G. Holste, secretary-treasurer. Henry L. Moehling and Chas. Erickson were re-elected members of the executive committee.

Dan Wilson killed in train and auto crash

Dan C. Wilson, of Schoenbeck road, Prospect Heights, was killed in an accident at McDonald road and the Soo line tracks last week Thursday, about 8 a. m.

Mr. Wilson was vice-president and general manager of BelPark Motors Inc., on Cicero ave., in Chicago and was taking his usual route to his place of business that morning.

THERE WERE no witnesses to see why or how the accident happened, but information from the coroner's inquest read that the drawbar in the center part of the locomotive of the freight train, which was crossing the road at that time, was impaled on the right front door and the car was dragged 550-650 feet while Mr. Wilson was thrown 150 feet clear of the train. Death apparently was instantaneous from a crushed chest.

The freight train was going north. There are no lights or gates at this crossing.

Mr. Wilson leaves his widow three daughters, Nadine, Dorothy, and Elaine, and two brothers and a sister, no one of whom, except Mrs. Wilson, live in Prospect Heights. He was born in Elmira, Ohio August 6. 1899, but had lived in Chicago since he was about 18 or 19 years old. He had moved out to Prospect Heights close to four years ago.

SERVICES were held from the funeral home, 3440 N. Central Chicago, at 1 p. m. Monday. He was buried in the Irving Park cemetery.

Friday, the day after the accident, a son was born to Mrs Walter Schultz, daughter of Mrs. Wilson and step-daughter to Mr Wilson. The Schultzes also reside with the Wilsons. The baby was named Gerald Francis and was born at St. Francis hospital, weight 7 lb. 15 oz.

Quick thinking of garage mechanic saves life of former Palatine officer

The quick thinking of Bruce Clark, an employee of George C Poole, Inc., and the rapid response of the Arlington Heights fire department is credited with the saving of Frank Zyc's life.

Zyc, who lives on Bradwell rd., Palatine, was headed home during the severe snowstorm Thursday evening, when he felt a heart attack coming on and pulled in front of Poole's garage and called for help.

Clark immediately applied artificial respiration while waiting for an inhalator from the fire department, which arrived within a few minutes. Clark applied the respiration while Zyc remained in a sitting position. A doctor later reported that had he laid him down to apply it, Zyc may have died.

The Palatine police came to Heights to pick up Zyc, who was a former Palatine policeman, and drove him home while the fire department kept administering oxygen. Dr. C. H. Kramer of Palatine drove to the scene with the police.

Farmers and gas stations open doors to marooned autoists

Scores of autos and persons became marooned and sought nearby shelter in Thursday's blinding blizzard, which was the worst snowstorm to hit this area in many a year.

Highways in the country were enveloped in huge drifts in a matter of a few hours, the falling snow and high winds making it impossible for drivers to see the road once darkness fell.

From 4:30 p.m. on autos became stalled, either they could drive no further or the drivers were too panicky to continue. The Anton Kosnik service station, Rt. 58 and 72, began taking in persons who abandoned their cars at 4:30 p.m. and a steady stream kept coming until 2 a.m. Between 30 and 35 cars were left standing in drifts, while the Kosnik's home and station overflowed with 45 people.

THE KOSNIKS gave up their beds, and distributed blankets and pillows as far as they would go. Hot soup and coffee were served all night, the Kosnik's staying up and checking to see that everyone was comfortable. In the morning they prepared breakfast for everyone, the last of the refugees leaving for their respective homes Friday afternoon.

Kosnik's phone was working, and the snowbound people all were able to notify their families that they were safe.

A little further down Higgins rd., near Roselle rd., the Ray Metcalf family gave refuge to nearly 10 persons, including a Negro couple employed at the Milk Pail in Elgin.

GEORGE BUSSE, who lives on Rt. 58, near Busse rd., made room for 13 people, some of whom were able to go on their way later Thursday night. Owen Baxter of Arlington Heights, who tried to rescue an Elgin couple staying at the Busse home, became stalled at the Raymond Busse home, ½ mile west of George Busse's, and had to spend the night there.

Among the people staying at George Busses, whose wife was unable to get home from Mt. Prospect, were his niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. George Goebbert, who live on Algonquin rd. Mrs. Goebbert took over the job of cooking and saw to it that everyone had a good breakfast.

THE GOEBBERTS said that their home on Algonquin gave refuge to a couple stalled on that road. Many other homes on Rt. 58 and Algonquin made room for marooned motorists, including the Walter Berschets, who live about one-half mile east of George Busse.

Raymond Busse, his son, Howard, and son-in-law, Melvin Jensen, worked steadily Friday morning pulling 10 autos out of drifts and making room for the state plow which finally opened Rt. 58, near Busse rd., around 1:30 p.m. The drifts were so high that they almost buried the plow as it came through.

The Busses used their tractors and chains for rescuing the autos, and as good samaritans they plowed out many driveways along Busse rd.

THE LOUIS MEIERS on Busse rd. served as a "grocery store" for families in that area caught without food supplies, providing milk, eggs and chickens, which kept the snowbound residents well fed.

Herbert Reinshagen of Algonquin rd., Palatine, told this paper that it took him and his daughter over 1½ hours to get home Thursday night. He walked along side of the car directing his daughter so that she could see the location of the road.

Young people to present Christmas play Sunday

The Christmas play, "Christmas Under the Stars," by Elizabeth Emmerson, will be presented by the Young People of St. John Ev. and Reformed church, Arlington Heights, this Sunday at 8 p.m.

The play takes place late Christmas eve, 1946, in the deserts of Arizona. A bus is stalled on the desert and a most surprising incident takes place. As a result a renewal of the Christmas spirit comes into the hearts of the passengers.

The cast include Bruce Mealins, who will portray Dave, the college boy; George Scharringhausen as the bus driver; Bernice Bleile as Kitty, the young bride-to-be; Leslie Haseman as the salesman; Edward Fritz as Jo, the Jew; Marilyn Woss as Mrs. Marata, the Japanese mother; Winifield Koelling as a shepherd, and Charles Jarmuth as a missionary.

The Youth choir will present two special anthems.

Sleeping Beauty at Methodist church Sunday

Tickets to the Village Theatre, Inc. production of "The Sleeping Beauty," to be given this Sunday at the Methodist Meeting house, Arlington Heights, were sold this week at the elementary schools. Any remaining will be available at the door for the performances at 2 p.m. and 4 p.m.

Mrs. Thornton McClaughry, assisted by Mrs. Miles Dyson, has handled business details of this production in cooperation with Mrs. Robert Marsh, chairman of the Stage club which is the sponsoring organization.

"THE SLEEPING BEAUTY," written by Mrs. Robert Hawley in collaboration with Miss Joan Barry, is an adaptation of the fairy tale. Included in the cast besides members of the Village Theatre are students of the Delores Eiler School of Dancing. The entire play is under the direction of Mrs. G. E. Staahl.

Future performances of the play are planned for orphanages in the Chicago area, and proceeds from the Sunday performances—tickets are 25 cents including tax for both adults and children—will help finance these trips.

"The Sleeping Beauty" is intended primarily for children, but grownups of the community are invited to attend as well.

Soloists in Yule concert Sunday

Presbyterian choir Xmas concert Sunday

At 4:30 p. m. next Sunday, December 17, the choirs of the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, will present a service of Christmas music. Both the junior and senior choirs, under the direction of Miss Roberta King, accompanied by Mrs. Richard Lull at the organ, will sing.

Included in the service will be solos by Walter Daube, tenor; Josephine Zimmerman and Mary Ziehm. Nancy Brown will sing the solo part of "O Holy Night."

CORRECTION

Last week's paper stated that John Bestman, Wheeling farmer, died suddenly. It should have read Ernst Bestman.

The Bestman family would like to take this opportunity to thank the inhalator squad from Arlington Heights for answering their call when Mr. Bestman suffered the fatal heart attack.

Mrs. Muench told the paper Wednesday, that the doctor was coming along nicely. Both autos were badly damaged.

Northbrook lad loses arm

Jimmy Asther, 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Ashther, Shermer ave., Northbrook, lost his left arm when it accidentally got caught in a tow truck hoist at the Lorenz Garage, Northbrook, where he was helping out. He was taken to an Evanston hospital for treatment.

HENRY HAHN, Arlington Heights, escaped death by six feet Saturday night. He failed to stop for the railroad signal at the Emerson st. crossing, as the three coach diesel train pulled in to a stop and ran into the train about six feet from the front. The impact swung his car around and it was damaged front, side and rear. Hahn was not injured.

A Job Well Done

Arlington Heights business men are praising the village department of public works for the superb job they did in removing the snow last week. Paddock Publications joins in a word of praise to the village employees and the officials responsible.

It took a lot of hard work, with the men in the street department working every hour of the day, keeping three snow plows going continuously from Thursday morning about 4 a.m. until Saturday night.

In addition to keeping the streets open in the village, they found time to plow Northwest Hwy., Euclid street and State road within the village limits at regular intervals, when they found that the State Highway Department were unable to keep these highways open.

The removal of the snow in the business district was accomplished by working all night Friday and all day Sunday, by using mechanized equipment and two trucks, one of which was rented when it was determined that the village trucks would have to keep plowing to keep the streets open.

Raymond J. Becker, street superintendent of the village, estimates that they used about 400 gallons of gasoline and all of his men worked more than 18 hours a day from Thursday to Sunday to clear the snow. It is so seldom that we take time to appreciate the efforts of the men who serve, the editor joins all who are praising these men for a job well done . . . our hats off to them.

Mt. Prospect girl victim of leukemia

Leukemia has claimed another victim. Jean Danisch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Danisch, 409 S. Wille st., Mt. Prospect, succumbed Sunday night, December 11, after an illness of seven months.

Jeanie was born April 27, 1938 and came to live in Mt. Prospect when she was one year old. She attended Sunday school at South church, was a Blue Bird and Camp Fire Girl, and a member of the school band.

Jeanie was taken ill last May and had spent most of the time since at Bobs Roberts Memorial hospital, returning home several times for brief stays. She was home most recently for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Besides her parents, Jean is survived by two sisters, Sue Ann and Grace.

Services were held Wednesday at 2 o'clock from Black's Memorial Home, with Rev. E. I. Stevens officiating. Interment Rand Hill Park cemetery.

In memory of Jean, gifts may be made to the University of Chicago Beatty Leukemia Research fund, 920 E. 59th St., Chicago.

Martin Goerger, Arlington florist 36 years, succumbs

Martin Goerger, who had operated a greenhouse on Higgins rd., Arlington Heights, for 36 years, died Thursday at the Sherman hospital, Elgin.

Mr. Goerger took sick a few weeks ago and was taken to the hospital for an operation. He rallied for a few days, but complications set in and a second operation had to be performed. He never regained strength and died several days later.

Well known for his growing of beautiful roses, Mr. Goerger was a member of many florist associations. A complete obituary appears elsewhere in this issue.

Firemen take 'long way' around, but save home

Mt. Prospect Rural Fire department had to take the long way around to answer a fire call Friday night, when the direct route was blocked by snow drifts.

The fire was at the Golden residence on Central rd., just west of State rd. The trucks made the trip via Northwest hwy., and arrived in time to put out the chimney fire before it did serious damage.

Monday night the department answered a call at Rt. 58 and Busse rd., where an auto belonging to an Evanston man was on fire. The car was badly burned before the fire was extinguished.

Letters blame parents for sex delinquencies

An Arlington Heights parent dared this week to speak her mind on the delinquencies of parents in providing the easy way for their children to engage in sex intimacies. Her letter appears in the Fence Post on page 20.

She also blames drinking among young people as a contributing factor. She says the world is too full of smug self-satisfied parents who are blind to the evils that fill our modern world. She asks how many mothers awake when their daughter comes home from a late date and kiss her goodnight or listen to the telling of the events of the evening.

The letter closes with "It isn't easy to be a good parent. None of us are perfect, but let's us try to do the best we know how and let's not be too proud to help our neighbor's children if they need help."

A reporter for this paper was in an Arlington store the other day and listened in to a mother who was asking her daughter's chum "why they stayed out so late the previous night."

The reply, "My mother only asks that I get home from regular dates by 3 a.m. and on special dates by 5 a.m."

A second letter appearing in the Fence Post on the same subject is not quite so frank, but ends her letter with, "We as parents, should say, 'if this is happening in our community why is it happening and what are we going to do about it?'"

Wheeling rural fire district completes protection contracts

Wheeling township rural fire protection district has completed arrangements and signed contracts for fire protection with the Wheeling and Mt. Prospect fire departments.

Line of demarcation between the two areas, the south served by Mt. Prospect and the north by Wheeling, runs east along Hintz road from Arlington Hts. road, south on Elmhurst road, east on Palatine road, south along the Soo line tracks, thence east on Camp McDonald road to the township line.

The area served by the Prospect Heights fire protection district is not included though it does run along this demarcation line in part.

Two small parcels of land have been annexed along Schoenbeck road. In addition the subdivision west of Wheeling has been accepted into the district at the request of Wheeling fire chief Ed Gieseke. Property owners had voted 20-0, to enter the district, according to Francis E. Kelly, legal representative of the district.

Cook County Farm Bureau re-elect old officers

Louis W. Pohlman, was re-elected president Monday of the Cook County Farm Bureau. He has previously served four terms.

Also re-elected are Henry Eichholz, vice-president; Arthur G. Holste, secretary-treasurer. Henry L. Moehling and Chas. Erickson were re-elected members of the executive committee.

Dan Wilson killed in train and auto crash

Dan C. Wilson, of Schoenbeck road, Prospect Heights, was killed in an accident at McDonald road and the Soo line tracks last week Thursday, about 8 a. m.

Mr. Wilson was vice-president and general manager of BelPark Motors Inc., on Cicero ave., in Chicago and was taking his usual route to his place of business that morning.

THERE WERE no witnesses to see why or how the accident happened, but information from the coroner's inquest read that the drawbar in the center part of the locomotive of the freight train, which was crossing the road at that time, was impaled on the right front door and the car was dragged 550-650 feet while Mr. Wilson was thrown 150 feet clear of the train. Death apparently was instantaneous from a crushed chest.

The freight train was going north. There are no lights or gates at this crossing.

Mr. Wilson leaves his widow three daughters, Nadine, Dorothy, and Elaine, and two brothers and a sister, no one of whom, except Mrs. Wilson, live in Prospect Heights. He was born in Elmira, Ohio August 6, 1899, but had lived in Chicago since he was about 18 or 19 years old. He had moved out to Prospect Heights close to four years ago.

SERVICES were held from the funeral home, 3440 N. Central Chicago, at 1 p. m. Monday. He was buried in the Irving Park cemetery.

Friday, the day after the accident, a son was born to Mrs Walter Schultz, daughter of Mrs. Wilson and step-daughter to Mr Wilson. The Schultzes also reside with the Wilsons. The baby was named Gerald Francis and was born at St. Francis hospital, weight 7 lb. 15 oz.

Quick thinking of garage mechanic saves life of former Palatine officer

The quick thinking of Bruce Clark, an employee of George C Poole, Inc., and the rapid response of the Arlington Heights fire department is credited with the saving of Frank Zyc's life.

Zyc, who lives on Bradwell rd., Palatine, was headed home during the severe snowstorm Thursday evening, when he felt a heart attack coming on and pulled in front of Poole's garage and called for help.

Clark immediately applied artificial respiration while waiting for an inhalator from the fire department, which arrived within a few minutes. Clark applied the respiration while Zyc remained in a sitting position. A doctor later reported that had he laid him down to apply it, Zyc may have died.

The Palatine police came to Heights to pick up Zyc, who was a former Palatine policeman, and drove him home while the fire department kept administering oxygen. Dr. C. H. Kramer of Palatine drove to the scene with the police.

Farmers and gas stations open doors to marooned autoists

Scores of autos and persons became marooned and sought nearby shelter in Thursday's blinding blizzard, which was the worst snowstorm to hit this area in many a year.

Highways in the country were enveloped in huge drifts in a matter of a few hours, the falling snow and high winds making it impossible for drivers to see the road once darkness fell.

From 4:30 p.m. on autos became stalled, either they could drive no further or the drivers were too panicky to continue. The Anton Kosnik service station, Rt. 58 and 72, began taking in persons who abandoned their cars at 4:30 p.m. and a steady stream kept coming until 2 a.m. Between 30 and 35 cars were left standing in drifts, while the Kosnik's home and station overflowed with 45 people.

THE KOSNIKS gave up their beds, and distributed blankets and pillows as far as they would go. Hot soup and coffee were served all night, the Kosnik's staying up and checking to see that everyone was comfortable. In the morning they prepared breakfast for everyone, the last of the refugees leaving for their respective homes Friday afternoon.

Kosnik's phone was working, and the snowbound people all were able to notify their families that they were safe.

A little further down Higgins rd., near Roselle rd., the Ray Metcalf family gave refuge to nearly 10 persons, including a Negro couple employed at the Milk Pail in Elgin.

GEORGE BUSSE, who lives on Rt. 58, near Busse rd., made room for 13 people, some of whom were able to go on their way later Thursday night. Owen Baxter of Arlington Heights, who tried to rescue an Elgin couple staying at the Busse home, became stalled at the Raymond Busse home, ½ mile west of George Busse's, and had to spend the night there.

Among the people staying at George Busses, whose wife was unable to get home from Mt. Prospect, were his niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. George Goebbert, who live on Algonquin rd. Mrs. Goebbert took over the job of cooking and saw to it that everyone had a good breakfast.

THE GOEBBERTS said that their home on Algonquin gave refuge to a couple stalled on that road. Many other homes on Rt. 58 and Algonquin made room for marooned motorists, including the Walter Berschets, who live about one-half mile east of George Busse.

Raymond Busse, his son, Howard, and son-in-law, Melvin Jensen, worked steadily Friday morning pulling 10 autos out of drifts and making room for the state plow which finally opened Rt. 58, near Busse rd., around 1:30 p.m. The drifts were so high that they almost buried the plow as it came through.

The Busses used their tractors and chains for rescuing the autos, and as good samaritans they plowed out many driveways along Busse rd.

THE LOUIS MEIERS on Busse rd. served as a "grocery store" for families in that area caught without food supplies, providing milk, eggs and chickens, which kept the snowbound residents well fed.

Herbert Reinshagen of Algonquin rd., Palatine, told this paper that it took him and his daughter over 1½ hours to get home Thursday night. He walked along side of the car directing his daughter so that she could see the location of the road.

Young people to present Christmas play Sunday

The Christmas play, "Christmas Under the Stars," by Elizabeth Emmerson, will be presented by the Young People of St. John Ev. and Reformed church, Arlington Heights, this Sunday at 8 p.m.

The play takes place late Christmas eve, 1946, in the deserts of Arizona. A bus is stalled on the desert and a most surprising incident takes place. As a result a renewal of the Christmas spirit comes into the hearts of the passengers.

The cast include Bruce Mealins, who will portray Dave, the college boy; George Scharringhausen as the bus driver; Bernice Bleile as Kitty, the young bride-to-be; Leslie Haseman as the salesman; Edward Fritz as Jo, the Jew; Marilyn Woss as Mrs. Marata, the Japanese mother; Winifield Koelling as a shepherd, and Charles Jarmuth as a missionary.

The Youth choir will present two special anthems.

Sleeping Beauty at Methodist church Sunday

Tickets to the Village Theatre, Inc. production of "The Sleeping Beauty," to be given this Sunday at the Methodist Meeting house, Arlington Heights, were sold this week at the elementary schools. Any remaining will be available at the door for the performances at 2 p.m. and 4 p.m.

Mrs. Thornton McClaughry, assisted by Mrs. Miles Dyson, has handled business details of this production in cooperation with Mrs. Robert Marsh, chairman of the Stage club which is the sponsoring organization.

"THE SLEEPING BEAUTY," written by Mrs. Robert Hawley in collaboration with Miss Joan Barry, is an adaptation of the fairy tale. Included in the cast besides members of the Village Theatre are students of the Delores Eiler School of Dancing. The entire play is under the direction of Mrs. G. E. Staahl.

Future performances of the play are planned for orphanages in the Chicago area, and proceeds from the Sunday performances—tickets are 25 cents including tax for both adults and children—will help finance these trips.

"The Sleeping Beauty" is intended primarily for children, but grownups of the community are invited to attend as well.

Soloists in Yule concert Sunday

Presbyterian choir Xmas concert Sunday

At 4:30 p. m. next Sunday, December 17, the choirs of the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, will present a service of Christmas music. Both the junior and senior choirs, under the direction of Miss Roberta King, accompanied by Mrs. Richard Lull at the organ, will sing.

Included in the service will be solos by Walter Daube, tenor; Josephine Zimmerman and Mary Ziehm. Nancy Brown will sing the solo part of "O Holy Night."

CORRECTION

Last week's paper stated that John Bestman, Wheeling farmer, died suddenly. It should have read Ernst Bestman.

The Bestman family would like to take this opportunity to thank the inhalator squad from Arlington Heights for answering their call when Mr. Bestman suffered the fatal heart attack.

Let's Know Arlington

This series of articles is being written by a reporter who recently accompanied Building Commissioner Ahmer on a tour about Arlington Heights. They are written as the reporter saw them and special praise given any development is not intended as a reflection against any other area.

This reporter is introducing readers this week to the Trucraft Homes—24 of them completed and 58 more on the way.

Those figures make a total of 82 moderately priced homes all of which will be occupied before next summer, which in turn will add 200 to Arlington's population and probably 50 to school enrollment.

Trucraft homes are in the popular priced bracket—$10,500 for frame and $11,500 for brick. The completed homes are on North Beverly in the northeastern part of the village. The fifty-eight additional homes which are in various stages of construction, are on North Hickory.

All of the homes are sold and there are scores of families waiting for time that they can move into a home of their own.

The residences 24x36 feet all have two bedrooms. Each block has six different frontal designs. They are well constructed. The Trucraft project is an example as to what can be done in establishing a building project in an otherwise forgotten area. Its location was on the edge of nowhere and without proper roads would remain empty spaces for years.

The owner, C. A. Goelz installed water and sewer mains, streets and sidewalks making it a desirable community for the average American who does not want to mortgage his own life in order to own a home of his own.

Trucraft acquired a total of 140 lots but have not yet announced plans for further expansion.

Junior Woman's club to sponsor Santa's visit to two orphanages

"Santa Claus is coming to town" December 16 and 17 for approximately fifty children in the Addison and Bensenville orphanages. His trips to these two homes will be sponsored by the members of the Arlington Hts. Junior Woman's club, who have volunteered to bring "Santa," complete with whiskers, red coat, and toy-stuffed pack, for special visits of these children. Many of the club members will accompany him to help with his big job of distributing toys to the twenty-eight children, ranging from ages five to eight years old, at Bensenville Saturday afternoon and to twenty children of pre-school ages at Addison Sunday afternoon. After Santa's pack has been emptied and the toys placed in the eager hands of the boys and girls, there will be a Christmas party with all the trimmings. Games will be played, ice cream and cookies will be served.

Tonight, Thursday, a group of young women from the club will gather at the home of Mrs. Harold Busse, president of the club, to recondition the toys to be taken to Bensenville for distribution Saturday. Any members who are interested in helping repaint and repair the toys are urged to come.

Sunday the eight little girls at Addison will receive baby dolls, each with its own wardrobe and bottle, attractively wrapped. Each of the twelve boys will be given a colorful truck, which will also be appropriately wrapped. A group of club members have been diligently working during the last several weeks sewing the wardrobes for the dolls and wrapping the gifts.

Cub Scout news

Cub Scouts of Arlington Hts. are good scouts. Packs 232 and 255 are gathering toys for the poor underprivileged children again this year. Every one that has toys, clothes and magazines in good condition are urged to donate them to this good cause. This is open to all the people in town. Those who have a boy in cubbing can call the nearest Den Dad or notify any Cub Scout.

The dens are all busy making Christmas tree decorations for their coming party, always a gala affair. All parents should make a very definite attempt to attend.

Pack 232 will meet at the North school and Pack 255 at the South school. The dates and time are the same, Friday, Dec. 22, at 7:30 p. m.

Junior Woman's club to sponsor Santa's visit to two orphanages

"Santa Claus is coming to town" December 16 and 17 for approximately fifty children in the Addison and Bensenville orphanages. His trips to these two homes will be sponsored by the members of the Arlington Hts. Junior Woman's club, who have volunteered to bring "Santa," complete with whiskers, red coat, and toy-stuffed pack, for special visits of these children. Many of the club members will accompany him to help with his big job of distributing toys to the twenty-eight children, ranging from ages five to eight years old, at Bensenville Saturday afternoon and to twenty children of pre-school ages at Addison Sunday afternoon. After Santa's pack has been emptied and the toys placed in the eager hands of the boys and girls, there will be a Christmas party with all the trimmings. Games will be played, ice cream and cookies will be served.

Tonight, Thursday, a group of young women from the club will gather at the home of Mrs. Harold Busse, president of the club, to recondition the toys to be taken to Bensenville for distribution Saturday. Any members who are interested in helping repaint and repair the toys are urged to come.

Sunday the eight little girls at Addison will receive baby dolls, each with its own wardrobe and bottle, attractively wrapped. Each of the twelve boys will be given a colorful truck, which will also be appropriately wrapped. A group of club members have been diligently working during the last several weeks sewing the wardrobes for the dolls and wrapping the gifts.

Cub Scout news

Cub Scouts of Arlington Hts. are good scouts. Packs 232 and 255 are gathering toys for the poor underprivileged children again this year. Every one that has toys, clothes and magazines in good condition are urged to donate them to this good cause. This is open to all the people in town. Those who have a boy in cubbing can call the nearest Den Dad or notify any Cub Scout.

The dens are all busy making Christmas tree decorations for their coming party, always a gala affair. All parents should make a very definite attempt to attend.

Pack 232 will meet at the North school and Pack 255 at the South school. The dates and time are the same, Friday, Dec. 22, at 7:30 p. m.

Kermit Denny takes Nebraska girl as bride

A double wedding Saturday, November 25, united in marriage Kermit Denny of Arlington Heights, son of Mrs. Reiley Denny of Chicago, and Mary Helen Gettys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gettys of St. Paul, Neb. The bride's sister, Margery Ann, became the bride of Bill D. Bittinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Bittinger of Grady, Ark., at this double ceremony.

Rev. W. W. Leypoldt officiated at the ceremony which took place at the Methodist church in St. Paul.

Dan Denny was his brother's best man, and Tommy Jordan served as best man for Bill Bittinger. Ushers were the brides' brothers,, Wilbur and Eugene Gettys.

The brides acted as maid of honor for each other. They wore identical dresses of white net over water-marked taffeta, fashioned with round necks, cap sleeves and ballerina length skirts. Their short veils were held in place with rhinestone ornaments.

A reception for 60 guests was held in the church parlors following the ceremony.

Mrs. Denny has been employed at Hines Veterans hospital. Mr. Denny served in World War II. He is a disabled veteran. They will be at home at 306 West Elm, Arlington Heights.

Legion Auxiliary to hold Christmas party Tuesday

Merle Guild unit 208, American Legion Auxiliary of Arlington Heights, will give a Christmas party for members December 19 in Legion Hall. Each member is to bring a present not exceeding one dollar to be put in the grab bag, and also an article of food for the basket for a needy family.

Mesdames Holtz, Wisersky, May and Weidner will be hostesses for the evening.

December 11 the president and Mrs. Fitzpatrick went to the John F. Conley unit to help wrap Christmas presents for the Park Ridge School for Girls.

St. Peter Dorcas Aid elects new officers

New officers were recently elected by the Dorcas Aid of St. Peter church, Arlington Heights. They are as follows: Mrs. Ed Nagel, president; Mrs. Albert Meyer, secretary, and Mrs. William Lussman, treasurer.

Following the election a Christmas party was held and the women exchanged gifts. Santa Claus was also present at the meeting. The organization was entertained by the children from Mr. Obermann's class, and lunch was served by the monthly group.

Blair Tice recently wed in Massachusetts

Blair Tice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tice of Arlington Heights, took as his bride Miss Hazel Andrew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Andrew of Quincy, Mass., November 11 in Christ Episcopal church of Quincy. The candlelight, double-ring ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock.

The bride wore an ivory satin gown trimmed in Chantilly lace. An ivory satin Juliet cap embroidered with seed pearls held her veil in place and she carried a bouquet of orchids and stephanotis on a white Bible.

The bride was attended by her only sister, Barbara, who wore an American Beauty gown with bateau neckline and hooped skirt. Two junior bridesmaids, Carol Jones and Lyndon Keating, wore aqua and gold satin gowns, and the flower girl, Cyndy Tice, sister of the groom, wore pale yellow.

Best man for the groom was the bride's brother, Thomas Andrew of Quincy, and the ushers were Herbert Wick and William Andrew.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. The couple visited New York City on their wedding trip.

November 18, the groom reported to Fort Riley, Kan., for attendance at Officer's Candidate school and the bride returned to her post as an Army nurse at Brooke Army hospital, Fort Sam Houston, Tex. She expects to be transferred to Fort Riley, Kan., in the near future, where the couple will make their home.

The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tice, accompanied by their daughters, Cyndy and Nancy Jo, drove East to attend the wedding. Nancy Jo had leave of absence from the University of Chicago. On the way they drove through Ontario, Canada, stopped at Niagara Falls, and visited friends in Massachusetts. On the return trip they saw friends at Bennington college, Vt., Tarrytown, N. Y., and made sight-seeing trips at Valley Forge and Gettysburg.

The bride was attended by her only sister, Barbara, who wore an American Beauty gown with bateau neckline and hooped skirt. Two junior bridesmaids, Carol Jones and Lyndon Keating, wore aqua and gold satin gowns, and the flower girl, Cyndy Tice, sister of the groom, wore pale yellow.

Best man for the groom was the bride's brother, Thomas Andrew of Quincy, and the ushers were Herbert Wick and William Andrew.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. The couple visited New York City on their wedding trip.

November 18, the groom reported to Fort Riley, Kan., for attendance at Officer's Candidate school and the bride returned to her post as an Army nurse at Brooke Army hospital, Fort Sam Houston, Tex. She expects to be transferred to Fort Riley, Kan., in the near future, where the couple will make their home.

The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tice, accompanied by their daughters, Cyndy and Nancy Jo, drove East to attend the wedding. Nancy Jo had leave of absence from the University of Chicago. On the way they drove through Ontario, Canada, stopped at Niagara Falls, and visited friends in Massachusetts. On the return trip they saw friends at Bennington college, Vt., Tarrytown, N. Y., and made sight-seeing trips at Valley Forge and Gettysburg. (AM

Miss Adeline Deeke is bride of Milton Mager

Community Camera

Adeline Deeke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deeke of Arlington Heights, became the bride of Milton Mager, son of Mrs. John Braun of Lombard, December 9.

Rev. F. L. Gehrs officiated at the 6:30 o'clock ceremony which took place at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church in Elk Grove. A reception was held at Elk Grove school for 200 guests.

Daisy mums and pompons decorated the altar of the church. Mr. Stegeman was the organist and Miss Lorraine Specht was the soloist.

Four attendants preceded the bride down the aisle, attired in vivid Christmas colors. The matron of honor, Mrs. Leroy Hattendorf, sister of the bride, wore a gown of deep red velveteen fashioned with three-quarter-length dolman sleeves and a full skirt. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and holly.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Arthur Munson, sister of the groom, Miss Elaine Allison and Mrs. Ernest Koeppen, wore gowns of deep moss green and carried bouquets of red carnations and holly.

The bride's gown was of ivory satin fashioned with a rolled stand-up collar, buttons down the front, long dolman sleeves, a pleated skirt and long train. An ivory satin headpiece held her fingertip veil in place and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and lily of the valley with an orchid in the center.

Best man for the groom was his brother, Julius Mager, and the ushers were Ernest Koeppen, Leroy Hattendorf and Louis Windt.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in the South, and upon their return will make their home with the bride's parents for the present.

A pre-nuptial dinner was held December 8 at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran school for the bridal party and immediate families.

Dreyer Electric Co. new display and sales room filled with Xmas gifts

Dreyer Electric Co., which recently moved to its own building at 700 E. Northwest highway, has a "double-header" in display and sales space. One section is devoted to television sets and radios while another section has refrigerators, washers, ironers and other household appliances.

The customer has ample space in which to make his selection leisurely. He can sell himself on the merchandise that interests him.

Dreyer has been a household name for home appliances in Arlington Heights for many years and the public will find the new Dreyer store a shop that adds to Arlington's claim to being the shopping center of northwest Cook County.

Lois Sills is bride of Donald Roon

The Clarence H. Sills' home in Arlington Heights was decorated with white roses and mums for the wedding of their daughter, Lois Marie Sills of New York, to Donald Roon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Roon of Long Island City, N.Y.

Rev. William J. O'Han officiated at the ceremony which took place December 2 at 8 p.m. Mrs. Norman Froelich sang "Ave Marie" and "Love's Coronation."

The bride wore a lace ballerina-length gown with an uneven hemline and an overskirt of tulle which formed a short train. The dress was fashioned with a portrait collar and long sleeves. A lace cap held her fingertip-length veil of tulle in place and she carried a bouquet of white orchids, lily of the valley and shattered carnations.

Miss Sarah Coleman of New York City was maid of honor for the bride. She wore a French blue taffeta ballerina-length gown and carried a bouquet of spitfire roses. She also wore a spray of roses in her hair. Best man for the groom was Norman Wolfson of New Jersey.

A reception for 75 guests was held at the bride's home. The newlyweds are honeymooning in Jamaica, British West Indies, and upon their return will make their home in New York City.

Southside association elects new officers

At their meeting Tuesday evening at the South school, Arlington Heights, members of the Southside Community Association elected officers for the year 1951.

Northwest Heighters

Northwest association Christmas party

The annual Christmas party of the Northwest Improvement association will be given Tuesday evening, December 19, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at the field house. All children under 10 years of age in the Northwest area are invited to attend. Santa Claus will be on hand to greet all the little ones and to present them with gifts. Christmas movies will also be shown.

Sherwood association Christmas party

Sherwood's annual Christmas party for all children in that area, up through fifth grade in school, will be held Friday evening, December 22 at the home of James E. Wood, 1106 Clarendon rd. Santa Claus will be there waiting to see each little boy and girl and to present them with a gift. Movies will be shown.

House guests

Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Erickson and their three children of Stambaugh, Mich., spent Friday and Saturday with the Howard Nelsons. Mrs. Erickson is Mrs. Nelson's sister. Both were former nurses at the Swedish Covenant hospital, and while here Mrs. Erickson had some reunions with her former co-workers. Over the week end David Swanson, also of Stambaugh and son of another sister of Mrs. Nelson's was their guest.

Mrs. M. McDonald of Grand Ledge, Mich., mother of Mrs. Yelton, Dr. June Shafer and her mother, Mrs. Kate Shafer of Arlington, Va., were the guests of the Richard Yeltons over the week end.

Illness

Gloria Puralewski, 3 years old, was operated on for hernia Monday morning.

Mrs. Henry Lucas fell down stairs in her home last Friday and received a broken ankle. She is recuperating nicely.

William Johnson has recovered, after two weeks of virus pneumonia, and hopes to be back at the office this week.

Sympathy

Within a short radius of time, less than three weeks, sympathy is again offered to Herbert Aurnhammer and his family, this time in the death of his mother, Mrs. Joseph Aurnhammer, who died last Friday afternoon. She had been hit by an auto the preceding Saturday while crossing Western ave., just a half block from her home. She was buried Monday afternoon, Dec. 11, beside her husband, who was laid at rest November 24 in Irving Park cemetery.

Special events

Mr. and Mrs. William Warren and children, Ann, Jane and Billy, had an enjoyable day downtown last Saturday. They left on the 8 o'clock train in the morning, had breakfast in the city, then began the tours to Toyland. Later on they had lunch and then viewed more of the Christmas sights.

Back from a week of sightseeing, night clubbing, etc. in New York, are Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold. They returned Saturday evening. The Arnolds saw Arthur Godfrey broadcast last Thursday, Mary Martin in "South Pacific," and "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." Their itinerary included Greenwich village, Empire State building, Rainbow Room in Rockefeller Center, a Christmas play in the famous Radio City Music Hall, and many other things.

Good news

Mr. and Mrs. Don Cagle of Stockton, Cal., are the proud parents of a baby girl born Monday morning, December 11. She will be named Kathleen Mary, and she has a big brother, Bobbie, 3½ years old. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison and great-grandmother is Mrs. Minnie Bierma.

Junior Cotillion club

Community Camera

The Junior Cotillion Club of Arlington Heights held its first dance at the Arlington Heights field house Dec. 2.

There will be a series of five dances and ten hours of dance instruction for the club. Muriel Mills, a former Arthur Murray dance instructor, will give lessons one Friday evening each month and there will be one Saturday evening dance each month. The last dance will be held the latter part of April.

Seventh and eighth grade students from all schools are eligible for membership and may join by contacting Mrs. Muriel Mills, phone 1711-M.

Special children's service at St. John's church Dec. 23

A special children's service will be held around the crech at St. John's Episcopal church in Mt. Prospect, 4 p.m., December 23. During the service the children will bring to the Christ Child one useful gift such as a cake of soap, a tooth brush, and a joyful gift such as a toy for someone their own age. These gifts will be sent to the Cathedral Shelter for distribution Christmas day. After the service there will be the annual Christmas party.

The usual services will be held Sunday with Sunday school.

The midnight mass will begin with the singing of carols at 11:30. This will be a sung service with the choir.

Christmas day there will be Holy Communion at 9:30

Their itinerary included Greenwich village, Empire State building, Rainbow Room in Rockefeller Center, a Christmas play in the famous Radio City Music Hall, and many other things.

Good news

Mr. and Mrs. Don Cagle of Stockton, Cal., are the proud parents of a baby girl born Monday morning, December 11. She will be named Kathleen Mary, and she has a big brother, Bobbie, 3½ years old. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison and great-grandmother is Mrs. Minnie Bierma.

Junior Cotillion club

Community Camera

The Junior Cotillion Club of Arlington Heights held its first dance at the Arlington Heights field house Dec. 2.

There will be a series of five dances and ten hours of dance instruction for the club. Muriel Mills, a former Arthur Murray dance instructor, will give lessons one Friday evening each month and there will be one Saturday evening dance each month. The last dance will be held the latter part of April.

Seventh and eighth grade students from all schools are eligible for membership and may join by contacting Mrs. Muriel Mills, phone 1711-M.

Special children's service at St. John's church Dec. 23

A special children's service will be held around the crech at St. John's Episcopal church in Mt. Prospect, 4 p.m., December 23. During the service the children will bring to the Christ Child one useful gift such as a cake of soap, a tooth brush, and a joyful gift such as a toy for someone their own age. These gifts will be sent to the Cathedral Shelter for distribution Christmas day. After the service there will be the annual Christmas party.

The usual services will be held Sunday with Sunday school.

The midnight mass will begin with the singing of carols at 11:30. This will be a sung service with the choir.

Christmas day there will be Holy Communion at 9:30

Robert Botterman and Marian Harrington wed

—Americon Candid

A double ring ceremony was held November 18 uniting Robert A. Botterman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Botterman of Arlington Heights, and Marian Patricia Harrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Harrington of Chicago, in marriage.

The young couple was married at a solemn high mass in Our Lady of Help Christian church in Chicago by Father O'Brien, cousin of the bride.

The bride wore a white slipper satin gown, a net bonnet and a fingertip veil. She carried a white orchid and a prayer book. Her attendants were Kay Lyons, cousin of the bride, and Dianne Botterman, sister of the groom. They both wore ice blue satin gowns and carried baby orchids.

Best man for the groom was John Harrington, brother of the bride, and Bud Hoffman of Arlington Heights was an usher.

The bride's mother wore a lavendar crepe dress and the groom's mother wore a grey suit. Both had corsages of tropical orchids.

A breakfast was held at Casa Nova immediately following the ceremony for 30 close friends and relatives. Later in the day a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for 300 guests.

The couple honeymooned in Indiana and Ohio and are now making their home in Evanston.

New church committee

George Adams of Willow st., Prospect Heights, has been elected chairman of the Bishop's committee of St. John's Episcopal church, Mt. Prospect, for the year 1951. R. E. Gerrade of Mt. Prospect has been elected treasurer and Herbert Haynsworth of Arlington Heights has been appointed clerk of the committee.

The committee expects that the new rectory will be completely paid for this winter, and plans will be under way for the future church and parish hall. Each project of the church must be completely paid for before any new undertaking is started. The rectory was completed 16 months ago.

Episcopal bishop elected president of National Council Churches of Christ

The Most Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, the presiding bishop of the Episcopal church, has been elected the first president of the National Council of Churches of Christ. This group is composed of Lutheran, Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, Reform, Episcopal and Eastern Orthodox churches.

The purpose of this organization is to manifest the oneness of Christ as Divine Lord and Savior by a cooperative agency of Christian churches in the USA. This organization is expected to be the most powerful voice ever to speak for cooperative Christianity in America.

Holiday entertaining seems to require that the food be just a little extra special. Mrs. William T. Mott, 401 S. Pine st., Mt. Prospect, suggests her English Toffee dessert for the hostess who wants something that is festive, simple, different, and can be made the day before.

English Toffee Dessert

½ cup pecans chopped fine
¼ lb. vanilla wafers crushed
1½ sq. bitter chocolate melted
½ cup butter
1 cup powdered sugar
3 egg yolks beaten light
3 egg whites beaten

Mix pecans and vanilla wafer crumbs together and spread half in ungreased 8x8x2" pan.

Cream butter and sugar, add beaten yolks, then melted chocolate. Fold in beaten whites. Pour over crumbs. Sprinkle remaining crumbs on top. Chill over night. Serves 8 to 10.

Serve with whipped cream and decorate with red maraschino cherries and angelique for a Christmas touch.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

To many, Christmas music is a favorite part of the holiday season and to many others it is so much a part of it that Christmas just wouldn't be the same without attending at least one affair featuring traditional hymns and carols.

Arlington Heights folks have already had one opportunity to hear their favorites and at least two more are coming up this Sunday. Last Sunday afternoon the team of Schmoyer and Cochrum presented the talented high school musicians in their annual Christmas concert.

Besides band selections and numbers by the choruses, there were student soloists and a tableau directed by Miss Helen La Pat. This latter, a highlight of the program, depicted the Christmas story.

Church programs

Sunday afternoon will see the first Christmas vesper program of the combined choirs of the First Presbyterian church, under the direction of Miss Roberta King. The candlelight service will begin at 4:30 and last just about an hour.

Both the senior and junior choirs will sing, many of their selections being the familiar hymns of the Christmas season. They will be augmented by soloists including Mrs. J. A. Zimmerman, Miss Nancy Brown, Mrs. Kurt Ziehm and Walter Daube.

Mr. Daube, by the way, is one of the most sought after tenor soloists in the village. He is a member of the Presbyterian church and lends his talents to other church groups and organizations as well. He will solo Sunday evening in the concert at the Methodist church and he is, of course, a well known performer with the Prospect Heights chorus.

There will be no speaking as such at the Presbyterian vesper service but scriptures will be read by Rev. C. Victor Brown and Robert Olsen, student assistant.

That same night beginning at 8 p.m. the chapel, chancel and Wesleyan choirs of the Methodist Meeting House will sing their annual Christmas concert.

The major portion of the program will be devoted to the Christmas oratorio "Saint-Saens" as sung by the chancel choir with featured soloists Mrs. Frank Carr, Mrs. R. Robert Ismay, Mrs. George Tuttle, James A. Rickards and Mr. Daube.

Following the oratorio each of the choirs will present a brief program of Christmas music.

People are talking about...

The terrific blizzard and the complications it caused. Not only were trains late and commuters way behind schedule in getting downtown, but many didn't even get to the station one day. One man we know spent most of one day just being a good neighbor—helping start stalled cars and helping those in his block get up in their driveways.

Another postponement caused by the storm was the Book fair, originally scheduled for last Friday at South school. Held instead on Wednesday it proved an equally popular spot that afternoon and evening.

We're a big town now! From now until Christmas all the stores selling clothing, household articles and other gifts will be open each evening until 9 p.m. to enable busy people to get their shopping done right here in Arlington Heights.

Sidelights of Arlington Heights

Celebrates birthday

Patricia Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Barker, celebrated her ninth birthday Wednesday. Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Bell of Evanston, were dinner guests at the Barker home that evening and helped her observe the event.

December 12 Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Duenn observed their nineteenth anniversary.

Monday afternoon Mrs. Otto Bolte held a Christmas party for her pinochle club at her home.

Guests

Following a week spent in Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Flaherty of Dallas, Texas, aunt and uncle of James Yates, spent Sunday with the Yates family. Mr. Yates' brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yates, Karen, Muriel and Robert, were also guests at their home that day.

Marilyn Franke was a guest of Laurel Lawbaugh at Iowa State college last week end.

Mrs. Joe Wichtner, Mrs. Harry Topping, Mrs. Elmer Crane, Mrs. Peter Mors, Mrs. Al Mors, Mrs. Albert Wenzel, Mrs. Otto Bolte and Mrs. Alma Ihle went into Chicago Wednesday to see the matinee performance of "South Pacific."

Visits here

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stier and son, Duffy, of Portland, Oregon, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bokelman and other relatives. From here they left for Indianapolis, Ind., to spend a few months with Mrs. Stier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Jensen.

Mrs. Ben Chase of Phillips, Wis., is visiting her sisters, Mrs. Alex Stoenfield, Mrs. Elmer Busse and Mrs. William Rascher for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Radloff expect their son, Harold, to be home for Christmas. He is stationed at Camp Polk, La.

December 16 Ila Miller will return home for Christmas vacation from Rollins college in Winter Park, Fla.

Attend broadcast

Miss Marian Elliott and Miss Laura Grothe attended the Chicago Theatre of the Air presentation of the operetta "Romance" at the WGN studios in the Tribune Tower December 2.

Mrs. Winnifred Giles and son, Kenneth, of Chicago, are spending two weeks in Arlington Hts., visiting in the home of Mrs. Giles' folks, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Wennerstrand.

Mrs. Marie Hine and daughter, Marylin, of Michigan, spent this week in Arlington Heights visiting Mrs. Hine's mother, Mrs. Irene McNeil.

Week end visit

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Murphy and daughter, Kathleen, of Evanston spent last week end in Arlington Heights visiting Mrs. Murphy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sahlberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pedersen were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pederson of Edgebrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kirchoff will entertain as their week end guests, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dull and baby daughter, Pamela, of Beloit, Wis., this coming week end.

Miss Cathrine Flintsbaugh and Miss Laura Grothe were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Stine last Wednesday evening.

Donald Hitchcock, 210 S. Chestnut, has been confined to his bed this past week because of illness.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

To many, Christmas music is a favorite part of the holiday season and to many others it is so much a part of it that Christmas just wouldn't be the same without attending at least one affair featuring traditional hymns and carols.

Arlington Heights folks have already had one opportunity to hear their favorites and at least two more are coming up this Sunday. Last Sunday afternoon the team of Schmoyer and Cochrum presented the talented high school musicians in their annual Christmas concert.

Besides band selections and numbers by the choruses, there were student soloists and a tableau directed by Miss Helen La Pat. This latter, a highlight of the program, depicted the Christmas story.

Church programs

Sunday afternoon will see the first Christmas vesper program of the combined choirs of the First Presbyterian church, under the direction of Miss Roberta King. The candlelight service will begin at 4:30 and last just about an hour.

Both the senior and junior choirs will sing, many of their selections being the familiar hymns of the Christmas season. They will be augmented by soloists including Mrs. J. A. Zimmerman, Miss Nancy Brown, Mrs. Kurt Ziehm and Walter Daube.

Mr. Daube, by the way, is one of the most sought after tenor soloists in the village. He is a member of the Presbyterian church and lends his talents to other church groups and organizations as well. He will solo Sunday evening in the concert at the Methodist church and he is, of course, a well known performer with the Prospect Heights chorus.

There will be no speaking as such at the Presbyterian vesper service but scriptures will be read by Rev. C. Victor Brown and Robert Olsen, student assistant.

That same night beginning at 8 p.m. the chapel, chancel and Wesleyan choirs of the Methodist Meeting House will sing their annual Christmas concert.

The major portion of the program will be devoted to the Christmas oratorio "Saint-Saens" as sung by the chancel choir with featured soloists Mrs. Frank Carr, Mrs. R. Robert Ismay, Mrs. George Tuttle, James A. Rickards and Mr. Daube.

Following the oratorio each of the choirs will present a brief program of Christmas music.

People are talking about...

The terrific blizzard and the complications it caused. Not only were trains late and commuters way behind schedule in getting downtown, but many didn't even get to the station one day. One man we know spent most of one day just being a good neighbor—helping start stalled cars and helping those in his block get up in their driveways.

Another postponement caused by the storm was the Book fair, originally scheduled for last Friday at South school. Held instead on Wednesday it proved an equally popular spot that afternoon and evening.

We're a big town now! From now until Christmas all the stores selling clothing, household articles and other gifts will be open each evening until 9 p.m. to enable busy people to get their shopping done right here in Arlington Heights.

Faith church to hold Christmas party Friday

Faith Lutheran church of Arlington Heights will present its Christmas party Friday, December 15 at 7 p.m. at the field house. The party is for all members, Sunday school children, parents and friends of the church.

There will be games, contests, prizes, gifts and refreshments. Christmas carols will be sung around the tree. Each person coming to the party is asked to bring a 25 cent gift for Santa's pack, and the gifts should be marked man, woman, boy or girl.

Finds choker on tree

A pearl choker was found hanging on a tree between Hawthorne and Euclid in Arlington Heights. Loser can claim it at St. James school.

Robert Dickinson and Betty Suerth say 'I do'

Community Camera

The Methodist church in Arlington Heights was the scene of the recent wedding of Miss Betty Suerth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Suerth of Arlington Heights, and Robert Dickinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dickinson of Long Grove.

Evergreen boughs, white mums and candelabra formed the setting for the ceremony which took place December 9 at 7 p.m., with Rev. R. Robert Ismay officiating. Richard Everett was the organist.

The bride took her vows wearing a white satin gown fashioned with a net yoke and long sleeves. A beaded crown held her fingertip veil in place and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Mary Jane Laseke, sister of the bride. She wore a chartreuse velvet gown and carried a bouquet of brown and yellow mums. She also wore a spray of the same flowers in her hair.

William Dickinson of Highland Park, brother of the groom, was best man, and Howard and Ray Suerth of Chicago, twin brothers of the bride, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a forest green dress with black accessories and the groom's mother wore a blue dress with black accessories. Both had corsages of white and red carnations.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride.

Community Camera

The Methodist church in Arlington Heights was the scene of the recent wedding of Miss Betty Suerth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Suerth of Arlington Heights, and Robert Dickinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dickinson of Long Grove.

Evergreen boughs, white mums and candelabra formed the setting for the ceremony which took place December 9 at 7 p.m., with Rev. R. Robert Ismay officiating. Richard Everett was the organist.

The bride took her vows wearing a white satin gown fashioned with a net yoke and long sleeves. A beaded crown held her fingertip veil in place and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Mary Jane Laseke, sister of the bride. She wore a chartreuse velvet gown and carried a bouquet of brown and yellow mums. She also wore a spray of the same flowers in her hair.

William Dickinson of Highland Park, brother of the groom, was best man, and Howard and Ray Suerth of Chicago, twin brothers of the bride, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a forest green dress with black accessories and the groom's mother wore a blue dress with black accessories. Both had corsages of white and red carnations.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride.

Nolan racks up 19

Nolan (No. 25) of Wauconda shoots for a basket in their game against Palatine Friday night. Although Sievers (No. 12) wasn't able to stop him, the Pirates went on to win the game 51-40. Others on the scene: Rogers (No. 77), Abrahamson (No. 33), both of Palatine.

Northbrook ends it all!

Antioch 'toughest' for Barrington during 25-game league win record

Bensenville was last team to beat Broncs

Northbrook stopped Barrington, 62-60, Friday night and ended the Broncho string of consecutive Northwest Conference victories at 25. The last Northwest defeat suffered by Barrington was to Bensenville in December 1948.

Barrington could not stop Art Landwehr, Northbrook center, who chalked up the high total for the season with 27 points. The game was fast and close all the way with neither team getting more than a four point lead at any time. Northbrook led 34-32 at the half. Barrington took a 49-47 advantage at the end of the third quarter but could not hold the advantage. Pederson scored 20 and Osinski 16 for Barrington in a losing cause. Barrington had to come from behind to win the frosh-soph game, 44-35.

TO BENSENVILLE high school, going nowhere fast in this year's race, goes the honor of being the last Northwest conference foe to trip Barrington prior to last week end. It was back in 1948, December 17 to be exact, when Coach Tom Meneguin's Bisons beat the Broncs, 57-42.

Since that time Barrington has racked up 1364 points to their opponents' 830 in 25 contests. In the center of that string is the Bronc's 14 game undefeated league card for 1949-50. The hotshots have averaged 54.56 points to their opponents' 33.20.

PALATINE, one of the two teams rated a close runner-up this season to the champs, tested Coach Harmon's five the most in the string of 25 when the Pirates held the leaders to a 34-33 decision in last spring's conference finale.

Antioch, always a trouble-maker for Barrington, also holds a "one point moral victory" when they succumb by only 49-48 in the tail end of the '48-'49 year.

Grant proved the easiest meat for Barrington in that span of 25 contests—they lost by 40, 53, 37 and 34 scores. The Sequoits of Antioch were perennially the toughest, losing by only 1, 23, 18 and 10 points, an average of 13. Bensenville's "losing average" was 15, Palatine's 16 and Northbrook's 18.

ONLY ONCE in those 25 games was Barrington ever held to less than 40 counters, while even the two-scores tempted the Broncs but seven times. Barrington scored in the 50's ten times, and ranked in the 60's on six occasions. Grant's 77-24 loss in the second game last year was high score and top winning margin in the 25 game streak.

The Northbrook Frosh-Soph team lost to Barrington by a score of 44 to 35, after giving them a good score by beating them 17 to 7 the first quarter. These Barrington Sophomores proved themselves to be masters of the game, however, as they changed their style of defense after the first quarter and played a pressing man-to-man defense all over the floor which handcuffed the Northbrook team.

Saturday night Barrington bounced back from their Northbrook upset to whip East Aurora in both games played on the Broncho's court. The varsity beat East High 54-37 with the Barrington guards, Cochran and Pederson getting 15 and 14 points respectively. Zournsein, Aurora center, scored 20 counters. Barrington's frosh-sophs had everything their own way to win 57-41.

Illinois vs DePaul, NU, Notre Dame on Stadium card

Second of the series of college doubleheaders takes place at the Chicago Stadium this Saturday night when Illinois opposes DePaul and Northwestern tackles Notre Dame.

It will be one of the tallest teams ever to represent the fighting Illini. Three sophomores are on the first five, starting with 6'8" Bob Peterson of Elgin at center. Forwards are Clive Follmer of Forrest, 6'4", and Irv Bemoras, 6'3½" of Marshall high in Chicago.

Only veterans are at the guards. Captain Don Sunderlage, a mere 6' tall, hails from Elgin and is a senior. Rod Fletcher rounds out the five at 6'4", hailing from Champaign.

Illinois has a 2-1 record to date, suffering their only defeat this past week end against Toledo. DePaul has a 3-2 slate, losing to Hank Iba's Oklahoma A&M team in two overtimes, and dropping a 72-63 decision to Bradley at the Stadium last week.

NORTHWESTERN will make one of its few appearances in the Stadium this year when they oppose Notre Dame. The two rivals always have commanded a good following, and with both undefeated thus far, though light competition, the game stands to draw well.

Notre Dame has whipped Franklin college, Anderson college, and Wisconsin, while N.U. has disposed of Western Michigan and Butler.

Northwest conference individual scoring

Bob Nolan of Wauconda scored 19 points Friday night to maintain a 25 point scoring lead on the field after four Northwest Conference games. Nolan had a bad shooting night with six field goals out of 26 shots and seven out of 17 free throws but still maintained a 22 point a game average with 87 points.

The big night Art Landwehr had in the upset of Barrington by the Northbrook Vikings with 27 points vaulted the big Viking star into second among league scorers with 62 points. Dan Osinski of Barrington scored 16 points and Art Smejkal of Grant 18 to stay up in third and fourth places with 59 and 50 point totals.

Ela and Bensenville scorers are a game behind the field due to the postponement of their scheduled game last Friday.

MACSAYS

by G. A. McELROY

It finally happened. A team cannot keep on winning indefinitely. Northbrook stopped Barrington's streak 62-60 in one of the most torrid basket shooting contests ever staged in the conference. The Bronchos had won 25 games in a row in the league over two years. The last Barrington defeat previous to Friday was suffered at the hands of Bensenville in December 1948.

Barrington's teams under Coach Les Harmon have certainly established a record for the others to shoot at in the future.

Are the Bronchos home court players?

Can it be that Barrington is a home court team? One might be led to that conclusion after the tough time they had winning at Antioch and the loss at Northbrook in their only league games away from home. It now looks like the league race would be wide open with five teams having a chance. However Barrington, Palatine, and Northbrook appear to be the teams which will battle it out right down to the end of the season. One thing is certain. Barrington will be tougher to beat now that they have lost.

Grant High faces crucial week end

Grant High, in second place with a 3-1 record, has the toughest schedule this week end as the Northwest plays both Friday and Saturday nights. Grant plays at Northbrook (3-1) Friday and is home to Palatine (4-0) Saturday. It looks like two defeats for the Bulldogs if the games run true to form.

It looks to us like Palatine will beat Antioch by eight points, Northbrook will beat Grant by six, Barrington will beat Bensenville by 15, and Wauconda will take Ela by 12 points. Saturday we expect Palatine to beat Grant by five points, Northbrook to beat Wauconda by eight points, and Antioch to nose out Bensenville by two. The Ela at Barrington game will be played Wednesday, December 20, and the Bronchos will win as they please.

Pirates hope to regain Sleigh Bells trophy

Palatine has strong hopes of taking the sleigh bells trophy away from Arlington this year. The Pirates are coming along fine, playing better ball every game. Arlington has yet to win. You cannot blame Palatine fans for getting their hopes up on the question of the sleigh bells though Arlington is playing pretty fast competition and will still rate the favorite in a very close game. Palatine expects a record breaking crowd next Wednesday when the Cards come to town.

Pirates have another perfect free throw game

We have never heard of a high school team making all their free throws in a game until Palatine hit all 18 against Lake Forest in the opening game of the season. What makes it all the more of a record in the Palatine case is that the Pirates did it again. Friday they made all 13 free throws in the Wauconda game. Can any one find a case in high school, college, independent, or pro ball to equal this record of two perfect free throwing games in the first six of the season.

Sam Mascia in fourth year varsity ball at Leyden

Four years ago this coming January a lad named Rerucha was one of the top scorers of the Northeast conference for the Leyden Eagles who were in the thick of a close championship race. Rerucha fractured an ankle skating, with five games remaining to be played. Coach St. John picked a boy from the freshman team to take his place and Sam Mascia, the freshman, scored 60 points before the season was over.

Sam is this year a senior on the Leyden team and a key man in a very strong cage combination. The Eagles are playing free lance ball and recently outscored Elgin from the field but lost a close game to the Maroons on free throws. Sam Mascia quarter-backed Leyden in football to one of the best season records in the area suffering only one loss, a 7-6 decision to Blue Island. Any school is fortunate to have a boy like Sam Mascia around.

Arlington at Palatine in annual tussle; double slate for NW loop

by G. A. McELROY

It is time for the "Sleigh Bells" trophy basketball game again with Arlington's Cardinals invading Palatine's small court next Wednesday night. Palatine has not had the trophy for so long they have forgotten how it is inscribed but hope to get a look at it after next week. The Cards have taken 10 out of 14 games since the Arlington Hts Dads Club put the trophy in competition and, at that, Palatine won the first two games. Since then Arlington has won 10 out of 12. Before this Palatine had beaten the Cardinals 10 straight, so over the years the percentage is about an even break.

Palatine hopes of winning are based on the fact that they have been knocking off Northwest Conference competition with a young team and now reside alone in first place in the standings. Meanwhile, Arlington Hts. has dropped four straight, though against much better competition.

The situation is a natural. Arlington will be trying to break a losing streak and retain the trophy. Palatine boys will give all they have to bring the bells back to Palatine and do something that Palatine teams for quite a while have been unable to accomplish.

COACH STUTZMAN'S five of Abrahamson, and Sievers, forwards; Blenzow, center; and Rogers and Schrage, guards; has come along fast. Dick Ross, back into action after a broken ankle in football, is filling in as the sixth man very capably.

The Pirates cannot concentrate on Arlington, however, with two crucial Northwest Conference games on the docket this week end. Antioch comes to town Friday with an 0-4 record but a good ball team capable of beating any in the circuit. All their games have been close and they have two hot shots in the Haviland twins who team up at guards.

Saturday the Pirates travel to second place Grant for one of their hardest assignments. Grant has two, six-three boys who are coming along fast in their first year of varsity play and will be a tough nut to crack. Friday Northbrook is host to Grant and one of these two second place clubs will drop from contention.

IN OTHER Friday games Barrington plays at Bensenville, and Wauconda is at Ela. Bronchos and Bulldogs are top heavy favorites. Saturday Northbrook goes to Wauconda and Bensenville to Antioch. Ela will play their Saturday game at Barrington next Wednesday in a recent schedule change.

The Bison-Ela game postponed due to bad roads last Friday will be played after the holidays.

Heights host to Leyden Friday; to travel to Niles Saturday

by BOB PADDOCK

Arlington Heights basketball Cardinals have a double week end ahead of them, with "Northeast outcasts" Leyden and Niles their opponents. The Cards play host to Leyden Friday night then travel to Niles Saturday evening.

For Heights it will still be the first varsity victory if the locals can turn the trick. Coach Gene Bell's cagers have lost to Geneva, St. Edward, Downers Grove and Crystal Lake to date.

BUT EVEN MORE difficult for the locals will be the job of snapping Leyden's four game winning streak. The Franklin Parkers have beaten the Heights five on four occasions since their first meeting the end of '48. The 35-24 Palatine tournament loss was soon followed by 49-41, 39-37 and 41-37 defeats at the hands of the visitors.

Prior to the '47-'48 season, Arlington had copped nine out of ten against Leyden, including one streak of six straight. Before that time Leyden held the upper hand in the first two years of Northeast conference play.

IN THE 21 games between the two schools since '39 ten of them have been decided by less than ten points. Arlington's 39-38 win in '43-'44 was the hardest fought contest with the two teams splitting two point decisions in 1948 and 1949.

Highest margins of victory was Leyden's 22 point lead in '40-'41, with the Cardinals 21 and 20 in 1945 being close behind. The Cardinals rate a 9-11 slate to date with the Eagles.

BUT WHATEVER the past record, the "experts" can see nothing but another victory for Leyden Friday night on the Heights court. A tripleheader between the two schools is planned with a supper hour break. The frosh meet at 4 p. m., with frosh-sophs competing at 7:15 and the varsity at 8:45. Leyden has wins over Elgin and Palatine already under their belts.

Saturday night Arlington travels to Niles in what should be another tough one. The Cardinals are definitely at a low ebb in athletics, and it will probably be the fall of 1952 before they actually regain the form of Heights teams of old.

Wednesday night Arlington takes its sleigh bells with them to Palatine, hoping to bring them home again. The contest was set for the mid-week date on the expectation schools would close Wednesday for the holidays. Arlington class schedule runs through Friday, however.

Arlington frosh whip Palatine

Arlington Heights freshmen ran all over Palatine Tuesday night, whipping the first year Pirates by 48-20 in a game more one sided than the score would indicate. Winterbauer scored 21 points for Arlington on nine baskets and three free throws and Werner scored 12 points.

Arlington boys had too much of a height advantage around the basket and easily ran up a 14-2 lead in the first six minutes. The half time count was 26-11 and when Coach Thon sent in a second team in the final quarter Arlington led 38-14. Peter Abramson scored six of Palatine's 20 points.

Scoring for Palatine: Abramson 6, McElroy 4, Meyer 4, Christensen 3, Kolze 2 and Burtzlaff 1. For Arlington: Dick Winterbauer 21, Carroll Werner 10, Roger Thomas 8, Bob Turner 6, Dick Hauff 3.

Other Arlington players competing included Bob Frisk, Grant Skelton, Dave Ryden, John Milnamow, Jack Sieburg, Dick Michalski and Bob Dotts. Next game for Arlington's frosh is at home against Leyden Friday, December 15, at 4 p. m. The squad journeys to Crystal Lake Monday for a 4 o'clock date.

SLEIGH BELLS ON THE BLOCK WEDNESDAY!

Nolan racks up 19

Nolan (No. 25) of Wauconda shoots for a basket in their game against Palatine Friday night. Although Sievers (No. 12) wasn't able to stop him, the Pirates went on to win the game 51-40. Others on the scene: Rogers (No. 77), Abrahamson (No. 33), both of Palatine.

Northbrook ends it all!

Antioch 'toughest' for Barrington during 25-game league win record

Bensenville was last team to beat Broncs

Northbrook stopped Barrington, 62-60, Friday night and ended the Broncho string of consecutive Northwest Conference victories at 25. The last Northwest defeat suffered by Barrington was to Bensenville in December 1948.

Barrington could not stop Art Landwehr, Northbrook center, who chalked up the high total for the season with 27 points. The game was fast and close all the way with neither team getting more than a four point lead at any time. Northbrook led 34-32 at the half. Barrington took a 49-47 advantage at the end of the third quarter but could not hold the advantage. Pederson scored 20 and Osinski 16 for Barrington in a losing cause. Barrington had to come from behind to win the frosh-soph game, 44-35.

TO BENSENVILLE high school, going nowhere fast in this year's race, goes the honor of being the last Northwest conference foe to trip Barrington prior to last week end. It was back in 1948, December 17 to be exact, when Coach Tom Meneguin's Bisons beat the Broncs, 57-42.

Since that time Barrington has racked up 1364 points to their opponents' 830 in 25 contests. In the center of that string is the Bronc's 14 game undefeated league card for 1949-50. The hotshots have averaged 54.56 points to their opponents' 33.20.

PALATINE, one of the two teams rated a close runner-up this season to the champs, tested Coach Harmon's five the most in the string of 25 when the Pirates held the leaders to a 34-33 decision in last spring's conference finale.

Antioch, always a trouble-maker for Barrington, also holds a "one point moral victory" when they succumb by only 49-48 in the tail end of the '48-'49 year.

Grant proved the easiest meat for Barrington in that span of 25 contests—they lost by 40, 53, 37 and 34 scores. The Sequoits of Antioch were perennially the toughest, losing by only 1, 23, 18 and 10 points, an average of 13. Bensenville's "losing average" was 15, Palatine's 16 and Northbrook's 18.

ONLY ONCE in those 25 games was Barrington ever held to less than 40 counters, while even the two-scores tempted the Broncs but seven times. Barrington scored in the 50's ten times, and ranked in the 60's on six occasions. Grant's 77-24 loss in the second game last year was high score and top winning margin in the 25 game streak.

The Northbrook Frosh-Soph team lost to Barrington by a score of 44 to 35, after giving them a good score by beating them 17 to 7 the first quarter. These Barrington Sophomores proved themselves to be masters of the game, however, as they changed their style of defense after the first quarter and played a pressing man-to-man defense all over the floor which handcuffed the Northbrook team.

Saturday night Barrington bounced back from their Northbrook upset to whip East Aurora in both games played on the Broncho's court. The varsity beat East High 54-37 with the Barrington guards, Cochran and Pederson getting 15 and 14 points respectively. Zournsein, Aurora center, scored 20 counters. Barrington's frosh-sophs had everything their own way to win 57-41.

Illinois vs DePaul, NU, Notre Dame on Stadium card

Second of the series of college doubleheaders takes place at the Chicago Stadium this Saturday night when Illinois opposes DePaul and Northwestern tackles Notre Dame.

It will be one of the tallest teams ever to represent the fighting Illini. Three sophomores are on the first five, starting with 6'8" Bob Peterson of Elgin at center. Forwards are Clive Follmer of Forrest, 6'4", and Irv Bemoras, 6'3½" of Marshall high in Chicago.

Only veterans are at the guards. Captain Don Sunderlage, a mere 6' tall, hails from Elgin and is a senior. Rod Fletcher rounds out the five at 6'4", hailing from Champaign.

Illinois has a 2-1 record to date, suffering their only defeat this past week end against Toledo. DePaul has a 3-2 slate, losing to Hank Iba's Oklahoma A&M team in two overtimes, and dropping a 72-63 decision to Bradley at the Stadium last week.

NORTHWESTERN will make one of its few appearances in the Stadium this year when they oppose Notre Dame. The two rivals always have commanded a good following, and with both undefeated thus far, though light competition, the game stands to draw well.

Notre Dame has whipped Franklin college, Anderson college, and Wisconsin, while N.U. has disposed of Western Michigan and Butler.

Elect Al Franz to head Northbrook sports club

Alex T. Franz, 116 5th st. Wilmette, was elected president of the Northbrook Sports Club for 1951 at the organization's annual election held at the Clubhouse on Pfingsten and County Line Roads, Northbrook, on Monday, December 4.

New officers are Roy F. Clavey, Deerfield, vice president; John T. Miller, Wilmette, secretary; Paul W. Hylbert, Northbrook, treasurer.

Elected to the Board of Directors are H. L. Gressens, Wilmette; Dr. C. B. Blake, Northfield; Dr. F. R. Mitchell, Winnetka; James A. Kellock, Evanston; C. R. Crawford, Oak Park; Claude R. Winterrowd, Chicago, and Donald L. Porth, Jacob Zender, Arthur Weller, Edward E. Melton and Gordon E. Laugen, all residents of Northbrook.

The club, orginated in 1947 by a few Northbrok sportsmen, now has a membership of almost 300 The group participates in activities such as bowling, golf, fishing, hunting, archery and trap shooting. Completed this Fall was the installation of an all electric trap shooting layout which is said to be the finest in the country.

The Club's last activity for 1950 will be a ten-target Turkey Shoot Sunday, December 17, to which all Chicagoland shotgun shooters are invited.

Northwest conference individual scoring

Bob Nolan of Wauconda scored 19 points Friday night to maintain a 25 point scoring lead on the field after four Northwest Conference games. Nolan had a bad shooting night with six field goals out of 26 shots and seven out of 17 free throws but still maintained a 22 point a game average with 87 points.

The big night Art Landwehr had in the upset of Barrington by the Northbrook Vikings with 27 points vaulted the big Viking star into second among league scorers with 62 points. Dan Osinski of Barrington scored 16 points and Art Smejkal of Grant 18 to stay up in third and fourth places with 59 and 50 point totals.

Ela and Bensenville scorers are a game behind the field due to the postponement of their scheduled game last Friday.

MACS SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

It finally happened. A team cannot keep on winning indefinitely. Northbrook stopped Barrington's streak 62-60 in one of the most torrid basket shooting contests ever staged in the conference. The Bronchos had won 25 games in a row in the league over two years. The last Barrington defeat previous to Friday was suffered at the hands of Bensenville in December 1948.

Barrington's teams under Coach Les Harmon have certainly established a record for the others to shoot at in the future.

Are the Bronchos home court players?

Can it be that Barrington is a home court team? One might be led to that conclusion after the tough time they had winning at Antioch and the loss at Northbrook in their only league games away from home. It now looks like the league race would be wide open with five teams having a chance. However Barrington, Palatine, and Northbrook appear to be the teams which will battle it out right down to the end of the season. One thing is certain. Barrington will be tougher to beat now that they have lost.

Grant High faces crucial week end

Grant High, in second place with a 3-1 record, has the toughest schedule this week end as the Northwest plays both Friday and Saturday nights. Grant plays at Northbrook (3-1) Friday and is home to Palatine (4-0) Saturday. It looks like two defeats for the Bulldogs if the games run true to form.

It looks to us like Palatine will beat Antioch by eight points, Northbrook will beat Grant by six, Barrington will beat Bensenville by 15, and Wauconda will take Ela by 12 points. Saturday we expect Palatine to beat Grant by five points, Northbrook to beat Wauconda by eight points, and Antioch to nose out Bensenville by two. The Ela at Barrington game will be played Wednesday, December 20, and the Bronchos will win as they please.

Pirates hope to regain Sleigh Bells trophy

Palatine has strong hopes of taking the sleigh bells trophy away from Arlington this year. The Pirates are coming along fine, playing better ball every game. Arlington has yet to win. You cannot blame Palatine fans for getting their hopes up on the question of the sleigh bells though Arlington is playing pretty fast competition and will still rate the favorite in a very close game. Palatine expects a record breaking crowd next Wednesday when the Cards come to town.

Pirates have another perfect free throw game

We have never heard of a high school team making all their free throws in a game until Palatine hit all 18 against Lake Forest in the opening game of the season. What makes it all the more of a record in the Palatine case is that the Pirates did it again. Friday they made all 13 free throws in the Wauconda game. Can any one find a case in high school, college, independent, or pro ball to equal this record of two perfect free throwing games in the first six of the season.

Sam Mascia in fourth year varsity ball at Leyden

Four years ago this coming January a lad named Rerucha was one of the top scorers of the Northeast conference for the Leyden Eagles who were in the thick of a close championship race. Rerucha fractured an ankle skating, with five games remaining to be played. Coach St. John picked a boy from the freshman team to take his place and Sam Mascia, the freshman, scored 60 points before the season was over.

Sam is this year a senior on the Leyden team and a key man in a very strong cage combination. The Eagles are playing free lance ball and recently outscored Elgin from the field but lost a close game to the Maroons on free throws. Sam Mascia quarter-backed Leyden in football to one of the best season records in the area suffering only one loss, a 7-6 decision to Blue Island. Any school is fortunate to have a boy like Sam Mascia around.

Arlington at Palatine in annual tussle; double slate for NW loop

by G. A. McELROY

It is time for the "Sleigh Bells" trophy basketball game again with Arlington's Cardinals invading Palatine's small court next Wednesday night. Palatine has not had the trophy for so long they have forgotten how it is inscribed but hope to get a look at it after next week. The Cards have taken 10 out of 14 games since the Arlington Hts Dads Club put the trophy in competition and, at that, Palatine won the first two games. Since then Arlington has won 10 out of 12. Before this Palatine had beaten the Cardinals 10 straight, so over the years the percentage is about an even break.

Palatine hopes of winning are based on the fact that they have been knocking off Northwest Conference competition with a young team and now reside alone in first place in the standings. Meanwhile, Arlington Hts. has dropped four straight, though against much better competition.

The situation is a natural. Arlington will be trying to break a losing streak and retain the trophy. Palatine boys will give all they have to bring the bells back to Palatine and do something that Palatine teams for quite a while have been unable to accomplish.

COACH STUTZMAN'S five of Abrahamson, and Sievers, forwards; Blenzow, center; and Rogers and Schrage, guards; has come along fast. Dick Ross, back into action after a broken ankle in football, is filling in as the sixth man very capably.

The Pirates cannot concentrate on Arlington, however, with two crucial Northwest Conference games on the docket this week end. Antioch comes to town Friday with an 0-4 record but a good ball team capable of beating any in the circuit. All their games have been close and they have two hot shots in the Haviland twins who team up at guards.

Saturday the Pirates travel to second place Grant for one of their hardest assignments. Grant has two, six-three boys who are coming along fast in their first year of varsity play and will be a tough nut to crack. Friday Northbrook is host to Grant and one of these two second place clubs will drop from contention.

IN OTHER Friday games Barrington plays at Bensenville, and Wauconda is at Ela. Bronchos and Bulldogs are top heavy favorites. Saturday Northbrook goes to Wauconda and Bensenville to Antioch. Ela will play their Saturday game at Barrington next Wednesday in a recent schedule change.

The Bison-Ela game postponed due to bad roads last Friday will be played after the holidays.

Heights host to Leyden Friday; to travel to Niles Saturday

by BOB PADDOCK

Arlington Heights basketball Cardinals have a double week end ahead of them, with "Northeast outcasts" Leyden and Niles their opponents. The Cards play host to Leyden Friday night then travel to Niles Saturday evening.

For Heights it will still be the first varsity victory if the locals can turn the trick. Coach Gene Bell's cagers have lost to Geneva, St. Edward, Downers Grove and Crystal Lake to date.

BUT EVEN MORE difficult for the locals will be the job of snapping Leyden's four game winning streak. The Franklin Parkers have beaten the Heights five on four occasions since their first meeting the end of '48. The 35-24 Palatine tournament loss was soon followed by 49-41, 39-37 and 41-37 defeats at the hands of the visitors.

Prior to the '47-'48 season, Arlington had copped nine out of ten against Leyden, including one streak of six straight. Before that time Leyden held the upper hand in the first two years of Northeast conference play.

IN THE 21 games between the two schools since '39 ten of them have been decided by less than ten points. Arlington's 39-38 win in '43-'44 was the hardest fought contest with the two teams splitting two point decisions in 1948 and 1949.

Highest margins of victory were Leyden's 22 point lead in '40-'41, with the Cardinals 21 and 20 in 1945 being close behind. The Cardinals rate a 9-11 slate to date with the Eagles.

BUT WHATEVER the past record, the "experts" can see nothing but another victory for Leyden Friday night on the Heights court. A tripleheader between the two schools is planned with a supper hour break. The frosh meet at 4 p. m., with frosh-sophs competing at 7:15 and the varsity at 8:45. Leyden has wins over Elgin and Palatine already under their belts.

Saturday night Arlington travels to Niles in what should be another tough one. The Cardinals are definitely at a low ebb in athletics, and it will probably be the fall of 1952 before they actually regain the form of Heights teams of old.

Wednesday night Arlington takes its sleigh bells with them to Palatine, hoping to bring them home again. The contest was set for the mid-week date on the expectation schools would close Wednesday for the holidays. Arlington class schedule runs through Friday, however.

Arlington frosh whip Palatine

Arlington Heights freshmen ran all over Palatine Tuesday night, whipping the first year Pirates by 48-20 in a game more one sided than the score would indicate. Winterbauer scored 21 points for Arlington on nine baskets and three free throws and Werner scored 12 points.

Arlington boys had too much of a height advantage around the basket and easily ran up a 14-2 lead in the first six minutes. The half time count was 26-11 and when Coach Thon sent in a second team in the final quarter Arlington led 38-14. Peter Abramson scored six of Palatine's 20 points.

Scoring for Palatine: Abramson 6, McElroy 4, Meyer 4, Christensen 3, Kolze 2 and Burtzlaff 1. For Arlington: Dick Winterbauer 21, Carroll Werner 10, Roger Thomas 8, Bob Turner 6, Dick Hauff 3.

Other Arlington players competing included Bob Frisk, Grant Skelton, Dave Ryden, John Milnamow, Jack Sieburg, Dick Michalski and Bob Dotts. Next game for Arlington's frosh is at home against Leyden Friday, December 15, at 4 p. m. The squad journeys to Crystal Lake Monday for a 4 o'clock date.

Palatine splits with Wauconda

Palatine took over undisputed first place in the Northwest Conference Friday by beating Wauconda, 51-40, while Barrington was losing 62-60. The Pirates played their best game of the season, controlling the ball with good ball handling, hitting 32% of field goal shots and making good on all 13 of their free throw attempts.

Big Bob Nolan of Wauconda kept his team mates in the game in the first half, which ended 27-22, but Palatine racked up 16 points in the third period to Wauconda's five for a commanding lead. Nolan finished the contest with 19 points but made only seven out of 16 free throws, and was not hitting up to standard from the field. Palatine had an 18 point lead when the second string was substituted in the final quarter.

RAY SIEVERS made seven field goals in 15 shots and ran up a 17 point total for Palatine. Paul Schrage scored 13 and Don Rogers nine points on drive in shots from guard positions.

Bass and Lawrence each scored 13 points to lead Wauconda to their first frosh-soph victory, 40-36, and hand Palatine a fourth straight league defeat. An 11-4 lead in the first quarter actually decided the game as Palatine never could quite catch up with their opponents. Briggs scored 12 points and Lorden 11.

Crystal Lake margin too much for Arlington

by RON PRELLBERG

A comfortable 13 point margain, 46-33, favored the Crystal Lake Tigers' cage squad at the final buzzer last Friday night when Arlington staged its fourth attempt of the 1950-51 campaign to gain a foothold in the long sought after win column.

The Cards found it tough sledding in the shooting department during the early portion of the tilt, both from the field and via the free throw line. Jay Vawter, 6'6" junior pivot man, replaced Don Larsen in the starting lineup and a promising future is predicted for Vawter, even though his unstopable hook from the pivot spot swished the net but three times.

The officials' whistle allotted the visiting Lakers a total of 19 charity tosses, of which 9 missed their mark, while they permitted the Red Birds to step to the free throw circle 14 times, leaving the Cards to hit fifty per cent of their charity tosses. Bob Evans, leading scorer to date for the locals with 48 counters, and Jack Clark, who is another top Arlington scorer, combined their abilities on offense to garner for the locals 19 tallies, while Vawter's 6 markers were third best for the Arlingtonites.

A TOUCH of defeat was felt by the Cardinals as the Lakers piled up a 7 point edge in the first segment and continued their domination in the following period when Bill Peterson and Jack Peterson collected 10 of the 14 Tiger second frame markers to double the Arlington first half showing of 12 tallies.

The Red Birds again took a back seat in the scoring department for the third straight period as the Tigers wound up this frame by executing a beautiful piece of teamwork to claim a 16 tally lead, 38-22. Jack Clark applied ability and determination throughout the duration of the third frame to send three field attempts through the hoop while Don Roderick, Laker guard, also picked the third quarter to net the majority of his 12 tally total. The local quintet came surging back through a beautiful display of passing, ball handling, and covering in the final period and outdistanced the Tigers, 11-8. But because the fighting Cards had not taken heed to the expert advice of Coach Bell until this frame, they bowed out 46-33.

COACH ORMSBEE tutored an Arlington Cardinal J-V aggregation in a one-sided struggle to a smashing 53-26 triumph favoring the red and white of Heights last Friday.

Ormsbee's frosh-soph squad set to work on the Lakers in the first quarter and left five junior reserves to add to a sparkling 15-5 margin favoring Arlington starting the second period. The local varsity reserves took full advantage of their lead and outtallied the visitors, 11-5, to give the Cards a midway edge of 26-10. Only one field toss had been notched by the Tigers up to the third quarter and as the Arlington frosh-soph again took the reins they held Crystal Lake to just 1 more field goal and 4 charity tosses while they netted 19 counters for the third period.

Wauconda whips Huntley 47-39, 39-36

Wauconda cage fives copped a doubleheader against Huntley, 47-39 and 39-36. High scoring Nolan committed four fouls the first half, then was pulled for much of the remainder of the game in favor of Gers, who played an outstanding defensive game. He also counted from the field four times, and added five of seven charities for 13 scores.

Wauconda's 12-9 first period lead was stretched to 27-17 at the half. Lawrence and Sutko led the Wauconda yearlings with ten and nine points for their three point margin. For Huntley it was Meyer with 13 for the frosh-sophs, and Hughes with 12 for the varsity.

Strawberry Bath

Among the strange bathing habits of ancient times is the custom of fastidious Romans who anointed themselves with crushed strawberries as a means of removing soil and body odor. An old English writer suggested the yolks of 100 eggs as a desireable bath for "aesthetic cleanliness."

Pirates drop two to Leyden

Palatine lost a pair of rough battles at Leyden Saturday night as the Pirates dropped a 51-44 decision to Coach George Cox and his Eagle varsity and the frosh-sophs were losers by 44-26. Leyden had 53 fouls assessed against them in the two games but Palatine's free throwing was not up to standard.

Joe Uvelli of Leyden could not be stopped by Palatine and dropped nine field goals to pace the winners. Sorenson had 13 points. Ray Sievers who scored 17 points against Wauconda the previous night tallied 16 to lead Palatine's offense. Leyden pulled away in the third period to clinch the game and both teams substituted freely in the final quarter.

Leyden used 15 boys to beat Palatine's frosh-sophs. A 26-12 lead at the half gave Leyden substituting opportunities and 11 boys scored for the eagles with Kiss scoring 13 points. Briggs and Lorden scored eight points apiece for Palatine. Free throwing was poor by both teams.

Card wrestlers lose to Lyons

Arlington's young wrestling team still showed the lack of experience in their second meet of the year at LaGrange Tuesday afternoon but extended themselves farther along this time though losing, 41-5.

Only winner for Heights was Norbert Leckband, who won his match in 1:07 of the first period. Three others who came close to winning were Bob Schulze in the heavyweight division who lost on points; Francis Lyons in the 133 pound division; and Fred Borgardt in the 112 pound group, who was winning on points until pinned in the third period.

Smejkal with 18 points leads Grant in 36-27 victory over Antioch

Led by an 18 point scoring splurge by Smejkal, Grant took their third league victory in four starts from the Antioch Sequoits Friday 36-27. Grant gained the winning margin in the opening quarter with a 13-5 lead which they never gave up and increased to 22-11 at half time. The high scoring Haviland twins of Antioch were held to 13 points between them by an alert Grant defense.

Grant's big test comes this week end when they play Northbrook (3-1) Friday and then entertain Palatine's undefeated league leaders Saturday.

Gems of thought

CHRISTMAS

We must go on thinking less about ourselves and more for one another; for so, and so only can we hope to make the world a better place and life a worthier thing. —King George VI

The basis of Christmas is the rock, Christ Jesus. The basis of Christmas is love loving its enemies, returning good for evil, love that "suffereth long, and is kind." —Mary Baker Eddy

The only thing and only one thing that can melt this human world of ours into a family which will be characterized by brotherhood and the Golden Rule and the spirit of the Good Samaritan, is the love of God. That is the meaning and message of Christmas.

—Dr. Daniel L. Marsh

There is one thing this world has not yet tried, and that is a complete surrender to Christ—a complete acceptance of its divine grace and guidance. This is the Christmas gospel that should not be viewed as merely an event that took place two thousand years ago.

—Rt. Rev. William T. Manning

The Pirates played their best game of the season, controlling the ball with good ball handling, hitting 32% of field goal shots and making good on all 13 of their free throw attempts.

Big Bob Nolan of Wauconda kept his team mates in the game in the first half, which ended 27-22, but Palatine racked up 16 points in the third period to Wauconda's five for a commanding lead. Nolan finished the contest with 19 points but made only seven out of 16 free throws, and was not hitting up to standard from the field. Palatine had an 18 point lead when the second string was substituted in the final quarter.

RAY SIEVERS made seven field goals in 15 shots and ran up a 17 point total for Palatine. Paul Schrage scored 13 and Don Rogers nine points on drive in shots from guard positions.

Bass and Lawrence each scored 13 points to lead Wauconda to their first frosh-soph victory, 40-36, and hand Palatine a fourth straight league defeat. An 11-4 lead in the first quarter actually decided the game as Palatine never could quite catch up with their opponents. Briggs scored 12 points and Lorden 11.

Crystal Lake margin too much for Arlington

by RON PRELLBERG

A comfortable 13 point margain, 46-33, favored the Crystal Lake Tigers' cage squad at the final buzzer last Friday night when Arlington staged its fourth attempt of the 1950-51 campaign to gain a foothold in the long sought after win column.

The Cards found it tough sledding in the shooting department during the early portion of the tilt, both from the field and via the free throw line. Jay Vawter, 6'6" junior pivot man, replaced Don Larsen in the starting lineup and a promising future is predicted for Vawter, even though his unstopable hook from the pivot spot swished the net but three times.

The officials' whistle allotted the visiting Lakers a total of 19 charity tosses, of which 9 missed their mark, while they permitted the Red Birds to step to the free throw circle 14 times, leaving the Cards to hit fifty per cent of their charity tosses. Bob Evans, leading scorer to date for the locals with 48 counters, and Jack Clark, who is another top Arlington scorer, combined their abilities on offense to garner for the locals 19 tallies, while Vawter's 6 markers were third best for the Arlingtonites.

A TOUCH of defeat was felt by the Cardinals as the Lakers piled up a 7 point edge in the first segment and continued their domination in the following period when Bill Peterson and Jack Peterson collected 10 of the 14 Tiger second frame markers to double the Arlington first half showing of 12 tallies.

The Red Birds again took a back seat in the scoring department for the third straight period as the Tigers wound up this frame by executing a beautiful piece of teamwork to claim a 16 tally lead, 38-22. Jack Clark applied ability and determination throughout the duration of the third frame to send three field attempts through the hoop while Don Roderick, Laker guard, also picked the third quarter to net the majority of his 12 tally total. The local quintet came surging back through a beautiful display of passing, ball handling, and covering in the final period and outdistanced the Tigers, 11-8. But because the fighting Cards had not taken heed to the expert advice of Coach Bell until this frame, they bowed out 46-33.

COACH ORMSBEE tutored an Arlington Cardinal J-V aggregation in a one-sided struggle to a smashing 53-26 triumph favoring the red and white of Heights last Friday.

Ormsbee's frosh-soph squad set to work on the Lakers in the first quarter and left five junior reserves to add to a sparkling 15-5 margin favoring Arlington starting the second period. The local varsity reserves took full advantage of their lead and outtallied the visitors, 11-5, to give the Cards a midway edge of 26-10. Only one field toss had been notched by the Tigers up to the third quarter and as the Arlington frosh-soph again took the reins they held Crystal Lake to just 1 more field goal and 4 charity tosses while they netted 19 counters for the third period.

Wauconda whips Huntley 47-39, 39-36

Wauconda cage fives copped a doubleheader against Huntley, 47-39 and 39-36. High scoring Nolan committed four fouls the first half, then was pulled for much of the remainder of the game in favor of Gers, who played an outstanding defensive game. He also counted from the field four times, and added five of seven charities for 13 scores.

Wauconda's 12-9 first period lead was stretched to 27-17 at the half. Lawrence and Sutko led the Wauconda yearlings with ten and nine points for their three point margin. For Huntley it was Meyer with 13 for the frosh-sophs, and Hughes with 12 for the varsity.

Strawberry Bath

Among the strange bathing habits of ancient times is the custom of fastidious Romans who anointed themselves with crushed strawberries as a means of removing soil and body odor. An old English writer suggested the yolks of 100 eggs as a desireable bath for "aesthetic cleanliness."

Pirates drop two to Leyden

Palatine lost a pair of rough battles at Leyden Saturday night as the Pirates dropped a 51-44 decision to Coach George Cox and his Eagle varsity and the frosh-sophs were losers by 44-26. Leyden had 53 fouls assessed against them in the two games but Palatine's free throwing was not up to standard.

Joe Uvelli of Leyden could not be stopped by Palatine and dropped nine field goals to pace the winners. Sorenson had 13 points. Ray Sievers who scored 17 points against Wauconda the previous night tallied 16 to lead Palatine's offense. Leyden pulled away in the third period to clinch the game and both teams substituted freely in the final quarter.

Leyden used 15 boys to beat Palatine's frosh-sophs. A 26-12 lead at the half gave Leyden substituting opportunities and 11 boys scored for the eagles with Kiss scoring 13 points. Briggs and Lorden scored eight points apiece for Palatine. Free throwing was poor by both teams.

Card wrestlers lose to Lyons

Arlington's young wrestling team still showed the lack of experience in their second meet of the year at LaGrange Tuesday afternoon but extended themselves farther along this time though losing, 41-5.

Only winner for Heights was Norbert Leckband, who won his match in 1:07 of the first period. Three others who came close to winning were Bob Schulze in the heavyweight division who lost on points; Francis Lyons in the 133 pound division; and Fred Borgardt in the 112 pound group, who was winning on points until pinned in the third period.

Next meet for the Arlington grapplers is at Maine Monday afternoon at 4 p. m., with a meet at Leyden following the next day, Tuesday. The latter event, originally slated for Thursday, December 21, was moved up at the request of Leyden.

Smejkal with 18 points leads Grant in 36-27 victory over Antioch

Led by an 18 point scoring splurge by Smejkal, Grant took their third league victory in four starts from the Antioch Sequoits Friday 36-27. Grant gained the winning margin in the opening quarter with a 13-5 lead which they never gave up and increased to 22-11 at half time. The high scoring Haviland twins of Antioch were held to 13 points between them by an alert Grant defense.

Grant's big test comes this week end when they play Northbrook (3-1) Friday and then entertain Palatine's undefeated league leaders Saturday.

Gems of thought

CHRISTMAS

We must go on thinking less about ourselves and more for one another; for so, and so only can we hope to make the world a better place and life a worthier thing. —King George VI

The basis of Christmas is the rock, Christ Jesus. The basis of Christmas is love loving its enemies, returning good for evil, love that "suffereth long, and is kind." —Mary Baker Eddy

The only thing and only one thing that can melt this human world of ours into a family which will be characterized by brotherhood and the Golden Rule and the spirit of the Good Samaritan, is the love of God. That is the meaning and message of Christmas.

—Dr. Daniel L. Marsh

There is one thing this world has not yet tried, and that is a complete surrender to Christ—a complete acceptance of its divine grace and guidance. This is the Christmas gospel that should not be viewed as merely an event that took place two thousand years ago.

—Rt. Rev. William T. Manning

Gala 'Scouts A Rollin' pageant at council's silver anniversary

by ARNOLD HATCH

Members of the Council annual dinner arrangements committee met at the residence of Erich Schalk, Des Plaines, December 6 to round out plans for the combined annual dinner and 25-year silver anniversary celebration.

Highlighting the spectacular program will be a brilliant pageant, "Scouts a-Rollin'" in which all scouters are asked to participate by bringing in antique uniforms (wearing them if possible), any ancient scoutcraft projects, old time scout photographs, early charters, programs, records, minutes, or what have you, that will help to put across the pageant idea aimed to show progress of scouting in N.W. Suburban Council over the past 25 years. (Elephants, ships and locomotives are barred.)

ALL PAST Council presidents, scouters and their wives are cordially invited to attend this colorful 25-year silver anniversary celebration at Rand field house, Des Plaines, Sunday afternoon, January 21. Aged scouters, the riper the better will find this Youth."

The first hour, starting at four o'clock, will be open for renewal of old acquaintances, exchanges of scout experiences or visiting, while Louis Gapinski and his string orchestra will provide a scout musical background.

At 5:30 or so, Mrs. Runde and a host of aids will serve a delicious supper of appetizing potato salad, crispy cole slaw, spicy Virginia cured baked ham, delectable angel food cake and imported coffee.

THEN THE BIG pageant and immediately after, William Kratt, Council president, will preside at the regular business meeting. This will include election of officers for 1951, the presentation of two Silver Beavers for outstanding leadership to boyhood and awarding of at least three Scouter Keys which are given for highly specialized training and application.

Tickets at $1.00 per plate will be mailed out and additional ones will be available from your troop and pack committee chairman.

Mrs. Schalk served delicious refreshments to these committee members: Eric Schalk, chairman; Stan Huntington, Einar Anderson, George Sheppard and Arnold Hatch.

CUSTOMERS' CORNER

Have you ever said "I'll just never go back there again!"?

That's the way a lot of people react when something goes wrong in the store in which they shop.

They don't complain. They just make up their minds to shop somewhere else.

But we don't want that ever to happen at A&P.

If for any reason you should ever be dissatisfied with the food or service in your A&P, please do us and our employees the favor of letting us know. Please write:

Do you know that

A&P's Low Prices On Hundreds of Items Every Day Will Help Cut Your Food Bills More Than Just a Few "Week-End Specials"?

When you can get lots of low-priced items, instead of just a handful of "specials," you can save many a penny, instead of just a few. And at A&P you can not only do that, but do it any day you choose. What's more . . . A&P's advertised prices are guaranteed for a full week from date of advertisement, even though market prices go up.

Prices shown here guaranteed Thursday, Dec. 14 through Wednesday, Dec. 20.

CUSTOMERS' CORNER

Have you ever said "I'll just never go back there again!"?

That's the way a lot of people react when something goes wrong in the store in which they shop.

They don't complain. They just make up their minds to shop somewhere else.

But we don't want that ever to happen at A&P.

If for any reason you should ever be dissatisfied with the food or service in your A&P, please do us and our employees the favor of letting us know. Please write:

A&P's PRICE POLICY

Storewide low prices on hundreds of items every day . . . instead of just a few "one-day" or "week-end specials."

Advertised prices are guaranteed for one week, even though market prices go up.

We believe this policy helps our customers save more money.

With the correct price marked on every item, plus an itemized cash register slip . . . you know what you save at A&P.

Elk Grove Community

Mrs. Schultz, the music teacher, is at St. Francis hospital in Evanston and will return to school after Christmas vacation.

Because of the diligent work Mrs. Schultz has done to prepare the students, the Christmas program will still be given Tuesday, December 19, at 7:30 p. m.

Appreciation is extended to Mr. Murphy, principal, and Mr. Phillipe, conductor of the band, for the excellent band concert which was made possible by them.

Last week it was erroneously stated that the telephone number of the Elk Grove school was Bensenville 53-R-1, but the number is Bensenville 35-R-1. If you wish to renew or subscribe to any of the Paddock Publications newspapers, call the above number.

The Mothers club enjoyed the program which featured the Madrigal singers. The eighth graders served refreshments.

Mrs. Sulzbach of 1320 Henry ave., Des Plaines, returned to her home from St. Francis hospital. After Christmas vacation, she will return to teaching.

The fifth through seventh graders are concentrating extra hard on spelling these days for they are entering the Daily News spelling contest. A student will be selected during an assembly to represent the school in this contest. January 3 at the South school a student from each school in this district will compete. The winner along with other winners from the various districts will appear on television for the final spelling bee.

The school has an air of festivity these days. Along with the usual tradition of snow, the windows are decorated with Christmas scenes and messages.

A Christmas tree will enhance each class room along with two trees in the auditorium.

December 14 is the date set for the fifth to eighth graders to gather their skates for the roller skating party from 6 to 10 p. m.

Books for Xmas giving are personal, enduring

Christmas has reached a state of commercialization that is really appalling when you stop to think about it. Instead of Christmas letters full of our own particular greetings, great numbers of us order Christmas cards with our names printed on them for a hundred or so of our friends. We often spend more than we can afford for knick-knacks which express no part of ourselves. The personal Christmas is thus lost and a great deal of its beauty with it.

Yet there is one gift that a person can give his friend which expresses all that the Christmas season means. I am speaking of a book—a gift which, if picked carefully with the receiver in mind, can be a compliment to both donor and receiver. With a book you can open new vistas—give a point of view, provocative ideas and fresh adventures.

The act of choosing a book for another is a personal act, like choosing a topic for conversation. The one you choose for will ask himself why you gave this book and the answer may either delight or disgust him. He may admire your discrimination or pity you for not realizing his tastes and preferences.

When you give a book, you give an enduring gift. If your friend admires it, it will become a part of his home. In the evening when his time is his own, he may often take it down from its shelf to browse through, and he will remember you, and think of you kindly.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

The other day I overheard a conversation which both shocked and enlightened me.

"You know, Joe," a man said to his companion, "I used to chum with Tom quite a bit, but the time has come when he and I must part. He is likable, and I hate to cut him out—but the fact is, with my present position in the company, I can't afford to keep his acquaintance. If I am going to climb, I must keep only those friends who can do me some good!

That was all I heard, but it was enough to tell me that the speaker was a selfish conceited, foolish man.

No job in the world, or wealth in the world, is worth exchanging for the love of a good friend. It is better to remain poor than to become wealthy by using your friends as stepping stones, and casting them aside when they have served their purpose.

If I were an employer, I would never hire a man who would not be true to his friends, whatever their station in life, providing it is an honorable one. I would figure that a man who could not be loyal to a friend would not be loyal to me.

There is nothing wrong with holding on to a friend, no matter how high your station in life or how low his may be. There is something fine and noble in helping out a friend who can never repay you—giving of yourself, your time and money to see that he gets a good break when he needs it.

One of my best friends is an old rags and iron man who was once a fruit peddler. Not long ago he was going through our alley, and he yelled at me in his rich Italian brogue:

"Hi, Missa Truk!"

And I hi'd him right back, to the evident annoyance of a gentleman with whom I happened to be talking at the time.

I wouldn't trade Sam's friendship for a dozen like the conceited gentleman with me at the time. No, not for a better job with more pay, either. Because Sam is a real friend. He made me feel warm inside, and reminded me of an earlier day when he used to bring over bunches of bananas, grapes and oranges for our table, and I used to help him figure out his income tax. Few things are worth as much to me as the warmth of his admiration for me and his faith and loyalty. Sam doesn't measure me in dollars and cents, nor in goodness or badness. He takes me just as I am—and loves me. That's what counts!

Fir Lumber Prospects

Out of over 26 million acres available for commercial forest use in the Douglas fir region of Oregon and Washington, 17½ million acres are capable of producing timber crops now, another three million acres can contribute to the cut within 20 years, and 5½ million acres can be expected to be productive in 30 to 40 years.

Mrs. Schultz, the music teacher, is at St. Francis hospital in Evanston and will return to school after Christmas vacation.

Because of the diligent work Mrs. Schultz has done to prepare the students, the Christmas program will still be given Tuesday, December 19, at 7:30 p. m.

Appreciation is extended to Mr. Murphy, principal, and Mr. Phillipe, conductor of the band, for the excellent band concert which was made possible by them.

Last week it was erroneously stated that the telephone number of the Elk Grove school was Bensenville 53-R-1, but the number is Bensenville 35-R-1. If you wish to renew or subscribe to any of the Paddock Publications newspapers, call the above number.

The Mothers club enjoyed the program which featured the Madrigal singers. The eighth graders served refreshments.

Mrs. Sulzbach of 1320 Henry ave., Des Plaines, returned to her home from St. Francis hospital. After Christmas vacation, she will return to teaching.

The fifth through seventh graders are concentrating extra hard on spelling these days for they are entering the Daily News spelling contest. A student will be selected during an assembly to represent the school in this contest. January 3 at the South school a student from each school in this district will compete. The winner along with other winners from the various districts will appear on television for the final spelling bee.

The school has an air of festivity these days. Along with the usual tradition of snow, the windows are decorated with Christmas scenes and messages.

A Christmas tree will enhance each class room along with two trees in the auditorium.

December 14 is the date set for the fifth to eighth graders to gather their skates for the roller skating party from 6 to 10 p. m.

Books for Xmas giving are personal, enduring

Christmas has reached a state of commercialization that is really appalling when you stop to think about it. Instead of Christmas letters full of our own particular greetings, great numbers of us order Christmas cards with our names printed on them for a hundred or so of our friends. We often spend more than we can afford for knick-knacks which express no part of ourselves. The personal Christmas is thus lost and a great deal of its beauty with it.

Yet there is one gift that a person can give his friend which expresses all that the Christmas season means. I am speaking of a book—a gift which, if picked carefully with the receiver in mind, can be a compliment to both donor and receiver. With a book you can open new vistas—give a point of view, provocative ideas and fresh adventures.

The act of choosing a book for another is a personal act, like choosing a topic for conversation. The one you choose for will ask himself why you gave this book and the answer may either delight or disgust him. He may admire your discrimination or pity you for not realizing his tastes and preferences.

When you give a book, you give an enduring gift. If your friend admires it, it will become a part of his home. In the evening when his time is his own, he may often take it down from its shelf to browse through, and he will remember you, and think of you kindly.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

The other day I overheard a conversation which both shocked and enlightened me.

"You know, Joe," a man said to his companion, "I used to chum with Tom quite a bit, but the time has come when he and I must part. He is likable, and I hate to cut him out—but the fact is, with my present position in the company, I can't afford to keep his acquaintance. If I am going to climb, I must keep only those friends who can do me some good!

That was all I heard, but it was enough to tell me that the speaker was a selfish conceited, foolish man.

No job in the world, or wealth in the world, is worth exchanging for the love of a good friend. It is better to remain poor than to become wealthy by using your friends as stepping stones, and casting them aside when they have served their purpose.

If I were an employer, I would never hire a man who would not be true to his friends, whatever their station in life, providing it is an honorable one. I would figure that a man who could not be loyal to a friend would not be loyal to me.

There is nothing wrong with holding on to a friend, no matter how high your station in life, or how low his may be. There is something fine and noble in helping out a friend who can never repay you—giving of yourself, your time and money to see that he gets a good break when he needs it.

One of my best friends is an old rags and iron man who was once a fruit peddler. Not long ago he was going through our alley, and he yelled at me in his rich Italian brogue:

"Hi, Missa Truk!"

And I hi'd him right back, to the evident annoyance of a gentleman with whom I happened to be talking at the time.

I wouldn't trade Sam's friendship for a dozen like the conceited gentleman with me at the time. No, not for a better job with more pay, either. Because Sam is a real friend. He made me feel warm inside, and reminded me of an earlier day when he used to bring over bunches of bananas, grapes and oranges for our table, and I used to help him figure out his income tax. Few things are worth as much to me as the warmth of his admiration for me and his faith and loyalty. Sam doesn't measure me in dollars and cents, nor in goodness or badness. He takes me just as I am—and loves me. That's what counts!

Fir Lumber Prospects

Out of over 26 million acres available for commercial forest use in the Douglas fir region of Oregon and Washington, 17½ million acres are capable of producing timber crops now, another three million acres can contribute to the cut within 20 years, and 5½ million acres can be expected to be productive in 30 to 40 years.

Cigaret dealers cannot escape 3c tax regardless where purchased

Federal Judge John T. Barnes in Chicago district court Monday upheld the constitutionality of the Jenkins act, passed by Congress a year ago and requiring cigaret distributors to furnish copies of their invoices to consumers in other states than their own to the tax administrators in those states.

Judge Barnes dismissed a suit brought by the Edward Sales company, of Hammond, which had sought to enjoin enforcement of the law. The judge's ruling, however, will not prevent Illinois smokers from buying cigarets from out-of-state dealers because in Illinois the law applies only to dealers who buy out-of-state to evade state taxes.

The Illinois state supreme court has ruled that individual consumers or even pools of smokers buying through a single consumer do not have to pay the distributor tax of 3 cents a package. On the other hand Indiana has a use tax which consumers are just as liable for as dealers.

Illinois Finance Director Ernest C. Marohn said that the state lost $2 million last year because some smokers buy their cigarets from dealers in other states. The state did receive $28,406,749 on cigarets sold in Illinois by Illinois firms. Marohn said the only remedy for the present money-losing situation is legislation.

Plenty of accidents after dark at Christmastime

Unless the motorists of Chicago and Cook County are extra careful, the three-day holiday at Christmas may bring about a serious rise in traffic fatalities according to the Chicago Motor Club.

Christmas, 1949, was on Sunday. In the two days, December 24 and 25, which families had for traveling about, Cook County marked up 11 traffic fatalities. This year Christmas is on Monday and thousands of motorists will avail themselves of the three day vacation for quick home town visits and for social calls within the city. Thus the accident rate this Christmastime will soar even higher—unless precautions are taken.

Statistics reveal that during the period December 24-26 last year, 82 per cent of the traffic fatalities in the state occurred in hours of darkness. The motor club uses these figures to point up the extreme need for cautious driving at this period of the year when daylight is at its briefest. Many families will delay their start for home till the last moment, then make the entire trip in the darkness, meanwhile competing with the stiffest odds against safety.

Arlington language students attend 'Spanish Day'

Members of the advanced Spanish class of Arlington Hts. township high school enjoyed a "Spanish Day" in Chicago December 8. The group making the trip consisted of Dianne Ashe, Charles Anderson, Marjorie Bierwirth, Nancy Gallagher, Judy Gassen, Pat Greschner, Donna Mills, Pat Watkins, and their instructor, C. J. Gallant.

The group first visited an exhibit of Latin-American wares at the American Airlines. Next, they attended a meeting of the Latin-American Council, which is an organization composed of businessmen interested in Spanish-American countries, teachers of foreign language, and native Latin-Americans.

Professor Silva-Fuenzalida of the University of Chile, lectured in Spanish on the topic "The Spanish Language as Spoken in Chile Today." Colored slides were shown by Dr. Antonio Rubio who is the program-chairman of the council. The slides portrayed the western coast countries of South America.

At five o'clock the group visited the Fine Arts Building to witness an exhibition of classical Spanish dancing by professional dancers from the studio of Jose Alvarez. Following this, the group attended a Mexican musicale in technicolor, "Mariachis," at Thorne Hall at the downtown campus of Northwestern university. The film portrayed a fair at a typical Mexican village and featured brilliant coloring of Mexican costumes and landscapes with musical scores of many well-loved Mexican folksongs.

Are you acquainted with "Christmas," and American annual of Christmas literature and art? It is edited by Randolph E. Haugan and put out each year by the Augsburg Publishing House of Minneapolis. We have a collection of these annuals, dating back over several years, and they may be checked out if desired. They are all lovely and inspiring books, and the material covered is different in each one.

The Gospels and stories are beautifully illustrated in color, and there are several full page pictures, both photographs and paintings. Also included are poems, music with both score and words, and many interesting articles.

One of these is entitled "Make His Praise Glorious," in which much is told about the history, development, and construction of the pipe organ. There is one on American choral music, another on Handel's Messiah, and one about Johann S. Bach and his contribution to Christmas music.

European customs and legends, Christmas at Bethlehem, and Christmas in New England are subjects full of appeal. The legend and history of the Christmas tree, and the Poinsettia plant as a Christmas symbol are also of interest.

An evening spent with one of these books may bring the true spirit of Christmas to your home.

Girl's club to hold Christmas pot luck dinner Monday

The Girls' Club of Arlington Heights township high school will hold its annual Christmas potluck dinner in the high school cafeteria December 18, from 5:30 until 8 o'clock.

All of the girls in the high school are invited to attend, and it is expected that about 300 girls will be in attendance. A short entertainment will follow the dinner and will be culminated by a visit from St. Nicholas.

Officers in charge of the affair are Barbara La Mar, president; Barbara Roberts, vice-president; Sue Dress, secretary; Carrie Kadoyama, treasurer; and Darlene Tang, freshman representative.

U.S. Rice Crop

America's rice crop has grown steadily throughout the past decade of Asian rice shortages. The 1949 harvest of almost 90,000,000 bushels was grown in nearly equal fourths in Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, and California. Cuba is normally the No. 1 customer for the U. S. crop, which exceeds domestic demand.

Trolley Coaches

Trolley coaches are increasing as means of public transit while streetcars are disappearing. There were only 16,000 streetcars in use in 1949, a decrease of 41 per cent since 1944. In the same time, there was a 68 per cent increase in the number of trolley coaches.

New Canadian Nickel

Next year Canada will pay tribute to Cronstedt, the Swedish scientist who discovered nickel in 1751, with the minting of a commemorative five-cent piece. The coin will mark the 200th anniversary of the isolation and naming of nickel.

Cottey college to be represented at AHTHS on college night

Cottey College will be represented in Arlington Heights on College Night at AHTHS Thursday, December 14, from 7:30-9:30 by Miss Jean Meyer and Mrs. Nicholas M. Lattof.

Cottey College is a small, liberal arts, junior college for women located in Nevada, Mo., approximately 100 miles south of Kansas City. The college is owned and endowed by the P.E.O. Sisterhood, of which Chapters ER and FW are in Arlington Heights.

The college is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and by the University of Missouri. Students transfer after graduation from Cottey to colleges and universities all over the United States.

Girls live in suites of ten with bedrooms opening from a central living room. Also included in the suite is a utility room for laundry and for preparing snacks and suite feeds. Bathroom facilities for these ten girls complete the suite.

The social program is completed with dances, Sunday afternoon coffee hours, formal and special dinners, intramural sports, and many others. There are no sororities as such, but each girl belongs either to the Magnoperian or Emerson social society.

Freshmen elect officers

The freshman class of Arlington Heights township high school elected the following officers December 7: president, Richard Winterbauer; vice-president, Carroll Werner; treasurer, Judy Schroeder; and secretary, Marlene Brown.

The election was conducted in accordance with formal election procedures with the east corridor designated as the polling place with election hours from eight until two.

In National Guard one year, earns 2nd Lt. commission

Lt. Col. Floyd T. Fulle, 3rd Battalion Commander, 228th Infantry Regiment, Illinois National Guard, announced the promotion to 2nd Lt. of Sgt. Richard E. Willer, Company M, 228th Infantry Regiment, Arlington Hts.

Col. Fulle stated that it was probably the only record in existence of being commissioned one year to the day of his enlistment. Willer enlisted Nov. 22, 1949, and was commissioned November 22, 1950.

AFTER HIS enlistment he applied for correspondence work from the Infantry School, Ft. Benning, Ga. After completing the required course he has the necessary requirements to win the commission. His new assignment as an officer is Platoon Leader, Headquarters Company, Palatine.

Lt. Willer spent his boyhood in Des Plaines, attending schools there and graduating from Maine Township high school. He enlisted in the Navy in 1943 and after his discharge in 1946 he attended Northwestern university and graduated in 1948. Presently Lt. and Mrs. Willer are living at Tower Lakes, Barrington. Mrs. Willer was the former Patrica Moore of Des Plaines.

The National Guard offers many advantages to men such as winning a commission. Veterans can apply and win a commission in the Illinois National Guard. Veterans who were discharged in the first three pay groups can win a commission without taking the correspondence work. This is one of the many advantages offered Guardsmen, stated Lt. Col. Floyd T. Fulle. To get more details see your local Guard unit.

Student council meets

Charles Anderson, Gayle Rascher, Chris Kent, Donna Mills, and Joan Peterson of the Student Senate of Arlington Heights township high school were delegates to the West Suburban Association of Student Councils meeting December 11 at 2:30 at York Community high school in Elmhurst.

The following discussion groups were attended: Student Body Citizenship, Student-Teacher Relationships, Student Council Projects and Pep Assemblies, Student Council Organization, Inter-Conference Problems. They were accompanied by their adviser, H. L. Slichenmyer, administrative assistant at the high school.

Big Increase

There are now more than 600 life insurance companies in the United States, more than seven times the number in 1900. Over half of the companies are located west of the Mississippi.

The National Guard offers many advantages to men such as winning a commission. Veterans can apply and win a commission in the Illinois National Guard. Veterans who were discharged in the first three pay groups can win a commission without taking the correspondence work. This is one of the many advantages offered Guardsmen, stated Lt. Col. Floyd T. Fulle. To get more details see your local Guard unit.

IN MEMORIAM

MOTHER: We all know the significance of the word. Not all of us in the same person, but the same glory frames each separate face.

The days will melt into years, the years will bring many changes. As time hurries on old friends will scatter, new ones will take their places. The memory of only one will remain true through all years — and that one is Mother. There is a vacancy in our hearts and home that no one else can fill. God can give us but one Mother.

IN MEMORIAM

MOTHER: We all know the significance of the word. Not all of us in the same person, but the same glory frames each separate face.

The days will melt into years, the years will bring many changes. As time hurries on old friends will scatter, new ones will take their places. The memory of only one will remain true through all years — and that one is Mother. There is a vacancy in our hearts and home that no one else can fill. God can give us but one Mother.

Dead Eye for Dust

If you think counting grains of sand at the seashore is impossible, consider a new instrument that counts invisible particles in the air a million billion times smaller than a grain of sand. The "nuclei counter" can spot particles less than a millionth of an inch in diameter. And by comparison, a grain of sand weighs roughly one million billion times more.

U.S. Forest Service

During the fire season—normally from the first of June through mid-September—the 1,500 full-time field workers of the U.S. forest service are reinforced by some 5,000 seasonal employees which the forest service hires and trains each summer. These seasonal recruits serve along-side the regulars as lookouts, smoke-jumpers, or smoke-eaters.

Essay contest for Chicago outdoors show

A statewide essay contest for Illinois high school boys and girls on the need for conserving our natural resources, will be one of the features of the Chicago Outdoors Show which will be presented at Navy Pier, February 16 through 25, it was announced today by officials of the exposition.

The contest opened November 27. Final deadline for essays is January 15, 1951.

Boys and girls in their sophomore or junior year in public, parochial or private schools are eligible to compete. All they have to do is write a 200 word compostion on "Why Conservation of Our Natural Resources is Necessary."

Essays are to be sent to the Conservation Essay Committee, 2111 North Western Avenue, Chicago 47, Illinois. A jury of leading outdoorsmen and conservationists will judge the essays and select the winners. The essays will be judged on the basis of merit, sincerity and composition.

Wilson School Community News

Many persons attended the bazaar last Saturday night, in spite of the bad weather. The chairman of the bazaar, Mrs. Robert Huebner, and her committee, are to be commended for their efforts in this project.

The Charles Berrys were among those attending the bazaar, and had parked their car on the shoulder of the road in front of the school. When they were ready to leave, they discovered that someone had smashed into their car and damaged the left rear door. Mr. Berry would appreciate it if the person responsible for this accident would contact him immediately. His phone number is Arlington Heights 1921-J.

The Ladies of Arlington Knolls held their Christmas party December 6 at the home of Mrs. V. Gamble. There was a grab bag, and a number of games were played. They are planning another party for the children of Arlington Knolls, to be held at the home of Mrs. L. Kowalski at 3:30 p.m., December 17.

The children of the Wilson school will have school all day Thursday, December 21 in order to prepare for the Christmas program. In the afternoon the teachers will give a party for their pupils. December 22 all grades will have school from 9 a.m. until noon, and then be dismissed for the day. The annual Christmas party will be held in the schoolhouse Friday evening, December 22 at 8 o'clock. A splendid program has been planned, and Santa Claus will be there. Following the program, Christmas cookies and coffee will be served. The neighborhood is invited to attend. This party is being sponsored by the PTA and Community club.

Film selection delays start of Phonevision

The 90-day limited commercial test of Phonevision, Zenith Radio Corporation's system of home box office television," will be delayed several days in starting pending final selection of the feature motion pictures to be used, according to an announcement by Ted Leitzell of Zenith.

"Technical preparations for the test have been in readiness for three months," said Leitzell, "and commencement of the actual trial will shortly be made possible by decision of several of the film producing companies to provide feature motion pictures for the experiment. From the lists of films now being made available for the Phonevision test, it will be possible to select a true cross-section of features of all types so as to make the ninety films to be used in the test truly representative of the motion picture industry's feature production. Zenith representatives are now in New York, working with the several cooperating film companies in final selection of the films to be used."

The Chicago test of Phonevision has been authorized by the Federal Communications Commission for the purpose of gathering data on whether people desire—and to what extent they will patronize—a home box-office method of presenting premium programs on television, and whether Phonevision as such a system is in the public interest. The 300 test families will be offered a new feature program every day by Phonevision and will be charged one dollar for each program they decide to see in their homes.

Any television receiver in the Chicago area tuned to Channel 2 will be able to receive the Phonevision broadcasts of the pictures, but in a manner so jumbled as to be unintelligible. Only those television receivers equipped with Phonevision decoders, which are in the 300 test homes, will be able to receive the corrected picture, and only after the Phonevision set user has called the transmitting station and asked to have the key signal sent to his set over the telephone connection.

HOBBIES — Yours and Mine

BY BETTY AINSLIE

Santa is really out on the roof of a cute little Colonial house in the window of The Hobby Workshop in Palatine. But this house isn't just the ordinary run of doll houses, no siree. Every piece was made by hand and that includes the clever furniture and decorations inside.

Mrs. B. L. Ambos of 135 W. Johnson, and Mrs. Paul Wannagat of 33 N. Plum Grove ave., in Palatine were the ones who told Dorothy Wearing, owner of the Hobby Shop, about this doll house and furniture which their uncle had made for his granddaughter. Dorothy was fascinated by the intricate workmanship on the house and furniture, and decided to use it as a Christmas setting for her store window.

Seems Henry Ambos, who lives at 2040 N. Kildare in Chicago started seven years ago to make a furnished doll house for his granddaughter—and believe me it is an attractive house with two large bays and broad windows.

Mr. Ambos drew a picture of the place he wanted to build and from the rough sketch made the house to scale. Mr. Ambos was a railroad man, clerking with the Penn. Railroad, but developed heart trouble and was forced to retire. When he made a small rocker so perfect in detail with the use of only one tool, a scroll saw the detail work and cutting out is all done by hand.

Yes, this is truly a beautiful doll house and Mr. Ambos a remarkable gentleman to discover an interesting hobby which he hopes will become a profitable business to fill a few of those daily long hours.

Now I've seen lots of doll houses, but this one is surely different and well worth a trip to the Hobby Workshop to see. The house in its snowy setting of ice and snow with Santa and his sleigh on the roof is very attractive.

When you get a "child's eye view" on the colonial furnishings you'll agree the house is truly cozy.

"I made the furniture from white pine at first," declared the smiling Mr. Ambos. "But now I use only walnut or mahogany. Did you happen to notice," he questioned, "one rocker is a reproduction of the Dolly Varden rocker?"

All the pieces are upholstered or have cane backs and seats. Every one is perfect in detail, truly attractive pieces for collectors of miniature furniture. Mr. Ambos will reproduce any of the furniture in the house and Mrs. Wearing has the prices which are, very reasonable by the way, for such beautiful hand work.

"My wife saw a rocker she wanted down at Field's," chuckled Mr. Ambos. "I went and took a look at it and made her one just like it— the only trouble," he grinned, "was she couldn't sit in it—I made a miniature one."

The doll house has a tiny brass door knob on the front door—and extension table with a spare leaf and corner cupboards in the dining room, miniature scales in the bathroom—hanging salt box in the kitchen, fireplace and tier table in the living room—twin four poster beds in one bedroom and a miniature rocking cradle in another bedroom.

Mr. Ambos makes all these

This and That

Dead Eye for Dust

If you think counting grains of sand at the seashore is impossible, consider a new instrument that counts invisible particles in the air a million billion times smaller than a grain of sand. The "nuclei counter" can spot particles less than a millionth of an inch in diameter. And by comparison, a grain of sand weighs roughly one million billion times more.

U.S. Forest Service

During the fire season—normally from the first of June through mid-September—the 1,500 full-time field workers of the U.S. forest service are reinforced by some 5,000 seasonal employees which the forest service hires and trains each summer. These seasonal recruits serve along-side the regulars as lookouts, smoke-jumpers, or smoke-eaters.

Essay contest for Chicago outdoors show

A statewide essay contest for Illinois high school boys and girls on the need for conserving our natural resources, will be one of the features of the Chicago Outdoors Show which will be presented at Navy Pier, February 16 through 25, it was announced today by officials of the exposition.

The contest opened November 27. Final deadline for essays is January 15, 1951.

Boys and girls in their sophomore or junior year in public, parochial or private schools are eligible to compete. All they have to do is write a 200 word compostion on "Why Conservation of Our Natural Resources is Necessary."

Essays are to be sent to the Conservation Essay Committee, 2111 North Western Avenue, Chicago 47, Illinois. A jury of leading outdoorsmen and conservationists will judge the essays and select the winners. The essays will be judged on the basis of merit, sincerity and composition.

Steel Ingots

Virtually 90 per cent of the wartime steel ingot output came from the plants and furnaces which the industry had prior to the war.

Film selection delays start of Phonevision

The 90-day limited commercial test of Phonevision, Zenith Radio Corporation's system of home box office television," will be delayed several days in starting pending final selection of the feature motion pictures to be used, according to an announcement by Ted Leitzell of Zenith.

"Technical preparations for the test have been in readiness for three months," said Leitzell, "and commencement of the actual trial will shortly be made possible by decision of several of the film producing companies to provide feature motion pictures for the experiment. From the lists of films now being made available for the Phonevision test, it will be possible to select a true cross-section of features of all types so as to make the ninety films to be used in the test truly representative of the motion picture industry's feature production. Zenith representatives are now in New York, working with the several cooperating film companies in final selection of the films to be used."

The Chicago test of Phonevision has been authorized by the Federal Communications Commission for the purpose of gathering data on whether people desire—and to what extent they will patronize—a home box-office method of presenting premium programs on television, and whether Phonevision as such a system is in the public interest. The 300 test families will be offered a new feature program every day by Phonevision and will be charged one dollar for each program they decide to see in their homes.

Any television receiver in the Chicago area tuned to Channel 2 will be able to receive the Phonevision broadcasts of the pictures, but in a manner so jumbled as to be unintelligible. Only those television receivers equipped with Phonevision decoders, which are in the 300 test homes, will be able to receive the corrected picture, and only after the Phonevision set user has called the transmitting station and asked to have the key signal sent to his set over the telephone connection.

HOBBIES Yours and Mine

BY BETTY AINSLIE

Santa is really out on the roof of a cute little Colonial house in the window of The Hobby Workshop in Palatine. But this house isn't just the ordinary run of doll houses, no siree. Every piece was made by hand and that includes the clever furniture and decorations inside.

Mrs. B. L. Ambos of 135 W. Johnson, and Mrs. Paul Wannagat of 33 N. Plum Grove ave., in Palatine were the ones who told Dorothy Wearing, owner of the Hobby Shop, about this doll house and furniture which their uncle had made for his granddaughter. Dorothy was fascinated by the intricate workmanship on the house and furniture, and decided to use it as a Christmas setting for her store window.

Seems Henry Ambos, who lives at 2040 N. Kildare in Chicago started seven years ago to make a furnished doll house for his granddaughter—and believe me it is an attractive house with two large bays and broad windows.

Mr. Ambos drew a picture of the place he wanted to build and from the rough sketch made the house to scale. Mr. Ambos was a railroad man, clerking with the Penn. Railroad, but developed heart trouble and was forced to retire. When he made a small rocker so perfect in detail with the use of only one tool, a scroll saw the detail work and cutting out is all done by hand.

Yes, this is truly a beautiful doll house and Mr. Ambos a remarkable gentleman to discover an interesting hobby which he hopes will become a profitable business to fill a few of those daily long hours.

Now I've seen lots of doll houses, but this one is surely different and well worth a trip to the Hobby Workshop to see. The house in its snowy setting of ice and snow with Santa and his sleigh on the roof is very attractive.

When you get a "child's eye view" on the colonial furnishings you'll agree the house is truly cozy.

"I made the furniture from white pine at first," declared the smiling Mr. Ambos. "But now I use only walnut or mahogany. Did you happen to notice," he questioned, "one rocker is a reproduction of the Dolly Varden rocker?"

All the pieces are upholstered or have cane backs and seats. Every one is perfect in detail, truly attractive pieces for collectors of miniature furniture. Mr. Ambos will reproduce any of the furniture in the house and Mrs. Wearing has the prices which are, very reasonable by the way, for such beautiful hand work.

"My wife saw a rocker she wanted down at Field's," chuckled Mr. Ambos. "I went and took a look at it and made her one just like it— the only trouble," he grinned, "was she couldn't sit in it—I made a miniature one."

The doll house has a tiny brass door knob on the front door—and extension table with a spare leaf and corner cupboards in the dining room, miniature scales in the bathroom—hanging salt box in the kitchen, fireplace and tier table in the living room—twin four poster beds in one bedroom and a miniature rocking cradle in another bedroom.

Mr. Ambos makes all these

Wilson School Community News

Many persons attended the bazaar last Saturday night, in spite of the bad weather. The chairman of the bazaar, Mrs. Robert Huebner, and her committee, are to be commended for their efforts in this project.

The Charles Berrys were among those attending the bazaar, and had parked their car on the shoulder of the road in front of the school. When they were ready to leave, they discovered that someone had smashed into their car and damaged the left rear door. Mr. Berry would appreciate it if the person responsible for this accident would contact him immediately. His phone number is Arlington Heights 1921-J.

The Ladies of Arlington Knolls held their Christmas party December 6 at the home of Mrs. V. Gamble. There was a grab bag, and a number of games were played. They are planning another party for the children of Arlington Knolls, to be held at the home of Mrs. L. Kowalski at 3:30 p.m., December 17.

The children of the Wilson school will have school all day Thursday, December 21 in order to prepare for the Christmas program. In the afternoon the teachers will give a party for their pupils. December 22 all grades will have school from 9 a.m. until noon, and then be dismissed for the day. The annual Christmas party will be held in the schoolhouse Friday evening, December 22 at 8 o'clock. A splendid program has been planned, and Santa Claus will be there. Following the program, Christmas cookies and coffee will be served. The neighborhood is invited to attend. This party is being sponsored by the PTA and Community club.

Accepts captured Jap guns from group

Major James S. Hightower, Executive Officer of the Marine Air Detachment, N.A.S. Glenview, representing the Marine Corps, presented captured Japanese weapons to the Northwest Suburban Detachment, Marine Corps League at the November regular meeting. This equipment which was captured by the Marines in the Marshall Islands during World War II, consisted of a 6.6 mm. Arasacka rifle, a 7.7 mm. Arsillax rifle, a Japanese helmet and a 7.7 mm. Nambu Machine gun. The Nambu Machine gun bears the scars of two bullets from Marine guns that put it out of action.

Accepting the weapons in behalf of the Northwest Suburban Detachment, Commandant William R. Roth said, that the weapons would be placed in the Trophy Room of the Detachment's Club house, which is now in the planning stage. The Detachment now meets in the Park Ridge Veterans club, 1813 Touhy Ave., Park Ridge, on the third Thursday of each month and all Marines, former Marines and Navy personnel who were on the Marine payroll for a period of 90 consecutive days are eligible for membership.

Eagles and buzzards

Until the Bald Eagle was adopted as our national emblem of freedom by the Second Continental Congress in 1782, an eagle had been the emblem of conquerors. It was engraved on tablets and seals of kings who ruled more than 6000 years ago. It was regarded with reverence by the ancient Greeks and later by the Romans who made it the emblem of their republic and, later, of the Roman empire. As a silver bird on a tall standard it was carried at the head of every legion in their armies.

All birds of prey have the most highly developed organs of vision in the world. In most kinds the eyes are so large that the two eyeballs occupy more space in the skull than does the brain, and are equipped with many special muscles so that the eye can be instantly transformed from a telescope to a microscope. There is a record of a bald eagle, soaring at great height over a big lake, diving diagonally downward to pick up a floating fish three miles away.

Ingeborg Neinhold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur K. Neinhold, 220 S. Louis, Mt. Prospect, was elected guard of the Alpha Gamma Delta social sorority at a meeting held recently at the chapter house.

At Ft. Benning

2nd Lt. Kirkwood Gillespie, son of Mrs. F. H. Rascher, 311 N. State rd., Arlington Heights, has graduated from the associate company officers' course at the Infantry School, it was announced by Maj. Gen. Withers A. Burress, commandant.

The course is designed to produce company grade officers well grounded in the fundamentals and technique of all infantry units. Special emphasis is devoted to developing capable company commanders.

All infantry graduates of Officer Candidate School attend this course after they are commissioned.

It is but one of thirteen courses open to officers and enlisted men of the regular army, Organized Reserve and National Guard. Courses range from training regimental commanders and division general staff officers to training recruits to be parachutists.

At Great Lakes

Arnold L. Busse, seaman recruit, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Busse of 304 E. Evergreen, Mt. Prospect, is undergoing recruit training at the world's largest Naval Training Center, Great Lakes.

At Iowa State

Max Deethardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Deethardt, 702 S. Glenhurst, Mt. Prospect, sang in the 500-voice chorus which presented selections from Handel's "Messiah" Sunday on the Iowa State College campus, Ames, Ia.

Eagles and buzzards

Until the Bald Eagle was adopted as our national emblem of freedom by the Second Continental Congress in 1782, an eagle had been the emblem of conquerors. It was engraved on tablets and seals of kings who ruled more than 6000 years ago. It was regarded with reverence by the ancient Greeks and later by the Romans who made it the emblem of their republic and, later, of the Roman empire. As a silver bird on a tall standard it was carried at the head of every legion in their armies.

All birds of prey have the most highly developed organs of vision in the world. In most kinds the eyes are so large that the two eyeballs occupy more space in the skull than does the brain, and are equipped with many special muscles so that the eye can be instantly transformed from a telescope to a microscope. There is a record of a bald eagle, soaring at great height over a big lake, diving diagonally downward to pick up a floating fish three miles away.

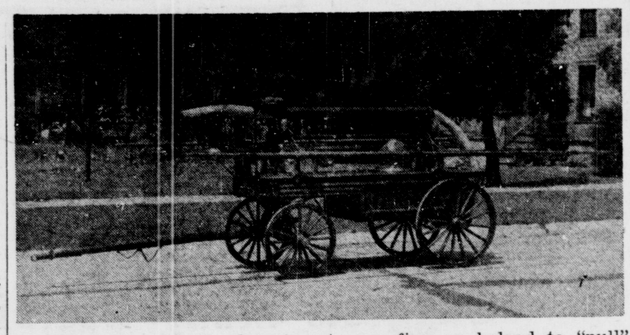
Palatine hand pumper loses fight in 1892 fire; Railroad loans tracks to move grain elevator

Between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock Sunday morning, Jan. 18, 1892, the residents of Palatine were awakened from peaceful slumber by the ringing of the fire bell. Upon investigation it was found that the southwest corner of the flax mill was on fire. It was discovered by night watchman Toppel, who immediately gave the alarm, to which the citizens promptly responded.

The engine was drawn to the scene of the fire, but that portion of the building was too far gone to be saved, so attention was directed to other portions of the mills, but they were also doomed, as the fire had gained too much headway, despite the valiant efforts of the fire department and citizens to extinguish the flames.

In the meantime, the many citizens who had gathered lent willing hands in removing the stock of flour and other goods which were stored in the warehouse next to the mill. This, too, soon caught fire, and was swallowed up by the flames.



The editor of this department as a fireman helped to "pull" the engine. The suction hose was lowered in the nearest well. If no well, no water. After Palatine's water system was installed, the pumper was extra equipment and was first sold to Roselle, which in turn sold it to Schaumburg. It is now a collector's item, owned by C. Zepp, Chicago.

THE INTENSE HEAT and flying cinders fired the barn of Mr. C. Ost, one of the proprietors, living a short distance east of the mill, and in a short time, it, too, was consumed, together with a buggy.

The fire did other things aside from bringing water works to Palatine. It opened up a new section to homes. The flax mill was located south of Chicago avenue and west of Greeley st. Upon that site today stand the four apartment Berlin bldg., the Mary Windheim home, the residences of Fred Kuhlman, Henry Heide, and Mrs. Harz.

From the information that the editor of this department has been able to secure, H. C. Batterman, who arrived in Palatine in 1866, conducted a lumber and grain business with Joseph Slade from 1866 to 1882.

In 1878 he built the flax mill, 96x116, which he rented four years. Following the sale of his interests in the lumber and grain business in 1882, he established the firm of Abelman & Co., the latter being his son-in-law. Mr. Chas. Ost, left a farm near Long Grove and entered the firm which conducted the grist mill, a lumber business and also a planing mill on property adjoining the flax mill.

In those days of solid lumber a planing mill was an important part of a community. This mill cut all of the flooring that was used in this vicinity. It likewise made the sash and doors. Every bit of the flooring and mill work that were used in the construction of brick block were cut in the Palatine mill. Another product of the planing mill were fence pickets and it is safe to say that Palatine fences were all of home manufacturer.

W. E. Schering, Palatine blacksmith, recalls the operations of the multiple Batterman industries, which drew trade from a large area to Palatine.

Sixty years ago farmers raised a lot of flax in this area. It took a lot of nourishment out of the ground, but land productibility was not as important as today.

After threshing the flax from the grain, the farmers brought their flax straw to the mill. They received for it from $3.00 to $6.00 a load. The straw was stacked around the mill. There were two products obtained from the straw—upholstery packing and rope. For the former the straw was cut up and shaken until every bit of chaff was taken out, when the cut straw was baled and shipped to upholstery factories in the east and Chicago. The flax straw designed for rope, was rotted upon the ground and allowed to reach a certain period of decay, when it was shipped to the rope factories.

THE DESTRUCTION of all buildings at the flax mill fire caused the members of the firm to look for a location with a railroad siding. It acquired property west of Comfort yard, south of the railroad, between Greely and Smith streets.

There was an elevator opposite the Palatine depot, originally owned by a Mr. Lytle Title. Ost & Abelman purchased the building. Mr. Batterman acquired the adjoining land, which is now called the triangle, on which he erected in 1882 a three story brick block, which provided three stores on the first floor, offices and club room for the Maennerchor on the second floor and what was then called an opera house on the third floor.

The lumber and grain firm were interested in moving the elevator they had purchased to railroad property adjoining their new site.

It was rather large to go through the streets. The railroad company was called upon for assistance and they offered to load their railroad track from 9 p. m. to 6 a. m. of the following day. Fred Haemker took the job. That was a busy night in Palatine. Half of the men and boys stayed up all night to watch the operation. As morning came several trains were waiting and their crews would come up and offer suggestions to the movers. Mr. Haemker made good his promise and at 5:30 the railroad tracks were clear for the passage of trains.

WAGON LOADS of grain were driven to a ramp and securely fastened when the ramp was tipped up and the end-gate of the wagon opened. The grain would flow into a large hopper beneath the ramp. The machinery for raising the grain to storage bins in the upper part of the elevator was operated by horse power. One or two horses traveled around in a circle, which in turn set in motion cogs that in turn raised the wide belts to which were fastened cups which scooped up the grain and on reaching the top, threw it into the bin.

When the market appeared to be right, the elevator owners would ship to the Chicago market in freight cars.

A grist and flour mill was erected immediately south of the elevator at its new location. The foundations of this mill are still in evidence on the north side of West Wilson street east of Smith. A boiler and steam engine were installed. The late Wm. G. Ost was engineer and Wm. Hokenmeyer handled the grinding of feed.

Later a bank of flour grinders was installed. Wheat growers and others traveled as far as 25 miles to this mill.

It was customary for the farmer to bring in his load of grain he wanted ground in the morning, unload it at the mill and then spend the next few hours at the local places of business waiting in turn for the mill to grind feed from grain he had brought.

THE TAVERNS competed for this business. The free lunch counter was stacked high with cheese, meats and rye bread. On cold mornings, hot punch was served. There were no electric plates or gas burners. A copper boiler with faucet was kept on the heating stove to provide the hot water.

The firm also erected to the west of the grist mill a planing mill, which was in charge of the late Ernest Beutler, father of Miss Grace Beutler. As the larger sash and door factories entered the field, this planing mill retired from business and the building was torn down.

INFORMATION regarding H. C. Batterman is found in the history of Cook County, printed in 1884. He was born 123 years ago in Germany, came to America when 19 years old, first settling in Chicago where he engaged in the grocery business. He came to Palatine in 1866.

All of his children have died. Grandchildren are Dr. Henry Abelman, Chicago, Mrs. Hake, Chicago, William Abelman, Elgin, Walter Heiber, Zion, Mrs. Walter Krueger, Palatine, Mrs. Barone, California.

Mr. Batterman, a Democrat in politics, was a member of the village board of trustees many years and was its president when the original water works was installed.

● RIGHT AT HOME

There is still plenty of time for Christmas shopping and there are plenty of things that can be purchased right here at home, in fact the stores and shops are filled with Christmas goods of all descriptions and a person can have just about as large a selection right here at home as they can in the city.

A while back a friend of ours hunted all over for a certain kind of a shirt that he wanted. He couldn't find it in Chicago and couldn't find it in Elgin, and it wasn't to be had in Oak Park, but he wandered into Schoppe's store one day and there was the very thing that he'd been hunting all over for.

A few days ago a lady went into Olsen's Record and Variety store here in Palatine looking for a certain Christmas record. "I don't suppose you've got it," she said in a resigned sort voice. "Oh yes we have," said Mr. Olsen and produced the desired record. That woman had looked in all the big record stores in several big towns but couln't find what she wanted, and here it was right in Olsen's shop here at home.

The other day we saw some sleds on the express truck at the depot. Someone had been buying some Christmas sleds for the youngsters and had them shipped in and we wondered if there weren't just as good sleds at just as good a price right here at home at some of the local stores.

Yes, the town has grown now to such an extent that it stores and shops offer just about everything a person can think of and in a lot of cases the moderate prices surprise a purchaser. You don't have to go to the city any longer to do your Christmas shopping. You can find what you're looking for in most cases right here and the local merchants will be happy to see you.

● CLEARING HOUSE

The Chamber of Commerce of Palatine has hit upon a new idea. The Secretary's office is going to act as a clearing house for baby sitters for families where the elders want to take in some of the Christmas programs.

Mrs. Burns, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said that several people had contacted her about baby sitters for the Christmas season and that her office would act as a "sitter" clearing house. If any one wants a "sitter" call Mrs. Burns; if anyone wants a job as a "sitter," put in your application with her.

Ed Ellis, president of the Palatine Community Club, thought that the clearing house was a great idea. He said that Palanois Park would probably apply for a lot of "sitters" as they had a thousand kids out there.

We told Ed that the population of Palanois must be growing fast and he said that it surely was. He was wondering what the schools were going to do when all those little tots get to school age.

● PROBLEM

The school authorities are wondering about the same problem. We were talking with a member of the Consolidated school board the other day and he was shaking his head with a worried look on his face. "I don't know what we're going to do," he said, "the population was increasing fast enough, but now they are coming in pairs" and he told of three sets of twins that had arrived within a couple of weeks. The problems of the educators it seems are doubling these days.

● REAL WINTER

The real winter weather which has prevailed since Thanksgiving day makes it look as if this might be one of those old fashioned winters. The pheasants at least are getting a break this winter as there is a lot of standing corn still in the fields which gives the birds a fine feeding ground as well as furnishing them with a lot of cover.

The early snows are a fine thing as a protection for the many fields of winter wheat which were showing a nice growth this fall. The snows will furnish the young wheat with good protection and supply it with plenty of moisture. A farmer was telling the other day about the growing of winter wheat in the southern part of the state. He told how the application of lime to the soil had greatly improved the wheat yield.

He told about how the Hessian fly had so damaged the winter wheat in that country until 15 bushels per acre was a good yield. He said the fields would look fine from a distance but that the damage from the Hessian fly would show up at harvest time.

Then the farmers started to lime their fields and the fly damage decreased until they can now get 40 bushels per acre. Yields of winter wheat in recent years as reported by local farmers have been very good.

● TWO LEAGUES

For some time we have advocated two leagues in the softball situation. One for the semi-pros or top notch teams as a major league and one for the younger players just coming up to be known as the minor league.

Now we understand that the boys who play that famous indoor game around a table on Monday nights have two leagues in their set-up. There is a major league for the heavy boys and a minor league for the fellows who don't like such fast company and who are playing more for the fun of the thing.

Now a lot of those indoor fellows are interested in one way or another in the softball business. Some are team sponsors, some announcers, some playground directors and some just fans.

If those fellows can apply the major and minor league thing to their indoor sport, why not carry the idea a little farther and have a major and a minor league in softball next season, that is if all the boys don't get into the service and provided there are enough players left around to farm a league or two.

● PICK UPS

You just can't keep that guy Tom Norman quiet. He's got to be steaming around about something.

We thought that after he got through at that open air theatre he was managing in Indiana that he'd head for Florida and when we saw him in that new Pontiac the other day we thought he was on his way, but no. He says no he isn't going until after the first of the year and meanwhile he is operating the state license pickup service for the Wm. H. DePue office.

Last year that service made a big hit with the public and from the way things are starting out it will be more popular than ever this year.

Tom is all steamed up about the new job and is making those license pick-ups three times a week on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Florida and the Ozarks will have to wait now until Tom's latest "rush season" is over.

● REMEMBERED

The snowfalls this winter remind the old timers of one of the finest services that the village ever gave the public and that was the plowing of the sidewalks.

That service was one of the most appreciated services. It was something concrete that taxpayers could see, use and appreciate. The old horse-drawn plows used to be out and at it before the storm ended and they kept at it until the job was done.

That fine service is a thing of the past. A few years ago the walks were plowed with a power plow but that service was discontinued. The plow was sold to the high school and now it's everyone for himself in getting those walks cleaned.

The finest service the village ever gave and one where the taxpayers could see that something really worthwhile was being done with their money is now only a memory—gone with the wind.

● ANGEL JOHNNY

Walked into Johnny Nelson's Northwest Bottled Gas office the other day and thought that Johnny was becoming an angel. There were angels all over the place. His nifty Christmas window was full of them. Cute little angels adorned all the articles on the showroom floor. Tony Dolatowski pointed to his desk and remarked, "Look at that—I rent desk space here and can't even sit down at my desk. It's covered with angels."

The explanation of the sudden flight of angels was that Johnny has a stock of pretty angel adornments for the top of a Christmas tree which he is handing out to his customers.

They are going fast so if you are a customer of Johnny's and haven't yet received one, better hurry around and see angel Johnny and get yours.

● STICKING SNOW

There is an old saying that "if the first snows stick they all will."

Well, the first couple of snows of this old fashioned early winter are sure sticking. They have stuck to the sides of the trees, the branches and the shrubbery, in fact to everything they came in contact with. So if the old saying is going to hold good this year, it looks as if we might be in for a lot of sticking snows.

And just as a matter of information, those weather predicting cactus plants are blooming early this year and forecast plenty of snow at least during the early part of the winter. What they may predict for later on will be seen when we see how the plants behave after Christmas when the first crop of blooms begins to fade out.

● DOWN THE HILL

The winter is on the last lap of the downhill grade toward the shortest day of the winter and of the year.

One week more and the shortest day will be with us, and a lot of folks are always glad to see that day behind us. It sort of gives them a feeling that with the days getting longer there are better times coming.

Of course there are a lot of old adages that apply to those lengthening days such as, "when the days begin to lengthen the cold begins to strengthen," etc., but somehow or other when the old sun begins to stay on the job a little longer each day it always seems that we are over the hill at least and are on the way to better things.

And even if the weather does get colder, there is liable to be more bright days and more sunshine during the later winter months and at least the dark gloomy days of November and December are behind us. We will have passed the valley and the long uphill pull to the more pleasant days of spring and summer.

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc.,

TEENERS' PUBLICITY

I heartily endorse the policy of Paddock Publications to publish stories of alleged sex attacks and juvenile delinquency without mentioning names. Your recent stories provoked many thoughtful discussions among parents and teen-agers.

Too many of our great American families are those where too often Sis gulps her food and rushes to meet her pals; Brother gulps his and bangs out for football practice, etc.; Father to one of his activities; and Mother to her bridge game. There is a vast unexplored field of family friendships awaiting the wise family. Friendships made because Mother and Dad are willing to give of themselves in time and energy to their children's activities and organizations; friendships made thru the sharing of family work projects; friendships made by having the family meal before a blazing fireplace without the stimulation of modern inventions; friendships made by a family religion.

Mother and Dad are closer to the little ones because their physical demands are greater but it takes real effort to be close to a teen-ager.

We as parents should say if this is happening in our community why is it happening and what are we going to do about it?

An Arlington Heights
Mother

CHRISTMAS CAROLS

I read the article in the Fence Post last week on Christmas Carols. The "Citizen" as he or she calls himself can't believe in "Peace on earth good will toward men" or they would enjoy the Carol Broadcasters for several weeks instead of just a few days.

When we think of world conditions as they are today, isn't it wonderful we can still celebrate Christmas by worshiping in the church of our choice and also enjoy the beautiful carols. So please, Carol Broadcasters, we are waiting to hear from you. Christmas Carols are anything but nerve racking and annoying.

A Christian Citizen

MARCH OF DIMES

During the last five years, polio has inflicted itself on our child and adult population with increasing vigor. Illinois has been one of the hardest hit states in our nation. Epidemics of polio have raged either in sections of the state or in the state as a whole, leaving behind crippled limbs that may never be used again unless funds for proper medical treatment can be made available. Three-fourths of its victims have been our boys and girls of school age or under.

From January 15 through January 31, 1951, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will hold its annual March of Dimes drive.

Through March of Dimes contributions, our 102 Illinois county chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis have been able to offer financial aid to those stricken, so that no one -- regardless of race, color or creed -- has had to go without good medical care due to the lack of funds.

Through March of Dimes contributions, men and women have received professional training in the treatment of polio. For of what benefit would be the funds for care without the skills to administer that care?

Through March of Dimes contributions, grants have been made for polio research. Men and women, highly skilled in their field of medical science, are making strides toward a preventive or cure for polio.

I am writing to ask support of the March of Dimes through your sports columns. Perhaps, through your columns you could encourage schools to take up audience collections for the March of Dimes during at least one of their home games.

T. O. White,
Sports Chairman
Illinois March of Dimes

SEX EDUCATION

Referring to your Fence Post request for letters regarding your stories, published some time ago, with reference to sex attacks and sex morality among some high school students.

I admire you, Mr. Paddock, for your high principles, and this admiration certainly includes refraining from publishing names of boys and girls who are first offenders on any charges. Sometimes the offenders themselves may seem blase, but their families, including their parents, sisters, and brothers, would suffer untold agony. It would seem vicious and needlessly cruel to print such names.

However, I don't believe, Mr. Paddock, for one minute that any news regarding crimes, sex attacks, or immorality among our young people should not be published. The world is too full of smug, self-satisfied parents who are blind to the evils that fill our modern world. To be forearmed is to be forewarned. In printing these stories, you will also help some of the young people by opening their eyes to what might lie ahead on the paths they are traveling.

There is so much criticism going on because of the recent wave of girls who have found themselves in trouble. Certainly, it is the duty of every decent citizen to help the young people in any way they possibly can, regardless of whether or not they have teen age children. It is a known fact that boys and girls of high school age have been and are being served liquor in neighboring taverns.

Drinking certainly has no place in the high school life of our boys and girls, and drinking is taking a toboggan ride to ruin. If some tavern owner's main concern is taking the almighty dollar, then it is high time we adults reported each and every case to the proper authorities when tavern owners or bartenders serve liquor to minors. This is the plain duty of every decent-thinking citizen.

With the great unrest throughout the world today, and with the world so filled with hate and fear, sex immorality and excessive drinking will go on the rise, and it is up to every mother and father and every decent-thinking citizen to help these kids get over these rough spots. How many parents bother to get up out of bed when their son or daughter returns from a date or a party? How many of you bother to talk about that date, or to kiss them goodnight? If you took the trouble, you might be shocked some night to find that your child had been drinking.

The subject of girls getting into trouble is not a new story, but when the number of girls in trouble increases year after year, it is a very serious problem. The high school years are dangerous years, and these are the years when parents should keep in close contact with their children's plans. At this age, boys and girls resent criticism and are apt to become rebellious.

It is dangerous to allow them too much freedom, and it is equally dangerous if parents are too strict. If, by the time your boy or girl have reached high school, you haven't established a healthy parent-child relationship, your road will not prove an easy one. Do you take the trouble to make your children's friends feel at home, and do you treat them as adults? It is disheartening to know that sex abuse is growing every year—but it is also encouraging to know that more parents now than ever are alerted to the dangers which surround their children and that more parents today are taking the trouble to allow their children to entertain their friends in their own homes.

Certainly, teen agers don't want mothers and fathers hovering over these parties, but if you parents care what happens to your boys and girls, you won't leave them unchaperoned and alone in the house. You might be surprised at what goes on. There is a happy medium.

It has always puzzled me as to why or how any parent could leave a boy or girl alone over night, or for days and weeks at a time. It is shocking to know how often this really happens. You wouldn't dream of leaving your money, stocks, or bonds, unprotected in your home, and yet so many parents leave their most precious possession, their children, unprotected.

The problem of juvenile delinquency rests squarely on the shoulders of the parents and certainly is not a school problem. Arlington Heights is so fortunate in having such a capable, sincere leader for its high school principal. Mr. Knoeppel has done so much that is good and right for our boys and girls, and yet he is harrassed and nagged by over-indulgent parents who are neither capable nor fit to guide their boys and girls; i.e., there is a rule at the high school that no student is allowed to drive his or her own car during the lunch period.

If in the past you ever witnessed the racing and misuse of cars during the lunch periods by the students, you would wonder why no major tragedy had ever occurred. Are we bringing up a generation of creampuffs incapable of taking a healthy walk? Believe it or not, Mr. Knoeppel recently received a letter which was presumably written by two fathers of high school students, berating him for not allowing their darlings to ride around in their cars at lunch time, and they actually compared our wonderful, democratice high school with a communistic slave camp! There, in those fathers' objections, lies much of the reason for delinquent boys and girls. Giving your child a car to drive, buying your child the finest clothes, supplying your child with endless spending money is not in itself being a good parent.

Don't idealize your child—remember, he is molded from the same clay as your neighbor's children. Your child is capable of the same deep emotions your neighbor's children are capable of.

It isn't easy to be a good parent. None of us are perfect, but let's try to do the best we know how, and let's not be too proud to help our neighbor's children, if they need help.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Jane:

We are partially snowbound again. I say "partially" because this morning (though our road has not been open for four days) the boys and Rob were able to get into town by taking the jeep over the fields to the main highway. Yesterday they walked the same distance, taking a small sled in which to carry food supplies on the return trip!

When I brought the boys home from school Thursday afternoon, we realized it would be foolhardy to attempt a return trip to town in the evening to meet Rob at the station, so I telephoned to him in the city suggesting he remain in there over night if he had important business on the docket for Friday. I could tell from the tone of his voice that he didn't intend to be considered "chicken hearted" by anyone, and "I'll be home tonight, somehow," he assured me.

The train, of course, was late reaching our town. I expected Rob would call me when it arrived, and I planned to tell him of an invitation from friends to spend the night at their home in town. He didn't call me, but accepted a ride from the station with a neighbor to the place where our gravel road branches away to the south from the main highway. And that husband of mine with "his pioneer spirit," walked through mounting drifts of snow, through a blinding blizzard, into a strong southwest wind, straight to our kitchen door. All he needed was a red sack on his back to make him look like Santa Claus, for his face was apple-red, and his eyelashes and eyebrows were white with snow and tiny icicles.

Of course we were concerned about the possibility of him being frost bitten and over-tired. After all, he wasn't born on a Nebraska prairie and trained for this sort of rugged life, as one of our neighbors informed me her husband was, when I voiced surprise that her husband was able to walk from Chicago to LaGrange (a distance of 17 miles on the railroad ties, she said) some years ago, and would think very little of having to walk from the station to their home today if he had to!

Yes, Mam, life in the country is jolly. I still insist, but a bit demanding of one's physical and spiritual stamina at times. Thank God for the jeep, we say. That four-wheel drive is a blessing in both snow and mud, and I doubt if we'll ever be without one. They may not look pretty, and the old sacroiliac doesn't take to it readily, but when the storms come, the little "puddle jumper" seems to be the only vehicle that can make the grade.

These days of being "snowbound" are giving me an opportunity to peruse more leisurely through the many art catalogues, and other literature I collected on my recent trip through the East.

One of the very first things I want to tell you, and I hope to do so in my next letter, is about my experiences in the charming village, called Cazenovia, 18 miles from Syracuse, N. Y., where we stayed at Linclaen House, an inn built in 1835.

You will be interested in knowing that one of our local residents, the nationally known architect, Paul Schweikher, of Roselle, Ill., has designed a school building which will shortly be built in Cazenovia.

Until next week, with love,
Mary.

Palatine hand pumper loses fight in 1892 fire; Railroad loans tracks to move grain elevator

Between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock Sunday morning, Jan. 18, 1892, the residents of Palatine were awakened from peaceful slumber by the ringing of the fire bell. Upon investigation it was found that the southwest corner of the flax mill was on fire. It was discovered by night watchman Toppel, who immediately gave the alarm, to which the citizens promptly responded.

The engine was drawn to the scene of the fire, but that portion of the building was too far gone to be saved, so attention was directed to other portions of the mills, but they were also doomed, as the fire had gained too much headway, despite the valiant efforts of the fire department and citizens to extinguish the flames.

In the meantime, the many citizens who had gathered lent willing hands in removing the stock of flour and other goods which were stored in the warehouse next to the mill. This, too, soon caught fire, and was swallowed up by the flames.

The editor of this department as a fireman helped to "pull" the engine. The suction hose was lowered in the nearest well. If no well, no water. After Palatine's water system was installed, the pumper was extra equipment and was first sold to Roselle, which in turn sold it to Schaumburg. It is now a collector's item, owned by C. Zepp, Chicago.

THE INTENSE HEAT and flying cinders fired the barn of Mr. C. Ost, one of the proprietors, living a short distance east of the mill, and in a short time, it, too, was consumed, together with a buggy.

The fire did other things aside from bringing water works to Palatine. It opened up a new section to homes. The flax mill was located south of Chicago avenue and west of Greeley st. Upon that site today stand the four apartment Berlin bldg., the Mary Windheim home, the residences of Fred Kuhlman, Henry Heide, and Mrs. Harz.

From the information that the editor of this department has been able to secure, H. C. Batterman, who arrived in Palatine in 1866, conducted a lumber and grain business with Joseph Slade from 1866 to 1882.

In 1878 he built the flax mill, 96x116, which he rented four years. Following the sale of his interests in the lumber and grain business in 1882, he established the firm of Abelman & Co., the latter being his son-in-law. Mr. Chas. Ost, left a farm near Long Grove and entered the firm which conducted the grist mill, a lumber business and also a planing mill on property adjoining the flax mill.

In those days of solid lumber a planing mill was an important part of a community. This mill cut all of the flooring that was used in this vicinity. It likewise made the sash and doors. Every bit of the flooring and mill work that were used in the construction of brick block were cut in the Palatine mill. Another product of the planing mill were fence pickets and it is safe to say that Palatine fences were all of home manufacturer.

Sixty years ago farmers raised a lot of flax in this area. It took a lot of nourishment out of the ground, but land productibility was not as important as today.

After threshing the flax from the grain, the farmers brought their flax straw to the mill. They received for it from $3.00 to $6.00 a load. The straw was stacked around the mill. There were two products obtained from the straw—upholstery packing and rope. For the former the straw was cut up and shaken until every bit of chaff was taken out, when the cut straw was baled and shipped to upholstery factories in the east and Chicago. The flax straw designed for rope, was rotted upon the ground and allowed to reach a certain period of decay, when it was shipped to the rope factories.

THE DESTRUCTION of all buildings at the flax mill fire caused the members of the firm to look for a location with a railroad siding. It acquired property west of Comfort yard, south of the railroad, between Greely and Smith streets.

There was an elevator opposite the Palatine depot, originally owned by a Mr. Lytle Title. Ost & Abelman purchased the building. Mr. Batterman acquired the adjoining land, which is now called the triangle, on which he erected in 1882 a three story brick block, which provided three stores on the first floor, offices and club room for the Maennerchor on the second floor and what was then called an opera house on the third floor.

The lumber and grain firm were interested in moving the elevator they had purchased to railroad property adjoining their new site.

It was rather large to go through the streets. The railroad company was called upon for assistance and they offered to load their railroad track from 9 p. m. to 6 a. m. of the following day. Fred Haemker took the job. That was a busy night in Palatine. Half of the men and boys stayed up all night to watch the operation. As morning came several trains were waiting and their crews would come up and offer suggestions to the movers. Mr. Haemker made good his promise and at 5:30 the railroad tracks were clear for the passage of trains.

WAGON LOADS of grain were driven to a ramp and securely fastened when the ramp was tipped up and the end-gate of the wagon opened. The grain would flow into a large hopper beneath the ramp. The machinery for raising the grain to storage bins in the upper part of the elevator was operated by horse power. One or two horses traveled around in a circle, which in turn set in motion cogs that in turn raised the wide belts to which were fastened cups which scooped up the grain and on reaching the top, threw it into the bin.

When the market appeared to be right, the elevator owners would ship to the Chicago market in freight cars.

A grist and flour mill was erected immediately south of the elevator at its new location. The foundations of this mill are still in evidence on the north side of West Wilson street east of Smith. A boiler and steam engine were installed. The late Wm. G. Ost was engineer and Wm. Hokenmeyer handled the grinding of feed.

Later a bank of flour grinders was installed. Wheat growers and others traveled as far as 25 miles to this mill.

It was customary for the farmer to bring in his load of grain he wanted ground in the morning, unload it at the mill and then spend the next few hours at the local places of business waiting in turn for the mill to grind feed from grain he had brought.

THE TAVERNS competed for this business. The free lunch counter was stacked high with cheese, meats and rye bread. On cold mornings, hot punch was served. There were no electric plates or gas burners. A copper boiler with faucet was kept on the heating stove to provide the hot water.

The firm also erected to the west of the grist mill a planing mill, which was in charge of the late Ernest Beutler, father of Miss Grace Beutler. As the larger sash and door factories entered the field, this planing mill retired from business and the building was torn down.

INFORMATION regarding H. C. Batterman is found in the history of Cook County, printed in 1884. He was born 123 years ago in Germany, came to America when 19 years old, first settling in Chicago where he engaged in the grocery business. He came to Palatine in 1866.

All of his children have died. Grandchildren are Dr. Henry Abelman, Chicago, Mrs. Hake, Chicago, William Abelman, Elgin, Walter Heiber, Zion, Mrs. Walter Krueger, Palatine, Mrs. Barone, California.

Mr. Batterman, a Democrat in politics, was a member of the village board of trustees many years and was its president when the original water works was installed.

TALES of the STREET

—T. C. HART

● RIGHT AT HOME

There is still plenty of time for Christmas shopping and there are plenty of things that can be purchased right here at home, in fact the stores and shops are filled with Christmas goods of all descriptions and a person can have just about as large a selection right here at home as they can in the city.

A while back a friend of ours hunted all over for a certain kind of a shirt that he wanted. He couldn't find it in Chicago and couldn't find it in Elgin, and it wasn't to be had in Oak Park, but he wandered into Schoppe's store one day and there was the very thing that he'd been hunting all over for.

A few days ago a lady went into Olsen's Record and Variety store here in Palatine looking for a certain Christmas record. "I don't suppose you've got it," she said in a resigned sort voice. "Oh yes we have," said Mr. Olsen and produced the desired record. That woman had looked in all the big record stores in several big towns but couln't find what she wanted, and here it was right in Olsen's shop here at home.

The other day we saw some sleds on the express truck at the depot. Someone had been buying some Christmas sleds for the youngsters and had them shipped in and we wondered if there weren't just as good sleds at just as good a price right here at home at some of the local stores.

Yes, the town has grown now to such an extent that it stores and shops offer just about everything a person can think of and in a lot of cases the moderate prices surprise a purchaser. You don't have to go to the city any longer to do your Christmas shopping. You can find what you're looking for in most cases right here and the local merchants will be happy to see you.

● CLEARING HOUSE

The Chamber of Commerce of Palatine has hit upon a new idea. The Secretary's office is going to act as a clearing house for baby sitters for families where the elders want to take in some of the Christmas programs.

Mrs. Burns, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said that several people had contacted her about baby sitters for the Christmas season and that her office would act as a "sitter" clearing house. If any one wants a "sitter" call Mrs. Burns; if anyone wants a job as a "sitter," put in your application with her.

Ed Ellis, president of the Palatine Community Club, thought that the clearing house was a great idea. He said that Palanois Park would probably apply for a lot of "sitters" as they had a thousand kids out there.

We told Ed that the population of Palanois must be growing fast and he said that it surely was. He was wondering what the schools were going to do when all those little tots get to school age.

● PROBLEM

The school authorities are wondering about the same problem. We were talking with a member of the Consolidated school board the other day and he was shaking his head with a worried look on his face. "I don't know what we're going to do," he said, "the population was increasing fast enough, but now they are coming in pairs" and he told of three sets of twins that had arrived within a couple of weeks. The problems of the educators it seems are doubling these days.

● REAL WINTER

The real winter weather which has prevailed since Thanksgiving day makes it look as if this might be one of those old fashioned winters. The pheasants at least are getting a break this winter as there is a lot of standing corn still in the fields which gives the birds a fine feeding ground as well as furnishing them with a lot of cover.

The early snows are a fine thing as a protection for the many fields of winter wheat which were showing a nice growth this fall. The snows will furnish the young wheat with good protection and supply it with plenty of moisture. A farmer was telling the other day about the growing of winter wheat in the southern part of the state. He told how the application of lime to the soil had greatly improved the wheat yield.

He told about how the Hessian fly had so damaged the winter wheat in that country until 15 bushels per acre was a good yield. He said the fields would look fine from a distance but that the damage from the Hessian fly would show up at harvest time.

Then the farmers started to lime their fields and the fly damage decreased until they can now get 40 bushels per acre. Yields of winter wheat in recent years as reported by local farmers have been very good.

● TWO LEAGUES

For some time we have advocated two leagues in the softball situation. One for the semi-pros or top notch teams as a major league and one for the younger players just coming up to be known as the minor league.

Now we understand that the boys who play that famous indoor game around a table on Monday nights have two leagues in their set-up. There is a major league for the heavy boys and a minor league for the fellows who don't like such fast company and who are playing more for the fun of the thing.

Now a lot of those indoor fellows are interested in one way or another in the softball business. Some are team sponsors, some announcers, some playground directors and some just fans.

If those fellows can apply the major and minor league thing to their indoor sport, why not carry the idea a little farther and have a major and a minor league in softball next season, that is if all the boys don't get into the service and provided there are enough players left around to farm a league or two.

● PICK UPS

You just can't keep that guy Tom Norman quiet. He's got to be steaming around about something.

We thought that after he got through at that open air theatre he was managing in Indiana that he'd head for Florida and when we saw him in that new Pontiac the other day we thought he was on his way, but no. He says no he isn't going until after the first of the year and meanwhile he is operating the state license pickup service for the Wm. H. DePue office.

Last year that service made a big hit with the public and from the way things are starting out it will be more popular than ever this year.

Tom is all steamed up about the new job and is making those license pick-ups three times a week on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Florida and the Ozarks will have to wait now until Tom's latest "rush season" is over.

● REMEMBERED

The snowfalls this winter remind the old timers of one of the finest services that the village ever gave the public and that was the plowing of the sidewalks.

That service was one of the most appreciated services. It was something concrete that taxpayers could see, use and appreciate. The old horse-drawn plows used to be out and at it before the storm ended and they kept at it until the job was done.

That fine service is a thing of the past. A few years ago the walks were plowed with a power plow but that service was discontinued. The plow was sold to the high school and now it's everyone for himself in getting those walks cleaned.

The finest service the village ever gave and one where the taxpayers could see that something really worthwhile was being done with their money is now only a memory—gone with the wind.

● ANGEL JOHNNY

Walked into Johnny Nelson's Northwest Bottled Gas office the other day and thought that Johnny was becoming an angel. There were angels all over the place. His nifty Christmas window was full of them. Cute little angels adorned all the articles on the showroom floor. Tony Dolatowski pointed to his desk and remarked, "Look at that—I rent desk space here and can't even sit down at my desk. It's covered with angels."

The explanation of the sudden flight of angels was that Johnny has a stock of pretty angel adornments for the top of a Christmas tree which he is handing out to his customers.

They are going fast so if you are a customer of Johnny's and haven't yet received one, better hurry around and see angel Johnny and get yours.

● STICKING SNOW

There is an old saying that "if the first snows stick they all will."

Well, the first couple of snows of this old fashioned early winter are sure sticking. They have stuck to the sides of the trees, the branches and the shrubbery, in fact to everything they came in contact with. So if the old saying is going to hold good this year, it looks as if we might be in for a lot of sticking snows.

And just as a matter of information, those weather predicting cactus plants are blooming early this year and forecast plenty of snow at least during the early part of the winter. What they may predict for later on will be seen when we see how the plants behave after Christmas when the first crop of blooms begins to fade out.

● DOWN THE HILL

The winter is on the last lap of the downhill grade toward the shortest day of the winter and of the year.

One week more and the shortest day will be with us, and a lot of folks are always glad to see that day behind us. It sort of gives them a feeling that with the days getting longer there are better times coming.

Of course there are a lot of old adages that apply to those lengthening days such as, "when the days begin to lengthen the cold begins to strengthen," etc., but somehow or other when the old sun begins to stay on the job a little longer each day it always seems that we are over the hill at least and are on the way to better things.

And even if the weather does get colder, there is liable to be more bright days and more sunshine during the later winter months and at least the dark gloomy days of November and December are behind us. We will have passed the valley and the long uphill pull to the more pleasant days of spring and summer.

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc.,

TEENERS' PUBLICITY

I heartily endorse the policy of Paddock Publications to publish stories of alleged sex attacks and juvenile delinquency without mentioning names. Your recent stories provoked many thoughtful discussions among parents and teen-agers.

Too many of our great American families are those where too often Sis gulps her food and rushes to meet her pals; Brother gulps his and bangs out for football practice, etc.: Father to one of his activities; and Mother to her bridge game. There is a vast unexplored field of family friendships awaiting the wise family. Friendships made because Mother and Dad are willing to give of themselves in time and energy to their children's activities and organizations; friendships made thru the sharing of family work projects; friendships made by having the family meal before a blazing fireplace without the stimulation of modern inventions; friendships made by a family religion.

Mother and Dad are closer to the little ones because their physical demands are greater but it takes real effort to be close to a teen-ager.

We as parents should say if this is happening in our community why is it happening and what are we going to do about it?

An Arlington Heights

CHRISTMAS CAROLS

I read the article in the Fence Post last week on Christmas Carols. The "Citizen" as he or she calls himself can't believe in "Peace on earth good will toward men" or they would enjoy the Carol Broadcasters for several weeks instead of just a few days.

When we think of world conditions as they are today, isn't it wonderful we can still celebrate Christmas by worshiping in the church of our choice and also enjoy the beautiful carols. So please, Carol Broadcasters, we are waiting to hear from you. Christmas Carols are anything but nerve racking and annoying.

MARCH OF DIMES

During the last five years, polio has inflicted itself on our child and adult population with increasing vigor. Illinois has been one of the hardest hit states in our nation. Epidemics of polio have raged either in sections of the state or in the state as a whole, leaving behind crippled limbs that may never be used again unless funds for proper medical treatment can be made available. Three-fourths of its victims have been our boys and girls of school age or under.

From January 15 through January 31, 1951, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will hold its annual March of Dimes drive.

Through March of Dimes contributions, our 102 Illinois county chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis have been able to offer financial aid to those stricken, so that no one -- regardless of race, color or creed -- has had to go without good medical care due to the lack of funds.

Through March of Dimes contributions, men and women have received professional training in the treatment of polio. For of what benefit would be the funds for care without the skills to administer that care?

Through March of Dimes contributions, grants have been made for polio research. Men and women, highly skilled in their field of medical science, are making strides toward a preventive or cure for polio.

I am writing to ask support of the March of Dimes through your sports columns. Perhaps, through your columns you could encourage schools to take up audience collections for the March of Dimes during at least one of their home games.

T. O. White,
Illinois March of Dimes

SEX EDUCATION

Referring to your Fence Post request for letters regarding your stories, published some time ago, with reference to sex attacks and sex morality among some high school students.

I admire you, Mr. Paddock, for your high principles, and this admiration certainly includes refraining from publishing names of boys and girls who are first offenders on any charges. Sometimes the offenders themselves may seem blase, but their families, including their parents, sisters, and brothers, would suffer untold agony. It would seem vicious and needlessly cruel to print such names.

However, I don't believe, Mr. Paddock, for one minute that any news regarding crimes, sex attacks, or immorality among our young people should not be published. The world is too full of smug, self-satisfied parents who are blind to the evils that fill our modern world. To be forearmed is to be forewarned. In printing these stories, you will also help some of the young people by opening their eyes to what might lie ahead on the paths they are traveling.

There is so much criticism going on because of the recent wave of girls who have found themselves in trouble. Certainly, it is the duty of every decent citizen to help the young people in any way they possibly can, regardless of whether or not they have teen age children. It is a known fact that boys and girls of high school age have been and are being served liquor in neighboring taverns.

Drinking certainly has no place in the high school life of our boys and girls, and drinking is taking a toboggan ride to ruin. If some tavern owner's main concern is taking the almighty dollar, then it is high time we adults reported each and every case to the proper authorities when tavern owners or bartenders serve liquor to minors. This is the plain duty of every decent-thinking citizen.

With the great unrest throughout the world today, and with the world so filled with hate and fear, sex immorality and excessive drinking will go on the rise, and it is up to every mother and father and every decent-thinking citizen to help these kids get over these rough spots. How many parents bother to get up out of bed when their son or daughter returns from a date or a party? How many of you bother to talk about that date, or to kiss them goodnight? If you took the trouble, you might be shocked some night to find that your child had been drinking.

The subject of girls getting into trouble is not a new story, but when the number of girls in trouble increases year after year, it is a very serious problem. The high school years are dangerous years, and these are the years when parents should keep in close contact with their children's plans. At this age, boys and girls resent criticism and are apt to become rebellious.

It is dangerous to allow them too much freedom, and it is equally dangerous if parents are too strict. If, by the time your boy or girl have reached high school, you haven't established a healthy parent-child relationship, your road will not prove an easy one. Do you take the trouble to make your children's friends feel at home, and do you treat them as adults? It is disheartening to know that sex abuse is growing every year—but it is also encouraging to know that more parents now than ever are alerted to the dangers which surround their children and that more parents today are taking the trouble to allow their children to entertain their friends in their own homes.

Certainly, teen agers don't want mothers and fathers hovering over these parties, but if you parents care what happens to your boys and girls, you won't leave them unchaperoned and alone in the house. You might be surprised at what goes on. There is a happy medium.

It has always puzzled me as to why or how any parent could leave a boy or girl alone over night, or for days and weeks at a time. It is shocking to know how often this really happens. You wouldn't dream of leaving your money, stocks, or bonds, unprotected in your home, and yet so many parents leave their most precious possession, their children, unprotected.

The problem of juvenile delinquency rests squarely on the shoulders of the parents and certainly is not a school problem. Arlington Heights is so fortunate in having such a capable, sincere leader for its high school principal. Mr. Knoeppel has done so much that is good and right for our boys and girls, and yet he is harrassed and nagged by over-indulgent parents who are neither capable nor fit to guide their boys and girls; i.e., there is a rule at the high school that no student is allowed to drive his or her own car during the lunch period.

If in the past you ever witnessed the racing and misuse of cars during the lunch periods by the students, you would wonder why no major tragedy had ever occurred. Are we bringing up a generation of creampuffs incapable of taking a healthy walk? Believe it or not, Mr. Knoeppel recently received a letter which was presumably written by two fathers of high school students, berating him for not allowing their darlings to ride around in their cars at lunch time, and they actually compared our wonderful, democratice high school with a communistic slave camp! There, in those fathers' objections, lies much of the reason for delinquent boys and girls. Giving your child a car to drive, buying your child the finest clothes, supplying your child with endless spending money is not in itself being a good parent.

Don't idealize your child—remember, he is molded from the same clay as your neighbor's children. Your child is capable of the same deep emotions your neighbor's children are capable of.

It isn't easy to be a good parent. None of us are perfect, but let's try to do the best we know how, and let's not be too proud to help our neighbor's children, if they need help.

Arlington Heights

Brides-to-be

The following marriage licenses were issued last week (Dec. 4-9 inclusive) to residents of the north suburbs by Cook County Clerk Richard J. Daley:

Edwin Albright, Jr., Golf, Dorothy Thoren, River Forest.

Gaysford Martinson, East Berkshire, Vermont, Patricia McCabe, Glenview.

Robert Hermes, Evanston, Martha Spruill, Skokie.

Brower Garrett, Evanston, Loraine Phillips, Skokie.

Rudy Minster and Betty Raile, Arlington Heights.

Carl Galant and Rosalie Reed both of Waukegan.

In the future

More light from an ordinary bulb is promised through a new plastic filter-magnifier that blocks out red and yellow light from an incandescent bulb and sends a whiter light, with nearly double its original intensity . . . A new liquid silicone water repellent designed to protect unglazed exterior masonry and stone building materials; it "waterproofs" without blocking the pores of stone and masonry, and is applied with spray or brush . . . Rubber floor mats, with company name or trademark inlaid in color, as point-of-sale advertising pieces . . .

Christmas seal reminders sent out this week

Christmas Seal "reminders" are being sent out this week to Chicago and Cook County residents who may have forgotten or mislaid their 1950 Christmas Seals.

The reminders, in the form of penny postcards, note that the 44th annual Christmas Seal Sale has received generous support from the public, but that still more dollars are needed.

"Christmas Seals fight tuberculosis. Buy and use those sent you," the card says.

Returns through Thursday, December 7, mid-way point in the drive, amounted to $303,194.35, or more than half of the $500,000 goal.

"In the Christmas rush every year, many people forget to send in their contributions to the tuberculosis campaign," explained Mrs. Elizabeth Imhoff, Seal Sale director of The Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County. "They want to help our work and intend to do it, but sometimes it slips their mind.

"Many people tuck their Christmas Seals away somewhere in a drawer or desk, and experience has taught us that they appreciate being reminded about the Seals."

Mrs. Imhoff reported that at least 115 Chicago area schools were participating in "Bangle Day" sometime during the week of December 11. As part of the observance, the schools feature programs on tuberculosis, and students are instructed in the importance of caring for their health.

Locations have been obtained for about 2500 coin containers in Chicago and its suburbs, and 37 Christmas Seal booths have been set up in drug stores, department stores and theater lobbies, for the convenience of persons who want Seals and did not receive them through the mail.

Presenting the Younger Generation

He's a Ladies Man

This smiling young chap is Paul Christiansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Christiansen, 520 N. Fairview ave., Mt. Prospect. He is three and one-half years old, has light brown hair and blue eyes.

Paul is popular with the ladies, having five little playmates, all of whom are girls. He's a congenial playmate and obligingly takes part in their feminine games.

"Paul especially likes to play in the snow," said Mrs. Christiansen, "and helps his Dad shovel." "All he talks about is Christmas," she continued, "and has a big list for Santa."

Little Echo

Blonde and blue-eyed Susan Herzog is the 22 month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Herzog, 634 N. Dryden pl., Arlington Heights.

"Susan is on the move all the time," reported her mother, "and constantly mimics her older sister, Barbara Jean." Barbara Jean is seven years old and is in the second grade at the North school.

Susan's favorite pasttimes are writing, coloring and counting. Her request from Santa's bag is a baby doll.

Mrs. Florence Adler of 343 Carlyle pl., Arlington Heights is Susan's maternal grandmother.

Affectionate Ricky

This happy, shining face belongs to young Richard Arlyn Anderson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Anderson, 516 N. Fairview ave., Mt. Prospect.

"Ricky is a sweet little guy," answered Mr. Anderson when Mrs. Anderson asked him for help in describing their active young son. He is one and one-half years old and has brown hair, blue eyes and a good sense of humor.

"His baby brother, Jeffrey, five months, is the object of his affection," said his mother. Jeffrey receives a big brotherly hug whenever Ricky is around.

A bicycle heads this youngster's Christmas list.

Questioning Kathy

This young lady may look as though she is posing for a toothpaste ad, but she is merely displaying her bonny smile.

Kathy is a blonde little lass, has blue eyes and is two and one-half years old. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hasbach, 918 N. Walnut ave., Arlington Heights.

"Asking questions is Kathy's favorite activity," said Mrs. Hasbach, "and she never seems to stop asking them." She would like Santa to bring her a Christmas tree, little car and a bath tub for her doll.

Christmas ideas in decorations by florists

Gifts of flowers, evergreens and plants have new touches this year that make these decorations much more festive and heart warming. The florists have glorified the traditional greenery of Christmas. One of their neatest tricks in imaginative design is combining fresh flowers with pines, spruces and hemlocks decked with holly, mistletoe and an exciting myriad of Christmas-y ornaments.

The real flowers are stemmed into segments or blocks of a snowy-white cellular material that absorbs and holds water, and will stay fresh for days, drawing their moisture from the material hidden in the evergreen swags.

Roses, red or white carnations and chrysanthemums are the brilliant accessories used with huckleberry foliage, lemon leaves, holly, laurel, eucalyptus, cedar and other greenery. Fluffy white mums add a snowy touch to garlands of spruce or hemlock to drape a mirror, the mantel or a stairway. Circlets of fresh carnations are wound around the wrappings of the traditional poinsettia with its Christmas-y red flower bracts.

A gift arrangement in copper, yellow and gold has been styled for the pine-paneled room that does not like the conventional red-and-green of Christmas. The accessories of flowers are yellow carnations and the Christmas candle is rust-red. Elaborate gift door knockers are made with jack pines, giant pine cones, quaint tinkling bells and miniature reindeers.

Glenview bus given Northbrook route

Illinois Commerce Commission has settled one controversial problem in the dispute between the Glenview Bus company but the other points of conflict indicate there will be many more sessions before the ICC can make a ruling to close the case.

Glenview Bus was authorized to extend its service between Glenview and Northbrook. The company was given 30 days to start service on the new route. American Coach withdrew its objection.

The new extension will hook up with other routes of the bus company. It now operates three. second extends from Wheeling Milwaukee avenue and Central One serves Glenview Naval air- through Northbrook and Wil- road through Glenview and Wilport, Wilmette, and Evanston. A mette. The third extends from mette.

Explain 'domestic service' about extended social security coverage

The term "domestic service" in a private home is open to broad interpretation by the Social Security Administration, according to Edward N. Novotny, manager of the Evanston office.

Referring to the extension of Social Security to household help on January 1, he explained that this includes a maid, housekeeper, gardener, handyman-carpenter, valets, footman, groom —in fact anyone who works in a private home.

The housewife will have to report any person who works for her on at least 24 days in any calendar three-month period and is paid $50 or more in cash wages.

Novotny explained that the value of room and board is not to be included as wages. Only cash wages, including carfare if paid in cash is counted.

The Evanston office has been swamped with requests for the simple little blue pamphlet entitled, "Do You Have a Maid?" and a new supply has been received. Copies are again available upon request and contain all the necessary instructions for reporting of wages paid for household work.

Starting January 1, 1951, domestic workers can expect deductions of 1½% from the cash wages paid if above requirements are met. The employer is to contribute an equal amount of tax. At the end of each 3-month period, 3% of total wages, with the report of wages paid, is sent to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

If any domestic worker does not meet the requirements of earning at least $50.00 in cash and working in part or in all of 24 days in a three-month period beginning January, April, July, or October, the householder is not obliged to report such individual.

All Social Security taxes are paid to the Collector of Internal Revenue while account numbers are issued by the Social Security office.

Largest cast yet for Sonja Henie show

Chicago's perennial Christmas gift to the entertainment world unfurls on the Chicago Stadium ice again, beginning December 23, when the "First Lady of the Ice"—Sonja Henie — introduces her 1951 "Hollywood Ice Revue" to Chicago audiences. The show will play through January 16.

The 1951 edition of the famous Revue is without doubt the most elaborate and breathtaking of all the former extravaganzas. Sonja will present in her 1951 Hollywood Ice Revue the top talent of New York's most successful ice show—The Center Theatre—combined with the stars of her own famous ice revue. The combination of the two shows came about when the National Broadcasting Company took over the Center Theatre for TV purposes. Previous to that the Center Theatre Ice Show grossed over $20,000,000 in ten years and over 9,500,000 patrons had seen the 4,300 performances.

With the addition of the Center Theatre personnel the cast of the Sonja show will be in excess of 200, the largest in the history of the show. There are 27 acts and eight huge production numbers.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Are correspondence cards in good taste?

A. Yes; they are very popular and in good taste for the short, informal kind of note. It is becoming more and more customary for men and women to use these cards. However, they should not be used for strictly formal correspondence.

Q. What form should a bride and bridegroom use when extending invitations to a reception, after they have returned from their honeymoon trip?

A. They may either mail the engraved kind of invitations, or if the affair is an informal one, the bride may telephone her invitations to her friends.

Q. Should a woman, after the death of her husband, be addressed as "Mrs. Mary Gilbert" or as "Mrs. Thomas Gilbert?"

A. The death of her husband in no way affects the name by which the woman is known. She continues to be "Mrs. Thomas Gilbert."

Q. When one is eating meat, should only one piece be cut at a time?

A. Definitely, yes. When eating either meat or poultry, cut a small piece and convey it to the mouth. Never cut up the entire portion of meat into numerous pieces. This is considered very crude.

Q. Is it considered the duty of everyone who was invited to a wedding to call on the newlyweds after their return from their honeymoon?

A. Yes, making sure, of course, that they are well established in their new home.

Q. When a man is walking in the rain with a woman who is carrying an umbrella, should he offer to hold it?

A. Yes, this would be courteous.

Q. When one enters a restaurant carrying several packages, where should these bundles be placed?

A. If there is no check room, place them on a vacant chair. If the restaurant is crowded and chairs at a premium, then place the packages under your chair.

Q. Is it necessary to acknowledge an invitation received to a church wedding?

A. An acknowledgment is necessary only when the invitation includes one to the reception.

Q. How should gifts received during an illness be acknowledged?

A. If the patient is too ill to acknowledge the gifts immediately, notes of thanks should be written as soon after recovery as possible.

Q. Is it proper for a person at the table to butter a whole slice of bread at one time?

A. Never; he should butter only a small piece at a time.

Fruit cake success depends on cutting

Tradition holds that the proof of the pudding is in the eating, but not so for the famed American fruit cake that will be enjoyed by millions of families during the next few weeks.

According to the homemakers service of A&P Food Stores, which will bake approximately five million pounds of the delicacy for the holiday season, the success of a fruit cake depends, to a large degree, on the manner in which it is cut.

In order to protect the housewife from family disdain, the food chain today offered this friendly advice. Before cutting into your favorite fruit cake, make certain your knife is sharp —dip the blade in hot water— then cut with a gentle sawing motion avoiding too much pressure. Thus, ragged edges and crumbling will be eliminated and the flavor of all nuts and fruits will be retained.

Explain 'domestic service' about extended social security coverage

The term "domestic service" in a private home is open to broad interpretation by the Social Security Administration, according to Edward N. Novotny, manager of the Evanston office.

Referring to the extension of Social Security to household help on January 1, he explained that this includes a maid, housekeeper, gardener, handyman-carpenter, valets, footman, groom —in fact anyone who works in a private home.

The housewife will have to report any person who works for her on at least 24 days in any calendar three-month period and is paid $50 or more in cash wages.

Novotny explained that the value of room and board is not to be included as wages. Only cash wages, including carfare if paid in cash is counted.

The Evanston office has been swamped with requests for the simple little blue pamphlet entitled, "Do You Have a Maid?" and a new supply has been received. Copies are again available upon request and contain all the necessary instructions for reporting of wages paid for household work.

Starting January 1, 1951, domestic workers can expect deductions of 1½% from the cash wages paid if above requirements are met. The employer is to contribute an equal amount of tax. At the end of each 3-month period, 3% of total wages, with the report of wages paid, is sent to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

If any domestic worker does not meet the requirements of earning at least $50.00 in cash and working in part or in all of 24 days in a three-month period beginning January, April, July, or October, the householder is not obliged to report such individual.

All Social Security taxes are paid to the Collector of Internal Revenue while account numbers are issued by the Social Security office.

Largest cast yet for Sonja Henie show

Chicago's perennial Christmas gift to the entertainment world unfurls on the Chicago Stadium ice again, beginning December 23, when the "First Lady of the Ice"—Sonja Henie — introduces her 1951 "Hollywood Ice Revue" to Chicago audiences. The show will play through January 16.

The 1951 edition of the famous Revue is without doubt the most elaborate and breathtaking of all the former extravaganzas. Sonja will present in her 1951 Hollywood Ice Revue the top talent of New York's most successful ice show—The Center Theatre—combined with the stars of her own famous ice revue. The combination of the two shows came about when the National Broadcasting Company took over the Center Theatre for TV purposes. Previous to that the Center Theatre Ice Show grossed over $20,000,000 in ten years and over 9,500,000 patrons had seen the 4,300 performances.

With the addition of the Center Theatre personnel the cast of the Sonja show will be in excess of 200, the largest in the history of the show. There are 27 acts and eight huge production numbers.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Are correspondence cards in good taste?

A. Yes; they are very popular and in good taste for the short, informal kind of note. It is becoming more and more customary for men and women to use these cards. However, they should not be used for strictly formal correspondence.

Q. What form should a bride and bridegroom use when extending invitations to a reception, after they have returned from their honeymoon trip?

A. They may either mail the engraved kind of invitations, or if the affair is an informal one, the bride may telephone her invitations to her friends.

Q. Should a woman, after the death of her husband, be addressed as "Mrs. Mary Gilbert" or as "Mrs. Thomas Gilbert?"

A. The death of her husband in no way affects the name by which the woman is known. She continues to be "Mrs. Thomas Gilbert."

Q. When one is eating meat, should only one piece be cut at a time?

A. Definitely, yes. When eating either meat or poultry, cut a small piece and convey it to the mouth. Never cut up the entire portion of meat into numerous pieces. This is considered very crude.

Q. Is it considered the duty of everyone who was invited to a wedding to call on the newlyweds after their return from their honeymoon?

A. Yes, making sure, of course, that they are well established in their new home.

Q. When a man is walking in the rain with a woman who is carrying an umbrella, should he offer to hold it?

A. Yes, this would be courteous.

Q. When one enters a restaurant carrying several packages, where should these bundles be placed?

A. If there is no check room, place them on a vacant chair. If the restaurant is crowded and chairs at a premium, then place the packages under your chair.

Q. Is it necessary to acknowledge an invitation received to a church wedding?

A. An acknowledgment is necessary only when the invitation includes one to the reception.

Q. How should gifts received during an illness be acknowledged?

A. If the patient is too ill to acknowledge the gifts immediately, notes of thanks should be written as soon after recovery as possible.

Q. Is it proper for a person at the table to butter a whole slice of bread at one time?

A. Never; he should butter only a small piece at a time.

El Rey holds fourth annual music festival and contest

The enclosed picture illustrates part of the group of contestants who participated in the fourth annual music festival and contest sponsored by El Rey Music Center at the Des Plaines Junior high school.

The contest was held on Sunday afternoon, December 4, and the winners in various classifications have just been announced.

The program included guitars, accordions and pianists: three judges, experts on their instrument, graded each of the classifications: the three scores were then averaged to give the performer his final grade. The ten highest included eight solos, one duet and one trio selection.

Highest score went to Ronald Busse for his performance of "El Rey Waltz" after only ten weeks of lessons. Ronald lives in Arlington Heights.

Second place was a tie between Dorothy Poc, who played Hawaiian guitar, of Des Plaines, and Barbara Sheets of Arlington Heights for her piano arrangement of "Beloved Be Faithful."

Others in the first ten included Luella Stade, Joyce Luft, Glenn Peterson and Fred Swanson, Roberta Hill, Roland Hasselman, Fred Wettendorf and Kenneth Moehling, Kenneth Schroeder, Robert Neuman, and Kenneth Niebuhr.

Glenview to issue $80,000 sewer bonds

Glenview will issue $8',000 sewerage revenue bonds to pay cost of improving and extending the existing sewerage system.

Passage of this ordinance immediately followed the rescinding of a resolution passed on October 20 by the Board approving the plans and specifications for the sewer construction work outlined at a cost of $74,900.

Luther Institute Xmas pageant Sunday

Two hundred choristers and thirty-five pantomimists will be featured in Luther Institute's Christmas pageant, "The Incarnate Word," to be presented Sunday, December 17, at 8 p. m., in Our Redeemer Lutheran church, 6430 South Harvard ave., Chicago.

The entire Christmas story, from the earliest prophecies to the nativity, climaxed by a symbolic portrayal of this great birth as it affects life today, will be told in song and by narration.

The Luther Institute A Cappella choir of eighty-five voices, will handle the main part of the choral work. A second group of over one hundred, which includes the branch school chorus, will join in carol singing.

There will be no admission charge but a free will offering will be taken. The public is invited.

SCHRAMM ESTATE

Emma Schramm, of RFD 1, Elgin, died October 8 leaving a $10,000 estate, according to a petition to admit her will, filed with Probate Clerk John W. Tauchen.

Named as heirs are her daughters, Viola; Laura Gehrlis, of Waukegan; Florence Baker, Lucille, and Irene Brettschneider; her sons, Clarence, Wilbur, Howard and LeRoy; and others.

Is your tractor hard to start in cold weather?

Many a farmer has spent valuable time on cold fall and winter mornings trying to start a balky tractor.

A. R. Ayres, extension agricultural engineer at the Illinois College of Agriculture, says there are several things that can cause a tractor to start hard in cold weather.

First, dirt collects around the spark plugs, magneto or distributor cap. Then this dirt gets damp and shorts the electrical system. Keep your engine clean.

SECOND, some gasolines are easier to start than others because they have more volatile material in them. Some manufacturers add volatile materials during the winter, while others do not. Be sure that the fuel you use in cold weather is prepared for winter.

Third, during the corn-picking season many farmers use mounted corn pickers with heated cabs which cover the gasoline tank. During operation, heat from the engine is driven around the tank and warms the gasoline. This heating of the gasoline drives off the more volatile materials, leaving the heavier materials.

Sometimes after having worked a field the day before you find that your tractor refuses to start the next morning. Loss of the light material from your gasoline during the day is probably the cause of the trouble.

TO AVOID this trouble during corn picking season, Ayers says to let the manifold cool when you stop the engine after coming in from the field. Then fill the gasoline tank and run the engine for about five minutes. This brings fresh gasoline into the carburetor and makes starting easier the next morning.

Try to keep your gasoline tank full as much of the time as you can in winter, Ayers says. Doing so keeps moisture from condensing on the inside of the tank.

Farm income to rise in '51, but just how much?

Washington experts agree that farm prices and incomes will be higher in 1951 than this year, but they don't agree on how much.

So reports L. H. Simerl, University of Illinois agricultural economist, from Washington, D. C., by special wire. He attended the annual farm outlook conference which ended there last Saturday. Delegates from all 48 states heard latest reports from federal experts on all phases of the farm economic picture.

Simerl writes that consumer demand for food will increase materially in 1951, but price increases will be moderate. There will be some increase in supplies of food to partly offset larger payrolls and smaller supplies of non-food items. In general, supplies of consumer goods will be only a little smaller than in 1950.

AS FOR PRICE supports, some members of the U. S. Department of Agriculture say we need them, especially for hogs. Other government officials emphasize the need for basic controls over inflation.

Simerl says the experts dodge all questions on the probability of price controls on farm products in 1951. For meats and meat animals, the testing time will come next spring when marketings normally decline. Government officials will play by ear then.

Here's the supply picture: Corn reserves will be cut considerably by next fall—probably down to 500 or 600 million bushels. A short crop in 1951 would be a calamity.

HOG PRODUCTION is expected to increase only a little — about 5 per cent. But cattle numbers are increasing fast; we could have 25 per cent more beef in five years. Profits from feeding were at record levels in 1950; they'll be much lower in 1951, but still good.

With higher consumer income, dairymen should benefit from larger sales of fluid milk and ice cream. But Simerl says not to expect a larger increase in the price of milk.

The demand for soybean meal will be stronger because of higher numbers and prices of livestock. The soybean oil market will receive support from the generally strong market for fats and oils.

Farmers to hear how to make social security returns

"As we move into the welfare state, we begin to realize that a farmer's business is more and more a matter of public scrutiny. Or at least a farmer has to pay social security on his hired man," says Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "How this works out is a matter farmers want information on.

"To be of service to farmers, Don Smith, of the Farm Bureau Farm Management Service will be ready to inform farmers at the annual winter meeting at the Farm Bureau office, Arlington Heights, Tuesday, December 19, 1:00 p. m.

"For good measure, Mr. Gordon Flint, who is District Superintendent of the Soil Conservation District will tell farmers through pictures as to how Soil Conservation Districts operate, what they accomplish, etc. Now that a District is established in North Cook County, you should begin to ask yourself, "What can I do to get the most out of the new District?" Again, the time is 1:00 p. m. Tuesday, December 19, at the Farm Bureau Office."

Dec. 31 last day to sign applications '49 ACP program

All farmers who have not yet signed an application requesting payment for conservation practices carried out under the 1949 Agricultural Conservation Program should do so immediately. "December 31, 1950 is the deadline date," said Mr. Carl M. Bormet, chairman of the Cook County Production and Marketing Administration committee.

The local committeeman pointed out that this announcement in no way relates to the current 1950 ACP program. It merely applies to those few cases where producers complied in every respect with the program in effect last year (1949) and as yet have not signed a request for payment for the conservation work that was completed.

"If any farmer has reason to believe that his 1949 application has not been properly signed, he should contact the County Office. It is our sincere hope," said Committeeman Bormet, "that no one will be disqualified from payment because of failure to meet this requirement."

Deep frozen soil need not chill shrub moving job

Few chores about the home grounds are less appealing than moving small trees or shrubs when the ground is frozen solid. Pick and shovel wielding is apt to be too strenuous for the average week-end putterer.

Yet a deep freeze actually can be used to advantage in transplanting operations, advises M. W. Staples, field supervisor of The Davey Tree Expert Co. Efforts need not be any more arduous than in Springtime, provided procedure is carefully planned and executed.

Biggest advantage is that earth balls around roots are solid blocks, making moving lots easier. Plans must be made while the soil is still workable and Jack Frost hasn't worked his way down too deeply.

If you can still spade your ground easily, you might begin preparing for the post-freeze transplanting. First, determine exactly new locations for plants to be moved. Then make sure you cover the areas with thick mulch blankets to keep the soil from freezing. Leaves, grass, straw are suitable.

Next dig a trench, about spade-width, around the shrubs you intend to move. Generally speaking, you should go down about 18 inches, all that's required for smaller shrubs. In sandy soil, you may have to go deeper since roots tend to grow down farther. Then pack the mulch as tightly as you can in the trench. This will keep the soil under the mulch from freezing and make it possible for digging farther, if necessary.

All you have to do then is wait until after the big ground freeze. Then dig under the root area and lift up the shrub. You'll find the earth ball holds together nicely. If your mulch over the new location has done its job, you can dig the new hole easily. One word of caution: Transplanting must be completed in one day. Otherwise the earth ball may be exposed too long to frigid air and the root system affected. Besides, you'll want to fill in the pit before newly excavated soil can freeze solidly, too.

C. S. Rhode, University of Illinois dairy specialist, recommended a 9-point program to reduce calf losses.

It should be worth real money to follow his tips, because a good grade 2-year-old heifer just fresh, with prospects of making 350 pounds of butterfat when mature, is now worth from $250 to $300.

Rhode recommends feeding plenty of high-quality hay to dry cows before their calves are born. Clean and disinfect maternity stalls after each calf is born, and scatter plenty of clean, dry bedding in the stalls. Also, clip and clean the cow's udder.

AS SOON AS the calf is born, disinfect the navel with iodine, and then be sure it gets enough colostrum milk. After 1-3 days, remove the calf from the cow and teach it to drink from an ordinary pail or a nipple pail.

One special precaution at this stage: Feed only small amounts of milk during the first few days, and follow a regular feeding schedule. Daily feedings of milk should total not more than 1 pound of milk for every 10 pounds of body weight, and preferably less.

Finally, during the first 8-10 weeks, feed enough milk to insure good growth. You'll need about 400 pounds—maybe less.

Use hand cream to halt chapped teats

Here's a new idea for preventing chapped teats and udders on dairy cows that has worked well so far for Ralph Emel and son, Moultrie County.

They bought a jar of women's hand cream from the local druggist, and applied a small amount of it to the teats and udders of their cows after they finished milking them. The Emels think they have solved part of their trouble in this way.

Is your tractor hard to start in cold weather?

Many a farmer has spent valuable time on cold fall and winter mornings trying to start a balky tractor.

A. R. Ayres, extension agricultural engineer at the Illinois College of Agriculture, says there are several things that can cause a tractor to start hard in cold weather.

First, dirt collects around the spark plugs, magneto or distributor cap. Then this dirt gets damp and shorts the electrical system. Keep your engine clean.

SECOND, some gasolines are easier to start than others because they have more volatile material in them. Some manufacturers add volatile materials during the winter, while others do not. Be sure that the fuel you use in cold weather is prepared for winter.

Third, during the corn-picking season many farmers use mounted corn pickers with heated cabs which cover the gasoline tank. During operation, heat from the engine is driven around the tank and warms the gasoline. This heating of the gasoline drives off the more volatile materials, leaving the heavier materials.

Sometimes after having worked a field the day before you find that your tractor refuses to start the next morning. Loss of the light material from your gasoline during the day is probably the cause of the trouble.

TO AVOID this trouble during corn picking season, Ayers says to let the manifold cool when you stop the engine after coming in from the field. Then fill the gasoline tank and run the engine for about five minutes. This brings fresh gasoline into the carburetor and makes starting easier the next morning.

Try to keep your gasoline tank full as much of the time as you can in winter, Ayers says. Doing so keeps moisture from condensing on the inside of the tank.

Scene from 'The Sleeping Beauty'

The wicked fairy, Carabose, portrayed by Hazel McElhose, is shown scaring one of the flower fairies in the play, "The Sleeping Beauty," which is being presented this Sunday afternoon at the Arlington Heights Methodist church. Crouched behind Carabose is Puss 'n Boots, played by Joan Barry. The flower fairy is Fay Ann Johnson.

Fire tragedies mar many Yule celebrations

Fire turns Christmas into tragedy for hundreds of families every year, the National Board of Fire Underwriters warns in a statement urging caution with the flammable Yule tree.

A spark and a Christmas tree reduced most of the Pennsylvania town of Hyndman to ashes last year when fire spread from one house through several business and residential blocks. The sprightly holiday wreaths on town lamp posts became a grisly reminder of the Christmas night blaze to scores of families left homeless.

One of the most tragic Christmas fires struck at a Babbs Switch, Oklahoma, school party some years ago. Thirty-six persons were killed and 100 injured when candles ignited a huge Christmas tree.

Highly flammable Christmas decorations spread a blaze that started in the kitchen of a St. Johns, N. F., hall a few years ago. The fire and subsequent panic caused the deaths of 99 persons, injured scores of others.

A short circuit in electric lights on a Christmas tree sparked a fire that killed 17 persons, and injured 30 others in a Hartford, Conn., convalescent home in 1946.

One of the most common reports of Christmas tree fires every year, the fire authorities pointed out, is the fire started by a carelessly tossed cigarette or match. A publishing executive lost his life last year as a result of a lighted cigarette stub dropped among Christmas wrappings in his Scarsdale, N. Y., home. His wife was severely injured when she jumped out of a bedroom window.

Comic books rated ok

Publishers of comic books, especially those dealing with crime, are breathing a little easier as a result of a survey conducted by a Senate Committee investigating their effect on children. Nearly 100 public officials, publishers and child guidance experts were asked if they thought there was any relationship between reading comic books and juvenile delinquency.

The answers, including one attributed to J. Edgar Hoover, were preponderantly "no." In the hands of an unstable child, the FBI chief said, horror comics might prove disturbing. The majority advised restraint in presentation of comics and guidance or control by the parents of children overly excitable.

Weekly recipes

Cranberries are popular in most homes, and I know Cottage Cheese is a favorite food, too. Combining the two, and with the aid of this week's recipe, you'll be able to make one of the most delicious salads you ever tasted.

Cranberry and Cottage Cheese Salad

1 large California orange
1 cup sugar
2 pkges orange jell
2 cups Cottage Cheese

Method: Peel orange with knife and remove the white inner portion of the skin. Remove membrane from orange sections. Using the coarse cutter of food chopper, grind orange sections, yellow part of orange peel and the cranberries. Stir in sugar and let mixture stand over night. Dissolve two packages of jell in 2 cups hot water and add to above mixture. Chill. Pour into ring mold which has been oiled with a bland oil and let set. When ready to serve, turn mold out on bed of greens and Cottage Cheese.

Fill center of molded salad with lime-flavored Butter Cream (soured cream) dressing.

The Happiest Kid on the Block

... will he be yours this Christmas?

HE CAN BE—he will be—if you bring home the television set that he's wanted so long, that he'll use so much.

Laughter, music, adventure, magic—television at home means all that to a growing boy these days, but it means a lot more than just programs.

Now he'll be able to invite the gang over to his house for TV instead of having to slip over to the neighbors to see television himself.

Now he can choose his own programs, with you to help develop his tastes, instead of viewing the choices of someone else.

Now he'll spend a lot more time with Dad, watching ball games together and listening to Dad's stories about the very teams they're watching.

No wonder the happiest kid on the block will be your son when you make this year his "Television Christmas."

With TV this magic world is his to enjoy every day!

TELEVISION is moving faster than you think. New programs, new stars make their debut every week. The longer you wait, the more you miss! Here's just a partial list.

CHILD PERFORMERS—Talented singers, dancers, musicians, inspire your children to cultivate their own talents. They'll be more eager to learn—practice more willingly.

WORLD'S GREATEST athletic events—Fathers and sons follow their favorite teams together from a front row seat. Television helps teach your children sportsmanship.

THE WONDERFUL world of make believe enchants children for hours—is often both educational and entertaining. It sure helps Mom—especially on rainy days.

MUSIC DELUXE! Now you can see as well as hear your favorite orchestras, singers, instrumentalists! Yes, Television gets you right "on stage" seats, no money could buy!

LAUGHTER under your roof—the shared pleasure that binds your family closer. The greatest comedians of the entertainment world are in your living room every night on TV.

Peter Capra

Executive Director of the Boys Club of New York, says:

"Television is more than fun for boys. It is significant and true that since the inclusion of television in the Boys Club program, the Glee Club, Drama and Music Groups have improved tremendously in the number of boys participating. Television properly integrated in the over-all program of wholesome recreation will continue to make an increasingly valuable contribution by keeping growing boys informed, entertained and happy . . . essential factors in building character and developing personality."

Chicago area career conference at Ill. Tech

Thousands of high school and junior college students from Chicago and suburban areas will examine and choose their careers December 27, 28 and 29 during the third annual Chicago Area Career conference at Illinois Institute of Technology.

Counselling by 60 experts in more than 200 fields of business, education, and industry will be offered during the three-day meeting.

Sponsored by the Chicago Sun Times, the Chicago Technical Council, and Illinois Institute of Technology, the sessions are free and open to all public and parochial high school and junior college students.

The conference has been endorsed and is being supported by school superintendents Herold C. Hunt, Chicago public schools; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. D. F. Cunningham, Roman Catholic schools, and Edward B. Simon, Cook County schools.

The purpose of the three-day meeting is to acquaint students with various fields of work — emphasizing requirements, advantages and disadvantages of each.

Students may register now on entry blanks which have been supplied to guidance counselors in all Chicago and suburban schools.

Bits o' business

Military expenditures have been overestimated, analysts state, being nearer to $20-$30 billions annually rather than the $50-$60 billions talked about publicly . . . Investment bankers, now in Florida for their convention, are confident they will win in the government anti-trust suit charging monopoly . . . Claims for damages due to the recent storms in the East are expected to hit an all-time record, exceeding 1938 claims of $400,000,000.

Chicago area career conference at Ill. Tech

Thousands of high school and junior college students from Chicago and suburban areas will examine and choose their careers December 27, 28 and 29 during the third annual Chicago Area Career conference at Illinois Institute of Technology.

Counselling by 60 experts in more than 200 fields of business, education, and industry will be offered during the three-day meeting.

Sponsored by the Chicago Sun Times, the Chicago Technical Council, and Illinois Institute of Technology, the sessions are free and open to all public and parochial high school and junior college students.

The conference has been endorsed and is being supported by school superintendents Herold C. Hunt, Chicago public schools; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. D. F. Cunningham, Roman Catholic schools, and Edward B. Simon, Cook County schools.

The purpose of the three-day meeting is to acquaint students with various fields of work — emphasizing requirements, advantages and disadvantages of each.

Students may register now on entry blanks which have been supplied to guidance counselors in all Chicago and suburban schools.

Bits o' business

Military expenditures have been overestimated, analysts state, being nearer to $20-$30 billions annually rather than the $50-$60 billions talked about publicly . . . Investment bankers, now in Florida for their convention, are confident they will win in the government anti-trust suit charging monopoly . . . Claims for damages due to the recent storms in the East are expected to hit an all-time record, exceeding 1938 claims of $400,000,000.

"Seems like everyone is getting a Chambers this Christmas"

Chambers
COOKS WITH THE GAS TURNED off!®

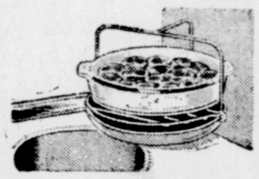
"... and why not ... look what Chambers offers ..."

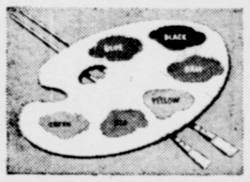


"Thermobaker"
A second oven at no extra cost or space. Frees the large oven. Ideal for biscuits, pies, small roasts, casseroles, etc.

"IN-A-TOP"
BROILER and GRIDDLE, up on top, built into the range. No stooping. Steaks or chops, grilled foods . . . hotel style right at home.

"Thermowell"
Boils, steams, stews, complete meals, with "the gas turned off." Saves flavor, vitamins. 10 minutes of gas does one hour of cooking.

Super Oven
A dinner for 12, or a huge turkey only 45 minutes of gas. No basting, no pot watching, hours of kitchen freedom, full flavor.



6 Lovely Colors
Choose from Yellow, Green, Blue, or Gray in pastel shades, Freedom Red, Black Magic, as well as traditional White.

Guarantee
Chambers stands behind all vital parts, such as cast oven bottom, oil burners, handles, etc. with a full 25 year guarantee.
